Beecher Memorials.

The Beecher memorial fund of $100,000 needed to begin work had in Jan., 1907, reached $91,000. The balance was made up. Eight memorial windows were unveiled Dec. 29, 1907, the first of a series of sixteen art windows showing the history of Puritanism. The memorial movement contemplates also a building, a park and statue as follows: A park on the Henry street side of Plymouth Church, a parish house on the Hicks street side, a bronze statue on the Orange street side, in the center of a park to occupy the plot of three buildings now owned by the custodians of the fund.

MUNICIPAL CIVIL SERVICE RULES.

Detailed information at the Civil Service Commission, 299 B'way, Mhnt.

There are four classes of offices and positions.

Exempt Class—Includes all places not subject to examination or registration.

Non-Competitive Class—Comprises positions not in exempt or labor classes, and those not included in the competitive class.

Competitive Class—Comprises all positions subject to competitive examination.

Labor Class—Comprises the labor service. Examining Board—Board of Examiners, consists of a Chief Examiner and others, appointed by the Municipal Commissioners. No examiner can be a public officer.

Applications—Applications for positions in competitive class must be filed in applicant's hand-writing, addressed to the secretary of the Municipal Civil Service Commission of New York City, but not until the examination has been ordered.

Examinations—All examinations are in writing, except such as refer to expertness or physical qualities, as otherwise provided. In all examinations each subject is marked on scale of 100. No question relating to political or religious opinions can be asked. No appointment to or removal from an office shall be in any manner influenced by such opinions or affiliations. Every candidate who receives a general average marking of not less than 70 per cent., and who has received not less than 20 per cent. in any required subject, or not less than 75 per cent. in any technical subject, when the examination is for a position of scientific, professional or technical nature, shall be eligible for certification and appointment. Candidates for the position of patrolman to be eligible for appointment must obtain an average of not less than 70 per cent. on the mental test and 70 per cent. on physical development and strength. Candidates for the position of fireman who obtain an average of over 80 per cent. on physical development and strength and a final average of 75 per cent. shall also be eligible for appointment.

New Post Office Building.

The bill appropriating $3,500,000 for the erection of the new post office building upon the site bounded by 31st, 33d sts. and 8th and 9th avs, Manhattan, passed the U. S. Senate Jan. 16, 1908. The site was purchased in 1906 for $2,000,000. In 1907 $100,000 was appropriated by Congress to complete the foundation. The plans for the new building have been prepared by the Treasury Department.

N. Y. STATE'S FINANCES.

At the close of the fiscal year, Sept. 30, 1908, the balance in the State Treasury amounted to nearly $27,000,000. The indebtedness of the State on that date was $26,230,660. To pay these debts the State has provided sinking funds which at the present time contain over $15,000,000.

The money belonging to the State is deposited with 250 national banks and trust companies. The State did not lose any of its funds during the bank flurry of 1907. Although the State had at the time of the panic $9,000,000 on deposit with N. Y. City banks, the money was not tied up. The total receipts for the 1908 fiscal year, reached $49,000,000, while the expenditures amounted to nearly $47,000,000. The growth of the State's finances within the last decade from different sources was:

The mortgage tax netted the State	$1,700,000 during the fiscal year ended Sept. 30, 1908, and the stock transfer tax $3,475,000. During the fiscal year ended Sept. 1907, the receipts aggregated $32,000,000. Of this sum over $9,000,000 was raised by direct taxes. During the last few years the direct tax was nominal only, and did not exceed a few thousand dollars. The payments for the year 1907 amounted to $30,678,000, and the treasury contained a balance of $7,243,000.

The Thrift.

The Thrift, 207 Ryerson street, is not a building and loan association nor a savings bank, yet does the business of both. It receives deposit accounts and pays interest thereon, also loans money on first mortgage on real estate, repayable in monthly installments. The par value of shares is $150; assets, $3,665,084; depositors, 6,715; number of loans made, 2,040; outstanding loans, $3,454,184; total amount loaned, $9,497,853. C. M. Pratt, Pres.; H. I. Pratt, Treas.; F. Jordan, Sec. Deposit Dept.

THE TRANSPORTATION DEVELOPMENT OF BROOKLYN.

The transportation history of Brooklyn properly begins with that of the old mail routes of Kings County and the west end of Long Island. The earliest of these was established by King George II. in 1741, and it crossed the present-day Brooklyn from historic Fulton Ferry to equally historic, but now forgotten, DeNyse's Ferry, at Fort Hamilton. It was an integral part of the Royal Mail route from New Amsterdam to the King's Virginia colonies and the coaches that traversed it were escorted by troops of the King's soldiers. From that early start other coach roads and routes developed steadily, with interruption through the seven years of the American Revolution, into established stage routes which gave something that remotely approached a regular transit service to and from the heart of New York. The old Royal Mail route preserved in memory now only through the Brooklyn thoroughfare, King's Highway, was soon taken from Long Island and transferred to more direct routes across New Jersey. The local stage routes remained and developed rapidly.

In the first half of the last century these were already consequential carriers. Between Fulton Ferry, the chief point of crossing to New York at all times before the completion of the first bridge, and Fort Hamilton, for instance, was operated the "Church" line of coaches, carrying 15 passengers, running once a day, taking from two to three hours to make the single trip and charging 50 cents fare in each direction. Stage routes established in 1836 from Fulton Ferry to Flatbush only charged half this fare, and made more frequent trips. Their route ran through Flatbush avenue, thence across the present Prospect Park by way of what is now the Willink Gate and through Battle Pass, where a toll-gate stood until 1860, and so on through Atlantic street to Fulton Ferry. This stage route was constantly increasing in business until the coming of the horse cars.

The horse railroad was the first real step toward transit improvement in Brooklyn. True, the Long Island Railroad had been built from South Ferry through Atlantic avenue, in 1836, first to Jamaica and then a little later to Greenport as an integral part of a direct rail and steamboat route between New York and Boston, but its infrequent service of steam trains was of little value to Brooklynites as a method of local transportation. In fact, the tracks were torn out of Atlantic avenue in 1861 in favor of a roomier terminal at Hunter's Point, and not replaced to the terminal at Flatbush avenue until 1876.

The Brooklyn City Railroad Company, forerunner of all the present street railroad companies, was organized December 17, 1853, with a capital of $2,500,000. It immediately set about the construction of horse car lines in Fulton street from Fulton Ferry out, with branching routes through Court street, through Myrtle avenue and through Flushing avenue. The Court street line terminated for many years at Twenty-fifth street, which was a point of general transfer to the suburban district. Cars on these four lines began operation July 3, 1854, and a new era in Brooklyn transportation was acclaimed. The cars were crude affairs, stage-coach bodies set upon cast-iron wheels, grooved to fit the rail. Even after they had been lengthened, platforms added and otherwise improved they were still crude affairs compared with the Brooklyn trolley cars of to-day. They were half-lighted and ill-ventilated, and the heating system, in most instances, consisted of a litter of dirty straw in the floor of the car. There was not much comparison to be made between them and the present-day Brooklyn trolley, adequately heated and lighted by electricity and presenting the maximum seating capacity of all the various types of street cars in the country, any more than there was comparison to be made between the rough riding, primitive track of the horse car days with the heavy steel and concrete surface track construction that goes into Brooklyn streets to-day, or between the short-haul for which a six-cent fare, without transfers, was charged, and the universal Brooklyn street car fare of five cents to-day, with the broadest system of free transfers in the world. It would cost a man from eighteen to twenty-four cents to cross the community where to-day he makes the trip in much greater ease and comfort for a single five-cent fare.

The first open car made its appearance on Brooklyn streets in 1864. By that time the Brooklyn City Railroad had extended its tracks considerably, operating new lines to Greenpoint and through Flatbush, Greene and Gates avenues. But other surface car railroads had been organized and were operating in Brooklyn, which had already absorbed the old city of Williamsburgh. One of the earliest of these was the Grand Street & Newtown R. R. Co., which began the operation of its cars from Grand street ferry to Newtown, October 31, 1860. The following year saw the Brooklyn & Coney Island R. R. operating a horse car route through Smith and other streets to the ocean. Other early horse car lines were the Sackett, Hoyt and Bergen street, the Metropolitan Avenue, Brooklyn & Newtown, the Broadway R. R. to East New York, the Van Brunt Street & Erie Basin—which has never lost its identity as a separate railroad corporation—and the important system of railroads beginning at South Ferry, with a spur to Fulton Ferry, that ran out through Atlantic avenue.

The Crosstown Line was built in 1869 and, maintaining its separate existence for many years, achieved a noteworthy popularity and was, in a measure responsible for a change in routing for the Greenpoint cars, of a rival system, from Sands street to Myrtle avenue. The following year saw the building of the Putnam-Halsey and the Third avenue routes. Other lines followed in quick succession, the Prospect Park and Coney Island built in 1874 and opened on October 9 of that year, being planned for horse car operation through Vanderbilt avenue to Ninth avenue and Twentieth street, where a change was made to steam cars bound for the ocean.

By the Centennial year of 1876 the then city of Brooklyn was pretty well gridironed with horse car lines, and a start had been made toward supplying transit facilities to the other parts of Kings county. Without the city limits the suburban type of steam railroad seemed to offer the best field for development. The rapidly growing popularity of Coney Island as a resort was also an important factor in the development of this type in the southern part of the county.

The earliest of the suburban railroads was built at the close of the Civil War and financed by C. Godfrey Gunther, who had won a deal of distinction as Mayor of New York. It was known as the Brooklyn, Bath and Coney Island, and its single-track line started from the horse car terminal at Third avenue and Twenty-fifth street, rounded Greenwood, climbed the hill, followed New Utrecht avenue to the village of the same name, Bath Beach and what was then called Unionville, the present Ulmer Park. It was a crude affair, and incurred the enmity of the farmers of Gravesend and New Utrecht, but it was distinctly the forerunner of bigger and better things to come. The train—there was but one at first—made a trip in the morning and another in the afternoon, and the round trip fare from Twenty-fifth street to Unionville was fifty cents, an interesting contrast with a ten cent round trip fare, as at present, and a present day headway of seven to twelve minutes. Nor were the first crude trains to be compared in comfort or speed with the luxurious electric trains that now run through to these points, not from Twenty-fifth street, but direct from Park row and downtown Brooklyn. Still, Gunther's road was a beginning, and after a little time he found it necessary to make four or five trips a day. After that his patronage increased still further, yet the railroad was a failure financially.

Little better fortune seemed to await the other railroads of the same sort that linked

Brooklyn to the beaches of Coney Island. The Prospect Park and Coney Island, popularly known as the Culver Line, was hardly more fortunate. It was built in 1875, and three years later the Brighton Beach road was built, running its train from its station at Willink Gate, Prospect Park, July 2, 1878, and from the Long Island station in lower Flatbush avenue on August 20 of the same year. The New York & Sea Beach R. R. was opened for traffic July 19, 1879. It ran from Sixty-fifth street, Bay Ridge, where it had excellent ferry connections to the Battery, New York, through Gravesend to an elaborate terminal at Coney Island, and was the most popular of any of these railroads. It was a financial failure, none the less. The railroad to Manhattan Beach was built in 1877, and originally ran from a terminal in Greenpoint. Later it was sold to and merged with the Long Island R. R. and this terminal abandoned.

Still, despite their pitiable failures as money earners, the suburban steam railroads pointed the way to the next step in the development of Brooklyn transportation facilities—the elevated railroads. After much discussion and many plans under consideration, work began late in 1884 on the actual construction of a Brooklyn elevated railroad, and on May 14, 1885, the operation of trains for passengers began from Washington street, through York street, Hudson avenue, Park avenue, Grand avenue, and Lexington avenue to Gates avenue and Broadway. This line formed the nucleus for what was known for more than a dozen years thereafter as the Brooklyn Union Elevated Railroad system. It was opened through Broadway to East New York on June 14, 1885, and to Alabama avenue, September 5, 1885. Down town the line was extended to Fulton ferry, November 11, 1885. Three years later the Myrtle avenue line was built, being opened from Johnson and Adams streets, April 10, 1888, and from the Bridge station, September 1, 1888. The line down Broadway to the ferries was opened in the midsummer of the same year.

A line from the corner of Park and Hudson avenues and operating through from Fulton Ferry and the bridge was opened to Atlantic and Flatbush avenues, November 5, 1888, Election Day, but was closed on the following day because of a serious accident at the right-angled crossing at Hudson and Myrtle avenues. A complete revision of the operating scheme of the Brooklyn Union Elevated followed with the abandonment and dismantling of the structure in Park avenue and more recently a similar fate for the Fulton Ferry line in Hudson avenue, north of Myrtle.

Under the new plan the Myrtle avenue line became the trunk of the system. It was extended through to Ridgewood, being opened to Wyckoff avenue, July 20, 1889. In the meantime the right-angled crossing at Hudson and Myrtle avenues having been torn out, the Fifth avenue elevated was completed, being opened to Thirty-sixth street, May 30, 1889.

Other additions were made to the Brooklyn Union Elevated system before it passed into the hands of the Brooklyn Rapid Transit Company. The extension of the Broadway line to Cypress Hills via Fulton and Crescent streets was opened May 30, 1893, and the extension of the Fifth avenue elevated to Sixty-fifth street, Bay Ridge, on Oct. 1 of the same year.

The Brooklyn Union had the Kings County Elevated as its chief competitor. Construction work on that system, which occupied the best part of Brooklyn's spinal cord—Fulton street—began at Fulton street and Red Hook lane in the autumn of 1885. The system was formally opened for traffic, April 24, 1888. A few years later it acquired the Brighton Beach Railroad and by means of a short elevated connection at Franklin avenue united it with itself.

But even the elevated railroads soon came to their limitations, although not until they, too, had faced financial disaster. The rapid development of electricity as a mechanical agent and its early application to the surface railroad problem boded no good for the elevated railroads. The street car lines had been struggling hard to throw off the use of horses as motive power. The immensely expensive and highly impractical cable was even considered and for a time, about 1885, Brooklyn had a road of this type in operation in Park avenue. Another road built through Montague street in 1891, is still in operation by cable.

It is a matter of historical interest that Brooklyn had one of the earliest of electric railroads in the country. The horse car gave way to electricity at the beginning of 1888. On May 5, 1893, general operation of trolley cars began upon the Brooklyn City Railroad. The other lines rapidly followed.

But there were other and greater developments coming for Brooklyn transit. The Brooklyn Rapid Transit system, comprising all the elevated railroads and practically all the surface car lines of Kings County, with extensive mileage in Queens, was being born. The Brooklyn City Railroad was placed in a fighting position by the organization of a powerful rival, the Nassau Electric Railway, which was chiefly a merger of existing lines, with Atlantic avenue as its main stem. Then the powerful Brooklyn City fought and won a bitter strike of its employees in the spring of 1895. A short time after that it was leased to the Brooklyn Heights Railroad Company, the short cable road operating in Montague street, and after some little additional leases and transfers the Brooklyn Rapid Transit Company, one of the world's greatest passenger carriers, was born. The Nassau system, the Brooklyn, Queens County and Suburban, operating the surface car system with Broadway as its main stem, and some other less important lines were acquired and merged one by one and later both of the elevated systems of the city were brought into B. R. T.

The problems that confronted the owners of this great and newly consolidated property were stupendous. Most of the roads had been notoriously unsuccessful as money-makers and almost all of them were in a highly debilitated and ramshackle condition. The plant had been ravaged repeatedly by fires, the tracks were worn out, elevated structures weakened and the equipment represented almost every conceivable type of railroad car and locomotive. Almost the first step was to abolish the use of this last form of equipment. Despite the fact that electricity for the movement of heavy trains was still in an experimental state the Brooklyn Rapid Transit engineers took the problem in hand with the result that within a remarkably short time the unsatisfactory locomotives had been banished to the scrap-heap and the elevated railroads operated by electric third-rail exclusively. More than that, their service was immediately extended to include all of the former suburban steam railroads in Kings and annoying changes at outlying terminals were for the most part abolished.

But a matter of even greater importance was accomplished by the Brooklyn Rapid Transit management when in 1898—the same year that saw Brooklyn and New York consolidated into a single city—through surface car operation was begun across the Brooklyn bridge to Park row and the extra three-cent toll demanded of all Brooklyn passengers on all routes across the bridge abandoned. That one liberal step on the part of the Brooklyn system contributed many millions of dollars to the value of realty in the borough.

Nor was this all. The elevated lines have been extended to Canarsie and to Middle Village in Queens, the Brighton Beach line re-constructed into the model four-track electric high-speed railroad of the world, surface and elevated routes established across the Williamsburg bridge, many miles of new surface lines constructed, fireproof car barns, shops and powerhouses of types that are recognized as models were built, the elevated structures rebuilt and reinforced at enormous cost, a thousand new cars constructed, while fares have been steadily reduced. The present day Brooklyn trolley car or high-speed electric train is a far cry from the mail coach that used to traverse the King's Highway.

The construction of the Williamsburg bridge was authorized by Chap. 789 of the Laws of 1895.

The erection of the main suspended span was begun on Jan. 15, 1903, and fully completed about Dec. 1, 1903.

The formal opening of the bridge occurred Saturday, Dec. 19, 1903. A more complete history of the bridge construction may be found in the 1907 Eagle Almanac, p. 400.

A contract for the construction of an underground station for railway traffic at the Manhattan end of the bridge was entered into on July 12, 1906, with the Snare & Triest Co., contractors. This station was opened for the surface railway lines on May 18, 1908, and for the elevated railway lines on September 16, 1908.

The total cost of the terminal and of the depressing of the tracks on the Manhattan side of the bridge, together with the elevated connection upon the Brooklyn side, was about $2,000,000. The trolley terminal has a capacity of 400 cars an hour and the elevated subway terminal, of 30 8-car trains an hour. When the subway loop in Manhattan is finished it will be possible to operate 60 10-car trains an hour. The Long Island R. R. has made arrangements to run electric trains from the bridge terminal to Rockaway Beach in the summer of 1909.

On Sept. 16 a celebration was held in honor of the completion of the Williamsburg Bridge. The guests of especial honor were Bridge Commissioner Stevenson, E. W. Winter, president of the E. R. T., and Ralph Peters, president of the Long Island R. R. The chairman of the various committees were as follows: President of Celebration Committee, N. H. Levi; Executive, Thos. P. Peters; Funds, Andrew D. Baird; Invitations, John B. Creighton; Speakers, H. F. Gunnison; Official Train, J. W. Schmidt; Public Meeting, J. B. Creighton; Luncheon, D. T. Wilson; Publicity, Otto Kempner; Programme, G. L. Harrington; Decorations, G. C. Miller. The programme of exercises was as follows: 10 A.M., official train from Manhattan terminal. 12, noon, ad-

Statistics of the Structure.

Length of main span, center to center of towers, 1,600 ft. Length of entire bridge, 7,200 ft. Width of bridge, main span over all, 118 ft. Height of bridge above high water at pier head lines, 121 ft. Height of bridge for 400 ft. over middle of river, 135 ft. Height of masonry towers above high water, 23 ft. Height of cables at towers above high water, 333 ft. Width of each two carriageways, 20 ft. Number of trolley tracks, 4. Number of elevated railway tracks, 2. Weight of steel in each tower, 3,048 tons. Weight of steel in end spans, both sides of the river, 6,140 tons. Weight of steel in Bkln. approach, 6,083 tons. Weight of steel in Mhnt. approach, 10,550 tons. Weight of steel in main span, 7,772 tons. Weight of steel in cables and fittings, 5,000 tons. Diameter of cables, outside of wires, 18 $\frac{1}{2}$ inches. Number of wires in each cable, 7,696. Size of each wire in cables (No. 6), about 3-16 inch. Length of each of the cable wires, about 3,500 ft. Quantities of material used in the bridge: Timber, about 8,000,000 ft. B. M.; excavation, about 125,000 cubic yards; concrete masonry, about 60,000 cubic yards; stone masonry, about 130,000 cubic yards; steel, about 45,000 tons.

MANHATTAN BRIDGE.

When completed, the Manhattan bridge will be the greatest suspension bridge in the world.

On Dec. 2, 1899, the Bridge Com. forwarded to the Sec. of War plans for a wire cable suspension bridge to extend from the Bowery and Canal, in Mhnt., to Myrtle av., between Gold and Prince, in Bkln. The ordinance authorizing construction was approved by the Mayor Jan. 8, 1900, and Jan. 29, 1900, the Sec. of War approved the plans. The estimated cost was fixed at $15,833,600, of which $9,552,000 was for the structure, $4,000,000 for land in Mhnt., and $2,281,600 for land in Bkln. The Bkln. tower foundation contract was let to J. C. Rogers, May 1, 1901, for $471,757, and the foundation was completed in Dec., 1902. The Mhnt. tower foundation contract was let to J. C. Rogers, Dec. 22, 1902, for $482,726.56, and the foundation was completed in March, 1904. Under Bridge Com. Lindenthal the plans as approved by the War Dept. and upon which construction was authorized were radically changed. These revised plans were approved by the Art Commission on March 10, 1903, and on July 3, 1903, the contract for masonry pedestals on top of the tower foundations was let to J. C. Rogers for $150,000. These pedestals were completed in Aug., 1904.

June 23, 1904, the Mayor approved the bond issue to provide funds for the continuance of the construction of the bridge and on Sept. 15, 1904, the Art Commission approved the latest revision of plans. The bridge crosses the East River, bet. the ft. of Pike, Mhnt., and Washington, Bkln., the terminals being at the Bowery, in Mhnt. and Nassau, in Bkln. Flatbush av. extends to the Bkln. terminal. The total length is about 6,854 ft. and the extreme width 120 ft. The elevation above mean high water at center will be 135 ft. clear. There will be four trolley tracks and four elevated railway tracks, one 35 ft. roadway, two 11 ft. promenades. Bids for the two anchorages were opened Dec. 22, 1904. The Bkln. anchorage contract was let to Kosmos Engineering Co., Jan. 24, 1905, for $1,212,554, and the Mhnt. anchorage contract was let to Williams Engineering and Contracting Co., Feb. 9, 1905, for $1,197,000. On Aug. 10, 1905, bids were opened for furnishing the metal work for the anchorages and constructing the towers, cables, suspenders and suspended superstructure. Five bids were received, that of the Pennsylvania Steel Co., for $7,248,739, being the lowest.

The contract was awarded to the Pennsylvania Steel Co., but this award was set aside by the courts on a taxpayer's action. Bids were again advertised for and the contract was awarded to the Ryan-Parker Construction Co. on June 15, 1906, at a price of $6,493,223.

On Sept. 20, 1907, the Brooklyn anchorage was completed. The anchorages are 237 ft. long by 182 ft. wide and contain 115,000 cubic ft.

On Oct. 8, 1907, the city acquired the title to most of the property required for both the Manhattan and Brooklyn approaches.

On Dec. 9, 1907, bids were opened for the construction of the masonry piers, surface and sub-surface changes and steel superstructure of the Manhattan and Brooklyn approaches.

The contract was awarded to John C. Rodgers at a price of $3,168,304, since which time the work has progressed rapidly.

The first cable was strung June 13, 1908; the last on Dec. 10, 1908. These four cables weigh 6,300 tons and contain 37,888 galvanized acid steel wires. They are 239 ft. longer and 2 $\frac{1}{2}$ in. larger in diameter than those in the Williamsburgh bridge.

On Dec. 10 an informal celebration of the completion of the cables was held at which Mayor McClellan and Bridge Com. Stevenson were present and warmly commended the record work of the contractors, the Carbon Steel Co., and sub-contractors, Glyndon Contracting Co.

The steel suspenders that are to suspend the superstructure of the bridge from the cables will have an aggregate weight of 8,000 tons. The steel towers over which the cables are swung are 345 ft. high, or 90 ft. higher than the towers of the Williamsburgh bridge. They are constructed on masonry piers which extend 92 ft. below and 32 ft. above mean water level. The largest steel plates in these towers are 362 in. long, 88 $\frac{1}{2}$ in. wide and 2 $\frac{1}{2}$ in. thick, weighing each 16,460 pounds.

The steel for the suspended and side spans has been delivered and erection of same will be commenced within a short time.

QUEENSBORO BRIDGE.

The general plan for a cantilever bridge from 2d av., bet. 59th and 60th, Mhnt., across Blackwell's Island to an intersection with Jane st., L. I. City, was submitted to the Sec. of War, Dec. 2, 1899. Its estimated cost was $12,548,500, of which $3,400,000 was for the structure itself, $2,398,500 for land required in Mhnt. and $750,000 for land in L. I. City. Nov. 15, 1900, the ordinance authorizing construction was approved by the Mayor, and on Feb. 23, 1901, the plans were approved by the War Dept. March 29, 1901, the Aldermen authorized condemnation proceedings for the land required, and June 27, 1901, the contract for the construction of the 6 masonry piers was let to Ryan & Parker, for $745,547.

Construction of the piers was commenced July 19, 1901, and was completed June 10, 1904, at a total cost of $858,565.01. The contract for the steel superstructure was let to the Pennsylvania Steel Co. Nov. 20, 1903, for $5,132,985, and was completed March 18, 1908. The contract for power houses and elevator towers on the piers was let to the Williams Engineering and Contracting Co. on Dec. 31, 1903, for $685,000.

Other contracts have been awarded, bringing the total amount of contracts awarded up to $11,974,402.06 to Dec. 1, 1908.

The total length of this bridge, from the east side of 2d av., Mhnt., to Jackson av., Queens, including the Queens Plaza, will be 8,617 ft.

The length of the spans are: Manhattan anchor span, 469.5 ft. West Channel span, 1,182 ft. Island span, 630 ft. East Channel span, 984 ft. Queens anchor span, 459 ft. The clear height over river channels will be 135 ft. Plans were approved by the Art Commission Feb. 30, 1903.

On Oct. 15, 1908, a convention of citizens of Queens Borough was held at Long Island City for the purpose of appointing committees and discussing ways and means for a fitting celebration at the opening of the Queensboro Bridge. Wm. H. Williams was elected chairman; A. G. Eno, vice-chairman; A. H. Humphries, secretary; Geo. C. Meyer, treasurer, and Dr. J. H. Barry, chairman of the executive committee.

NORTH AND EAST RIVER TUNNELS.

PENNSYLVANIA RAILROAD TUNNELS.

The Pennsylvania R. R. project of tunneling under the North and East Rivers, across Manhattan, giving a continuous track connection between the Pennsylvania and L. I. R. R., with a central station in Manhattan and a terminal east of Thompson av., L. I. City, in Queens, was made public Dec. 12, 1901. (For details of contract see 1908 Almanac, page 398.)

During 1904 5 shafts were sunk; 2 in L. I. City, 2 in Mhntn. and 1 in Jersey, and the work on the tunnels has so advanced that only a very little of it remains to be done. Experts estimate that it should be completed at the present rate of progress, in a year. The engineering work is in charge of Chas. M. Jacobs and Alfred Noble. S. Pearson & Son, Inc., have the contract for the construction of the East R. section of the tunnel; O'Rourke Eng. Construction Co., the construction of the North R. tunnels; New York Contracting Co. that for terminal station at 23d. Mhntn.

The two tubes under the North R., bet. the shaft in Jersey City, nr. the river front, and the shaft on 11th av., in Mhntn., have been joined under the middle of the river. The north shields met Sept. 12, 1906, and the south shields Oct. 9. Lining the big steel tubes with concrete is nearly complete. The two tubes are together 12,200 feet in length. The excavation on the west side of Mhntn., from the shaft on 11th av., is completed up to the big depot site which occupies four blocks bet. 7th and 9th avs. and 31st and 33d., and half of the block bet. 6th and 7th avs. and 32d and 33d.

The entire excavation for the depressed yard under the station to a depth of 60 ft., and 40 per cent. of which is the hardest of rock formation, is completed. The 4 track tunnel continuous from the East R. under 32d st. to the big station at 7th av., is almost completed. The four big tubes under the East River have progressed until the respective headings of each from both sides of the river are on an average of only 800 feet from fixing up. The tunnels under L. I. City from East av. westerly to the river shaft are all completed but the lining. It is expected that the entire work under the East R. will be completed in less than a year, and that the railroad will be in operation through these some time in 1909.

HUDSON & MANHATTAN COMPANY'S TUNNELS.

The Hudson Company was incorporated in 1905, with a capital stock of $16,000,000 preferred, and $5,000,000 common, for the purpose of financing and constructing the tunnel lines of the New York and Jersey R. R. Co. and the Hudson & Manhattan R. R. Co., the controlling interest in each of which it owns.

N. Y. & JERSEY R. R. TUNNEL.

The New York & Jersey R. R. extends from Hoboken in N. J., under the North R. to Morton, Mhntn., thence up Morton to Greenwich; along Greenwich to Christopher; along Christopher to 6th av. and under 6th av. to 33d; a branch will also be constructed easterly on 9th to 4th av. The tubes of this Co. have been completed (diameter, 15 ft. 3 in.) and are in operation up to 28th st. Work is now being pushed on the 33rd st. terminal station. W. G. McAdoo is Pres. of this Co.

HUDSON & MANHATTAN R. R. TUNNEL.

The Hudson and Manhattan R. R. W. G. McAdoo, Pres., extends from the Pennsylvania R. R. station in Jersey City under the river to a terminal station on Church, between Cortlandt and Fulton, Mhntn. Two tunnels are being built, with a single track in each.

The executive office of the Hudson Company is located in the Hudson Terminal Bldg., Mhntn.

BELMONT TUNNEL.

New York and Long Island R. R., commonly known as the Belmont tunnel, will connect the New York and Queens Co. Electric Railway

Co. in L. I. City, controlled by the Belmont interests, with the Grand Central Station and also the ferry terminus of the West Shore road at the foot of W. 42d. The first shaft sunk was on the south side of 42d between Lex. and 3d avs. Work was stopped in November, 1905, by order of the Mayor, who held that the company's franchise was defective. Office of the Co., 13 Park Row, Mhnt. During 1906, legal matters having been adjusted, work progressed. The tunnel proper is now completed.

THE BROOKLYN TUNNEL.

The Rapid Transit Commission, Jan. 24, 1901, adopted the route to Bkln. as follows: From the New York City Hall down B'way to Bowling Green and State, to South Ferry, under East River to Joralemon, Bkln., to Fulton, to Flatbush av., to Atlantic av. (For details of contract, see 1908 Almanac, page 399.)

Ground on the Bkln. tunnel was broken in Jan., 1903. Two shafts were erected in Joralemon st. and one at the Battery in Mhnt. Shields were driven under the East River from both the Bkln. and the Mhnt. shores to the center of the river. Work on the Fulton st. section of the tunnel was begun in 1904. Early in April, 1905, owing to changes in plans to provide additional tracks and connections to other routes, construction in Fulton and Flatbush av. was almost completely suspended pending the obtaining of the necessary consent of the municipal authorities and property owners for this change, and work was resumed in Oct. of that year on the lines of the amended plans and completed so as to allow operation to begin on Jan. 9, 1908, as far as Borough Hall. (See account of celebration, Almanac, page 68.) On May 1st trains were first operated to the L. I. R. R. depot terminus.

INTERBOROUGH RAPID TRANSIT CO.

Office, 13-21 Park Row, Mhnt.

The officers and directors of the Interborough Rapid Transit Co. are: A. Belmont, Ch. Bd.; T. P. Shonts, Ch. Ex.-Com.; Frank Hedley, V. P. and Gen. Mgr.; H. M. Fisher, Sec.; D. W. McWilliams, Treas.; C. H. Pegram, Chief Eng.; The Board of Directors are: A. Belmont, E. P. Bryan, A. Freedman, T. P. Shonts, J. Jourdan, G. M. Lane, J. B. McDonald, W. G. Oakman, A. Skitt, J. Pierce, M. F. Plant, W. A. Read, C. Vanderbilt and G. W. Young.

SUBWAY LOOP.

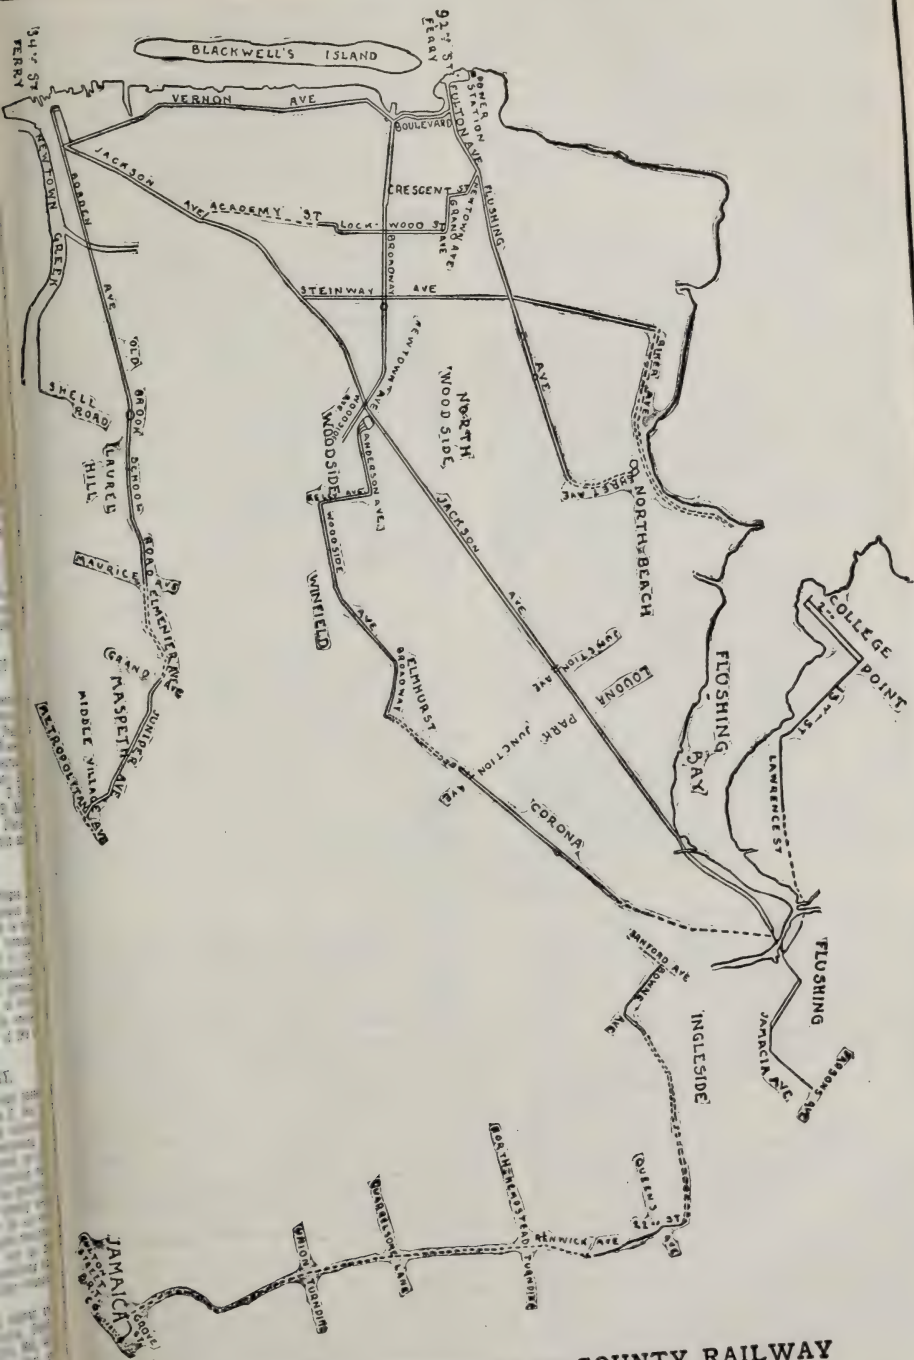

The loop connecting the three bridges is divided into 5 sections. Work was begun in June, 1907, over 50 per cent. of which is now completed. The course will be from terminal of Williamsburgh bridge at Delancey to Center, to Canal, at terminal of Manhattan bridge, continuing down Center to terminal of Brooklyn Bridge at Park Row, at which point the terminal building will be erected to be completed in the latter part of 1909 or early in 1910.

FOURTH AV. SUBWAY.

The 4th av. subway route, although passed by the Board of Estimate on March 27, 1908, is still held in abeyance, due to an injunction served on that body June 12, restraining it from appropriating $2,850,000 requested by the Public Service Corporation. This injunction was granted by Justice Erlanger and the petitioner was J. M. Levy. The bids had already been opened and contracts awarded on the six sections, May 8, 1908. Taxpayers' suits requiring the Comptroller to show cause why an injunction should not be granted restraining him from certifying contracts still further entangles the legal situation.

The proposed stations of the subway are: Sands, Tillary, Lafayette, Fulton, Pacific, Union, Eighth, Prospect av., 25th, 36th, 44th, 52d, 60th, Senator, 75th, 85th, 93d, 101st, and Fort Hamilton Park.

Coney Island branch starts at 36th and stations are 7th av., 43d, 51st, 59th, Ovington av., 78th, Bay 22d, Bay 31st, Bay 40th, Bay 50th, Coney Island.

NEW YORK AND QUEENS COUNTY RAILWAY

CUBA.

The relations between the U. S. and Cuba are defined in what is known as the Platt Amendment to the Army Appropriation bill of 1901, the Cuban Constitutional Convention having accepted the conditions there imposed, which are 8 in number:

1. That the govt. of Cuba shall never enter into any treaty or other compact with any foreign power or powers which will impair or tend to impair the independence of Cuba, nor in any manner authorize or permit any foreign power or powers to obtain by colonization or for military or naval purposes or otherwise, lodgment in or control over any portion of said island. 2. That said govt. shall not assume or contract any public debt, to pay the interest upon which, and to make reasonable sinking fund provision for the ultimate discharge of which the ordinary revenues of the island, after defraying the current expenses of govt., shall be inadequate. 3. That the govt. of Cuba consents that the U. S. may exercise the right to intervene for the preservation of Cuban independence, the maintenance of a govt. adequate for the protection of life, property and individual liberty, and for discharging the obligations with respect to Cuba imposed by the treaty of Paris on the U. S., now to be assumed and undertaken by the govt. of Cuba.

4. That all acts of the U. S. in Cuba during its military occupancy thereof are ratified and validated, and all lawful rights acquired thereunder shall be maintained and protected. 5. That the govt. of Cuba will execute, and, as far as necessary, extend the plans already devised or other plans to be mutually agreed upon, for the sanitation of the cities of the island, to the end that a recurrence of epidemic and infectious diseases may be prevented, thereby assuring protection to the people and commerce of Cuba, as well as to the commerce of the Southern ports of the U. S. and the people residing therein. 6. That the Isle of Pines shall be omitted from the proposed constitutional boundaries of Cuba, the title thereto being left to future adjustment by treaty. 7. That to enable the U. S. to maintain the independence of Cuba, and to protect the people thereof, as well as for its own defense, the govt. of Cuba will sell or lease to the U. S. lands necessary for coaling or naval stations at certain specified points, to be agreed upon with the President of the U. S. 8. That by way of further assurance the govt. of Cuba will embody the foregoing provisions in a permanent treaty with the U. S.

A treaty between Cuba and the U. S. was concluded July 2, 1903, under which Cuba leased to the U. S. territory at Bahla Honda and Guantanamo, to be used as naval stations. The U. S. has established permanent barracks and a small force of men at Guantanamo.

CUBAN REBELLION.

Disorders in Cuba, arising from alleged grave frauds in elections and various government abuses, became serious in Aug., 1906. Armed rebellion resulted in numerous clashes between government troops and insurgents in Aug. and Sept. Conditions grew worse and anarchy was threatened. Pressure for American intervention became strong. Sept. 29, W. H. Taft, under the authority of the President, exercised by virtue of the Platt amendment, proclaimed himself governor of Cuba, 2,000 marines were landed at Havana and elsewhere and President Roosevelt ordered 5,600 troops to Havana, which were incorporated with the marines into the Army of Cuban Pacification. Sec. Taft issued a proclamation declaring that American occupation would continue only until order was restored and new elections could be arranged for and held. Judge Chas. E. Magoon was appointed provisional governor on Oct. 6 and he will act in that capacity until the Presidential inauguration, Jan. 28, 1909. On July 31, 1908, there were 222 officers and 4,508 enlisted men of the American army and 47 officers and 855 enlisted men of the American marines on the island.

The evacuation of these troops will take place gradually after the inauguration.

PORTO RICO.

On August 12, 1908, the 400th anniversary of the landing of Ponce de Leon was celebrated. Ponce accompanied Columbus on his second voyage. He was made a Spanish governor and his memory is much revered by the natives.

Porto Rico is 108 miles east to west and 37 to 43 miles across; total area, 3,606 square miles. It is 1,050 miles from Key West, Fla. The rainy season lasts from Aug. to Dec. Porto Rico and adjacent islands lying east of the 74th meridian are governed under an act which became a law April 12, 1900, giving the island a civil government. The capital is San Juan. Persons who were Spanish subjects April 11, 1899, and who have not elected to preserve their allegiance to Spain are held to be citizens of Porto Rico, and entitled to the protection of the United States. The designation of the body politic is under the name "The People of Porto Rico." The Governor is appointed by the President and holds office for four years, having the powers conferred on governors of territories of the United States, but is to make his reports through the Secretary of State to the President. There is an executive council appointed by the President and confirmed by the Senate, consisting of a secretary, attorney general, treasurer, auditor, commissioners of interior and education, and 5 other persons, to hold office for 4 years. The Council is the upper branch of the Legislature, five of whom are natives of Porto Rico. The other branch is the House of Delegates, consisting of thirty-five members elected biennially by the qualified electors.

No person is eligible to membership in the House of Delegates who is not 25 years of age, able to read and write either Spanish or the English language, or who is not possessed in his own right of taxable property, real and personal, situated in Porto Rico. Provision is made for enacting legislation similar to that in territories. The island government contributes nothing to the national government, the entire revenue of the Dingley tariff and its own system of internal revenue taxation, on cigars, cigarettes, rum, spirits, etc., being converted into the island treasury. It carries on a system of government as complex as any State or Territorial government of the country.

HAWAII.

The Hawaiian Islands, annexed to the United States by the signature of the President July 7, 1898. lie in the North Pacific, little more than 2,000 miles west of the U. S., 3,400 miles from Yokohama and 4,800 miles from Hong Kong. The inhabited and only important islands of the group are 8 in number, comprising an area of about 6,700 sq. miles; the largest island, Hawaii, includes nearly two-thirds. They stretch out in a chain 400 miles long, running from southeast to northwest.

The islands were discovered in 1778 by Captain Cook. They were united into one kingdom under King Kamehameha I. in 1791. The integrity of the kingdom was recognized by the United States, France and Great Britain under the reign of Kamehameha III. In Jan., 1893, a disagreement between Queen Liliuokalani and her cabinet caused an uprising, resulting in a provincial government being formed. On July 4, 1894, a republic was proclaimed, with Sanford B. Dole as president. Agitation among the ruling element for annexation to the U. S. followed. On Aug. 12, 1898, the formal transfer of the island to the sovereignty of the U. S. took place. June 14, 1900, it became a customs district.

Government.

The islands are governed under a law enacted April 30, 1900. It provides that the islands shall be known as the "Territory of Hawaii," and that the capital shall be at Honolulu, on the island of Oahu. The Legislature of the Territory of Hawaii consists of two houses, Senate and House of Representatives, styled "The Legislature of the Territory of Hawaii." The Senate is composed of 15 members, who hold office for 4 yrs. Senators must be citizens of the U. S., over 30 yrs. of age, and have resided in the Hawaiian Islands not less than 3 years. The House of Representatives is composed of 30 members, elected every second year. Representatives must be 25 yrs. of age, be citizens of the U. S., and must have resided in the Hawaiian Islands not less than 3 years. Hawaii is represented in the Congress of the U. S. by a delegate. The present delegate is Tonah Kuhio Kallanianoale, elected by the Republican party.

Population Statistics.

The first census of the Hawaiian Islands was taken in 1820, followed by census of 1836, 1850, 1853 and 1860. These are said to have been of very rudimentary character. In 1865, however, the Legislative Assembly made it the duty of the Board of Education every sixth year, counting from 1860, to make a complete census of the kingdom. By this requirement a census was taken every six years from 1866 to 1896, and the census of 1900 was taken as part of the work of the U. S. twelfth census. The census of 1832 showed a population of 130,313, but each succeeding census up to 1872 showed a loss, that in 1872 showing only 56,897. Since that time the population has steadily increased. Honolulu, in Oahu Island, is practically the only city in Hawaii. Its population in 1866 was 13,521, and, according to U. S. census taken in June, 1900, its population was 39,306.

The Island of Guam was ceded to the United States by Spain by the treaty of Paris, signed December 10, 1898. It is 5,200 miles from San Francisco and 900 miles from Manila. It is in a direct line between San Francisco and the southern part of the Philippine Islands. It is 32 miles long and 100 miles in circumference; has a population of about 8,700, of which 5,219 are in Agana, the capital. It is inhabited mostly by descendants of immigrants from the Philippines. Spanish is the prevailing language. It is thickly wooded, well watered, fertile. Commercial returns of Guam are grouped with those of Tutuila. Commander Edward D. Taussig, U. S. Navy, commanding the Gunboat Bennington, took possession of the Island and raised the United States flag over Fort Santa Cruz on February 1, 1899. There is a United States naval station at Agana, in the Harbor of Apra.

THE PHILIPPINE ISLANDS.

The Philippine Archipelago is made up of Luzon, Visayas, Mindanao, Mindoro, Palawan and Sulu. The aggregate area of the 3,139 charted islands is 121,395.5 square miles with a total population in 1903 estimated at 8,159,502, as follows: Civilized (all Christians), 7,475,824; wild (two-fifths Mohammedan, three-fifths savage), 682,678. The great bulk of the inhabitants are of Malay stock or origin. Of the total number of islands only about 342 are known to be permanently inhabited. The principal and largest island, on which Manila is situated, Luzon, 548 miles long with a varying width of from 9 to 133 miles, contains 43,075 square miles and had a population of 3,798,507 in 1903. The largest rivers are the Cagayan (220 miles), Pampanga (160 miles), Abra (75 miles), Pasig (18 miles)—all in Luzon—and the Rio Grande or Pulangui (292 miles) and Agusan (155 miles), both in Mindanao.

Oct. 15, 1907, the legislative power of the Philippine Commission was transferred to a legislature, which consists of two houses, the Philippine Commission and the Philippine Assembly, with the Governor General at the head. Four members of the commission continue to serve as chief administrative officers of the several executive departments.

THE PANAMA CANAL.

Note—For details of the canal negotiations, see Eagle Almanac of 1905, page 361.

By the terms of the treaty between the Republic of Panama and the United States, exchanged Feb. 26, 1904, the Republic of Panama granted to the United States the perpetual use, occupation and control of a strip of land, five miles wide on each side of the central line of the route of the canal. The same treaty conceded to the United States all the rights, powers and authority over this strip which this country would have if it were the sovereign of that territory.

Under the authority, and in accordance with an act of Congress approved April 28, 1904, the President, on behalf of the United States, took possession of the canal zone, and on May 9, organized a government for that territory.

By the terms of the treaty with Panama the United States guarantees and is to maintain the independence of the Republic of Panama. The canal is to be neutral. The purchase price for the property of the Panama Canal Company was $40,000,000, and the sum of $10,000,000 was paid to the Republic of Panama. In addition, Panama is to receive an annual payment of $250,000 in gold during the life of the treaty, beginning nine years after the date of ratification. By action of Congress, June 29, 1906, it was decided to have the canal built on the lock type.

The total excavation on October 1, 1908, aggregated 50,506,317 cubic yards, distributed as follows: Atlantic Division, 13,433,121 cubic yards; Central Division (including Culebra Cut), 26,393,089 cubic yards; Pacific Division, 10,680,107 cubic yards.

The total force of skilled and unskilled laborers of the Isthmian Canal Commission and the Panama Railroad Company actually at work July 1, 1908, was 35,793, or an increase of 6,347 over 1907, and an increase of 9,628 men were brought to the Isthmus from the United States, Europe and the West Indies by the Commission, and statistics show that there was a total excess of immigration over emigration of nearly 18,000, which shows that there is a source of labor supply independent of the men brought to the Isthmus by the Commission. The total amount of expenditures of the Canal Commission to July 1, 1908, was $84,572,998.55, exclusive of the $40,000,000 paid to the French Canal Company and the $10,000,000 paid to the Republic of Panama. There was a balance available on the first day of the new fiscal year of $36,391,470.58, including the 1909 appropriation of $29,177,000.

FORESTS OF UNITED STATES.

"Forest Service" has been the name since July 1, 1905, of that branch of the Department of Agriculture which was previously called the "Bureau of Forestry," and, earlier still, the "Division of Forestry."

Since February 1, 1905, the Forest Service has been charged, under the direction of the Secretary of Agriculture, with the administration of the National Forests. About the management of the National Forests, therefore, the work of the Service now centers. The Forests, whose area in continental United States, excluding Alaska, on November 1, 1908, was 155,838,632 acres, and, with Alaska, 167,992,208 acres, are of vital importance for their timber and grass and for the conservation of stream flow. They are so managed as to develop their permanent value as a resource by use.

On January 1, 1909, the Forest Service was reorganized so as to provide for a central force in Washington and six administrative district headquarters, located respectively at Portland, Oregon; San Francisco, California; Missoula, Montana; Ogden, Utah; Denver, Colorado, and Albuquerque, New Mexico. Each of the field districts is in charge of a district forester and an assistant district forester, and each of the different lines of Service work is directly under an officer in charge of this special line of work.

It is estimated that 32 per cent. of all the land in the United States, or 600,000,000 acres, is forested. At the present rate of cutting, these forests cannot long withstand the heavy drain now made upon them. The rich forests of the Lake States, once the center of the lumber industry, now produce comparatively little lumber, and the Southeast, which at present is supplying the bulk of the lumber cut, will soon be outstripped by the Pacific coast, which is steadily gaining in output. In 1907 between 40,000,000 and 45,000,000,000 feet of lumber, valued at $675,000,000 to $750,000,000, was produced.

In 1907 nearly 4,000,000 cords of wood were used for paper manufacture, 153,000,000 railroad ties, equivalent to 5,000,000,000 board feet, were used. Timber to the amount of 2,500,000,000 feet was used in 1907 for mine timbers.

The World's Forests.

The approximate number of acres of available public forest lands in the leading countries of the world is:

Country.	Acres.
Russia (European and Asiatic).....	925,000,000
Canada and India.....	440,000,000
United States.....	168,000,000
Japan	168,000,000
Sweden	50,000,000
Philippines (American)	40,000,000
Germany	35,000,000
Austria	24,000,000
France	23,500,000
Hungary	23,000,000
Norway	20,000,000
Spain	12,000,000

Total1,818,500,000

Adding the forests of Brazil and other countries in South America, Australia and other countries of the world, Alaska and the private forests of the United States and of all countries, the total doubtless exceeds 3,000,000,000 acres, or about one-fifth of an acre for every inhabitant of the world.

Japan with her 58,000,000 acres of forest land annually exports about $1,250,000 worth of wood. Until recently Japanese students of forestry were educated abroad, while now they are schooled at home.

France and Germany together spend $11,000,000 a year on their forests, but they get $30,000,000 a year for their forest products in return.

The forest products of British India are valued annually at $144,000,000, with a net annual revenue to the Government of $3,300,000. The Indian forest service is one of the most efficient in the world, as also are the American, French and German services. "Free use" privileges are extended to India's 300,000,000 people in the same manner as in the Philippines. Of the Philippines public forests the Manila Times says:

"The Philippines stand high in the list of countries possessing available forest public land. When the quality and quantity of forest materials are both considered, they probably head the list. But considering their civilization the Philippines do not stand nearly so high as they should in the use and development of these natural riches.

"The annual revenue of the extensive public forests so far amounts only to slightly over $105,000. This small revenue is due to the liberal laws, which extend the free use privilege not only to the people at large, but to the public works department, and also to the railway companies—a policy that makes forest protection a difficult problem."

World's Negotiable Securities.

The detailed estimates of the world's negotiable securities for 12 European countries aggregate $75,000,000,000, for the United States $34,514,000,000 and for Japan $1,563,000,000. The estimated total population of these countries is 565,500,000 and therefore assigns an average of $196 per person of this paper wealth. Following statistics are expressed in millions:

WATER SUPPLY OF NEW YORK CITY.

BROOKLYN.

Brooklyn's water supply is obtained mostly from the southern slope of Long Island west of Amityville, about one-fifth from surface streams and four-fifths from driven well stations within the same territory. (For delivery system see 1908 Almanac, page 402.) On Jan. 1, 1908, the distribution system consisted of about 850 miles of distributing mains, with 11,913 stop-cocks and 11,814 hydrants. The present safe pumping capacity of the Ridgewood pumping station is about 140,000,000 gallons daily. There are now under contract 5 additional pumping engines for the Ridgewood pumping station that will increase the pumping capacity by about 90,000,000 gallons.

Within the limits of the Borough of Brooklyn there are at present 4 other important plants obtaining their supply from driven wells—the Flatbush Water Works, owned by a private company and supplying the 29th ward; the New Lots, Gravesend and New Utrecht plants, owned by the City, and which supply the 26th, 30th and 31st wards. There is under contract at present all work necessary for establishing a fifth pumping station, namely, the Canarsie Pumping Station, which will obtain its supply from driven wells and have a safe capacity of at least 5,000,000 gallons per day. The New Lots plant is located at New Lots av., at the head of Fresh Creek. The old plant had 2 pumping engines, one of 3,000,000 gallons and one of 3,500,000 gallons daily capacity. A new pumping station, with new wells, has been completed in this vicinity and is now in operation. It contains two 5,000,000-gallon pumping engines. The total average daily pumpage from the New Lots plants is 7,144,000 gallons. The Flatbush Water Works are located at the head of Paerdegat Creek. They have one 5,000,000 and two 3,000,000 pumping engines, and one 7,000,000 gallon in the old pumping station. The new station has an 8,000,000 and a 10,000,000 engine; they also have a stand-pipe at Franklin and Washington avenues, and claim to have about 100 miles of distribution mains—the average daily pumpage being stated as being about 10,000,000 gallons. The New Utrecht plant is located at E. 14th st. and Av. U, and contains two 2,000,000-gallon engines—the average daily pumpage being about 1,539,000 gallons. The Gravesend plant is at E. 17th st. and Av. R, and contains 2 pumping engines—the average daily pumpage being about 3,238,000 gallons. At this station a new building has been erected and a 6,500,000-gallon pumping engine installed, and as soon as additional wells are completed the new plant will be put into service. Within the borough limits are four other unimportant private water systems. In addition to the above plants there are 3 high-pressure fire-service stations within the borough limits. One at Coney Island and the other two covering the business and manufacturing districts, all of which have been completed and put in service. These stations are not intended for any use except fire service, and do not add to the supply of the borough. The average daily consumption from the Ridgewood, Gravesend, New Utrecht, New Lots and Titus, 6th st. stations, in 1908, was about 141,147,000 gallons.

MANHATTAN AND THE BRONX.

The water supply of Manhattan is received from the Croton watershed, thirty miles north of the borough. (For capacity of aqueducts and reservoirs see 1908 Almanac, page 402.) The system of water mains in Manhattan and Bronx now includes 1,171 miles of combined mains, with 17,376 fire hydrants. The combined storage capacity of the reservoirs in Croton, Bronx and Byram River sheds is 92,900,000 gallons. (For description of Croton dam see 1908 Almanac, page 402.)

QUEENS.

The city owns 6 water plants in service; 3 in 1st Ward (L. I. City), 3 in 3d Ward (Flushing, College Point, Whitestone). Daily pumping capacity—First Ward, Station No. 1, 2,000,000 gallon pumping engine and one 1,000,000 gallon pumping engine. Available water supply, 1,000,- 000 gallons in 24 hours. Station No. 2, a capacity of 1,250,000 gals. daily, in full operation. Available supply, 1,250,000 gals. Station No. 3, one 2,000,000 gallon pumping engine and one 1,500,000 gallon pumping engine. Available water supply, 1,000,000 gallons in 24 hours.

Third Ward—Bayside Pumping Station. One 2,000,000 gallon pumping engine and one 1,000,000 gallon pumping engine. Source of supply—25 driven wells, of about 1,000,000 gallons capacity. Pump into stand-pipe. Flushing Pumping Station—One 2,000,000 gallon pumping engine and one 3,000,000 gallon pumping engine. Source of supply, pond of about 1,500,000 gallons capacity in 24 hours, and deep wells, capacity about 2,000,000 gallons in 24 hours. Whitestone Pumping Station—One 1,000,000 gallon pumping engine. Source of supply, driven wells, yield about 500,000 gallons in 24 hours.

The public water system of the whole borough includes 153 miles of mains, 1,749 fire hydrants, 1,610 gates, 12,700 houses are supplied. In addition to above are contracts for large water mains in 1st and 3d Wards, amounting to $200,000, work on which was begun in 1908.

Private water companies supply part of the borough. Five million gallons are furnished to the 1st Ward by Citizens' Water Supply Co. The city pays $18 to $25 per year each for following hydrants: Queens County Water Co., 373 hydrants; Woodhaven Water Co., 771 hydrants; Citizens' Water Supply Co., 853 hydrants; Jamaica Water Supply Co., 1,087 hydrants.

The water supply of Jamaica is from driven wells nearby. The daily pumping capacity is 6,000,000 gallons; daily consumption is 2,500,000 gallons, and annual consumption is 900,000,000. There are 55 miles of mains.

The water supply of the town of Newtown is derived from 25 driven wells. The Citizens' Water Supply Co. has 7 pumping stations, with a total pumping capacity of 27,000,000 gallons per day. The stations are situated: No. 1, at Clermont av., Elmhurst, with a capacity of 3,750,000 gallons, from 28 driven wells; No. 2, at Trains Meadow, Woodside, 5,000,000 gallons, from 90 driven wells; No. 3, at Willow Glen, near Jamaica, 6,000,000 gallons, from 43 driven wells; No. 4, on the Backus Farm, at Whitepot, 1,500,000 gallons, from 16 driven wells; No. 5, on the Backus Farm, Hoffman boulevard, 1,750,000 gallons, from 14 driven wells; No. 6, Maurice av., Maspeth, 1,000,000 gallons, from 15 driven wells; No. 7, at Great Neck, 4,000,000 gallons; No. 8, at Douglaston, 8,000,000 gallons. The system has about 125 miles of mains, with 803 hydrants and 7,000 private consumers, beside supplying the 1st Ward, Borough of Queens, with 5,000,000 gallons daily. The average daily output is 12,000,000 gallons, but the pumping capacity is 26,000,000 gallons.

RICHMOND.

Of the 4 water plants one is owned by the city, located at Tottenville. It has a pumping capacity of 1,000,000 gallons per day; capacity of stand-pipe, 140,000 gallons, and the daily consumption is about 321,000 gallons. The water is drawn from 8 driven wells. The system has 21 miles of mains and 242 fire hydrants. The other 3 plants are private enterprises and comprise the following: Crystal Water Co. at Stapleton, supplying village of Edgewater and towns of Southfield, Northfield and Middletown, outside of incorporated villages; the South Shore Water Co. at New Dorp, and Staten Island Water Supply Co. at West New Brighton, supplying villages of New Brighton and Port Richmond and town of Northfield.

The Crystal Water Co. has a capacity of 5,000,000 and daily consumption of 3,500,000 gals. The South Shore Water Supply Co. has a pumping capacity of 750,000 and consumption of 80,000 gallons per day.

The Staten Island Water Supply Co. has a pumping capacity of 13,000,000 gallons and consumption of 5,000,000 gallons per day.

There are 132 miles of mains, 1,002 fire hydrants and 62 draw hydrants. The city pays $25 per year for 629 fire hydrants, $20 per year for 18 fire hydrants, $30 per year for 351 fire hydrants, $30 per year for 62 draw hydrants and $40 per year for 18 fire hydrants.

FIRE DEPARTMENT, NEW YORK CITY.

Headquarters, 157-159 E. 67th st., Manhattan.

The Fire Commissioner is the head of the Fire Dept. His salary is $7,500 a year. He is required to appoint two deputies, salary $5,000 a year each, one of whom shall sit in the office of the dept. in the Borough of Brooklyn. Members of the three cities consolidated are made members of the Fire Dept. with same rank and grade. The Commissioner is treasurer of the dept. and has to give a bond of $20,000. He is also trustee of the Fire Dept. Relief Fund, for which he has to give a bond of $100,000. He possesses all powers and performs all duties for the government, management, maintenance and direction of the dept., which has sole and exclusive power and authority to extinguish fires in the city. The Commissioner has power to select the heads of bureaus and assistants and as many officers and firemen as may be necessary, but the assignments to duty of the uniformed force are to be recommended by the chief of the dept. The Commissioner prescribes rules and regulations for the government of the dept. He is to appoint a Fire Marshal for Manhattan, The Bronx and Richmond and a Fire Marshal to be seated in Brooklyn, and to exercise his powers in Brooklyn and Queens, each with a salary of $3,000, and is to inquire into the origin of fires, both of whom must be members of uniformed force. A pension bureau is connected with the dept. A tax of 2 per cent. is laid on the business of foreign insurance companies, which shall go to this pension fund.

SALVAGE CORPS.

The Salvage Corps of Greater New York are owned and maintained by the insurance companies of the city for the purpose of protecting life and property at and after fires. There are two separate organizations, one in Manhattan, called the New York Board of Fire Underwriters, and one in Brooklyn, called the Fire Insurance Salvage Corps of Brooklyn. Each organization has established stations equipped with fire alarms, which are connected with those of the City Fire Department, patrol wagons and other apparatus necessary for the prevention of the destruction of property by fire and water. Each station is supplied with a force of men to answer all fire alarms. By charter the Salvage Corps have the same right of way in the streets and same privileges in entering houses as the Fire Department.

HIGH PRESSURE SYSTEM.

BROOKLYN.

Boundary: East River to Navy Yard, to St.
Edwards, to Ashland pl., 4th av., Dean, Clinton, Harrison, Henry Rapalye, Columbia, Erie Basin, to East River, to point of beginning.

Cost: Approximately, $1,475,000.

Installed October 7, 1908.

Operation: On receipt of fire alarm at pumping station, simultaneously with that at Fire
Headquarters, a pressure of 75 pounds is immediately put on the mains, which pressure reaches the entire system before the Fire Department can arrive at a fire. The system is utilized at all fires within the above mentioned boundary, there being 681 high pressure fire hydrants placed therein. There are 121 fire alarm boxes within the district, and 121 high pressure telephone boxes, one adjacent to each fire alarm box, through which telephone boxes instant communication with the pumping station can be had, and orders for increase or decrease of pressure, or the shutdown of the system, immediately communicated. It has worked excellently since its installation in this borough. Special hose and hose wagons and tripods were put in operation for the service and orders issued, giving hose wagons the right to pull out of fire houses ahead of engines. Many firemen were ordered to houses where the system is used to familiarize themselves.

MANHATTAN.

Boundary—Hudson River to Twenty-third street, to Broadway, to 14th street, to Third avenue and Bowery, to James street, to East River, to New Chambers and Chambers streets, to Hudson River.

Area covered: 1,456 acres, including the Dry Goods District.

Cost, complete, $3,900,000.

The system consists of 262,000 lin. ft. mains, 12 to 24 inches diameter; 1,274 4 nozzle hy-drants, 214 telephone boxes directly connected to pumping station, so that orders to regulate pressure during fire can be instantly given.
Communication also by double telephone system with Fire Headquarters, and with the main and subsidiary stations of the Edison Electric Co.

Two pumping stations, one at Oliver and South streets, serve the district from Houston to Oliver streets, the other at Gansevoort and West streets, serving the district from Houston to Twenty-third streets. Either station can serve either district, or both combined, at any point. Each station has five electrically driven centrifugal pumps, each pump, under actual test, has delivered 3,800 gallons against a pressure of 350 lbs., giving a combined capacity of the two stations of 38,000 gallons per minute, or 55,000,000 gallons per day, available within two minutes after the alarm sounds at any point within the High Pressure Service District.

Installation practically completed early in June, 1908.

System in complete operation as a High Pressure System, since July 6, 1908.

Brought into service at first fire, July 9, 1908, and since then up to Dec. 13, 1908, at seventy-eight (78) fires, uniformly with the most excellent results. The Fire Department has provided special hose, hose wagons and holders, and the Engineers of the Water Supply Department gave detailed instructions at the Oliver Street Station to the members of the Fire Department, so that the latter might become familiar with the operation of the system.

Operation: The alarm is received at the pumping station on the regulation gong as well as on a recording machine, at the same time it is received at the engine house. On receipt of the alarm, one pump is started and the pressure raised to 125 lbs. on the entire system, so that by the time the firemen reach the fire, they have but to couple up to the hydrant and the pressure is available.

POLICE DEPARTMENT, NEW YORK CITY—Continued.

Police Precincts and Boundaries.

Note—Commissioner and Deputy Commissioners are not part of the "force." See "Municipal Government" chapter.

In order to correct the former irregular numbering of precincts, a new system has been adopted, planned to permit the regular insertion of new numbers as new precincts may be created in future.

For precincts in Manhattan the numbers are reserved from 1 to 60, both inclusive.

For the Bronx, 61 to 79, both inclusive.

For Richmond, 80 to 99, both inclusive.

For Brooklyn the present numbers are retained, but 100 is added to each, so the numbers reserved for Brooklyn are 100 to 199, both inclusive.

For Queens, the numbers 200 to 299, both inclusive, are reserved.

The police precincts of the City of New York are bounded by the center lines of streets, unless otherwise stated, as follows:

CITY OF NEW YORK MUNICIPAL GOVERNMENT.

THE CHARTER OF NEW YORK CITY.

The charter of the City of New York, as revised by Legislature of 1901, going into effect Jan. 1, 1902, is a development of the charters of the former cities of New York, Brooklyn and Long Island City, differing from all of them, however, by the introduction of the principle of local control over local affairs. In this feature the charter provides a system of government more nearly like that of London and continental cities. For a history of charter making see Introduction to Eagle Library, No. 119, and 1902 Eagle Almanac, page 404. The greater part of the charter is the law as it has existed for half a century, and the chief change has been made necessary by the adoption of the borough system and the system of giving control to localities over their own affairs. A Charter Revision Commission has been appointed by Governor Hughes, consisting of W. M. Ivins, Ch.; J. C. Meyers, Sec.; A. J. Boulton, George Cromwell, J. H. Dougherty, G. L. Duval, N. A. Elsborg, E. R. L. Gould, A. R. Latson, George McNaney, P. F. McGowan, Herman A. Metz, Harrison S. Moore, W. W. Niles, Charles H. Strong and Chase Melen, counsel. Sessions of the committee are held at 32 Broadway.

The charter is the government instrument for Manhattan, comprising Manhattan and the adjacent smaller islands; the Bronx, including the part of the former City of New York in Westchester County north of Harlem River and Spuyten Duyvil Creek, and the islands adjacent; Brooklyn, comprising all of Kings County; Queens, including Queens County named in the act of annexation revised by Legislature of 1899; and Richmond, which consists of the county of that name, including the whole of Staten Island.

THE MAYOR.

The executive power of the city is vested in the Mayor, the Presidents of the Boroughs and the officers of the departments. The Mayor is the chief executive officer and he is a magistrate. His term begins at noon on the first day of January after his election and continues for four years. He is eligible for re-election. The salary of the office is $15,000 per year. The Mayor appoints the heads of departments and commissioners, except those over which the Presidents of the Boroughs have jurisdiction, and except, also, the head of the Department of Finance. He can remove at any time any official appointed by him, except the members of the Board of Education and Aqueduct Commissioners, trustees of the College of the City of New York, and trustees of some hospitals, and certain judicial officers. He himself can be removed from office by the Governor, after a hearing, upon charges.

His duties are to communicate to the Board of Aldermen, at least once a year, a statement of the finances, government and improvements of the city; to recommend to the same body such measures as he deems expedient; to keep himself informed of the work of all departments, and to be vigilant in enforcing ordinances and the laws of the State. Every three months he must report to the Board of Aldermen the expenses and receipts of his office, stating the salaries paid to and the nature of the duties of his clerks and subordinates, whom he has the power to appoint. The Mayor has the power of veto over all ordinances and resolutions of the Board of Aldermen, but if he does not disapprove they become laws after a lapse of ten days.

An ordinance or resolution can be passed over the Mayor's veto by a vote of two-thirds of all the members elected to the Board of Aldermen, except that when it involves the expenditure of money, the creation of a debt, or the laying of an assessment, a three-fourths vote is required. The Mayor countersigns all warrants drawn by the Comptroller upon the Chamberlain for payments on behalf of the corporation. He has also to sign all bonds, together with the Comtroller. In the absence or sickness of the Mayor the President of the Board of Aldermen is the Acting Mayor. He shall not appoint to, or remove from, office any official, unless the absence or sickness of the Mayor continues thirty days, nor shall he approve or disapprove any resolution or ordinance unless such absence or sickness continues nine days.

OFFICES OF BOROUGH PRESIDENTS

The Presidents of the Boroughs hold office for a term of four years. They have offices in the Borough Halls of their respective boroughs and are ex-officio members of the Board of Estimate and Apportionment. In that board the Presidents of the Boroughs of Manhattan and Brooklyn have two votes each and the Presidents of the other boroughs one vote each. The President of the Borough presides over each local board in his borough. He has the right to vote on and of veto over the action of any local board. Each Borough President is a member of the Board of Aldermen and has the same right to vote as any member elected to the Board of Aldermen. The Borough President may appoint and at pleasure remove a Commissioner of Public Works for his borough, who may discharge all the administrative power of the President of the Borough relating to streets, sewers, public buildings and supplies, and who shall in the absence or illness of such president discharge the duties of such president. The President of the Borough has cognizance and control of all matters relating to the improvement and repair of streets and sewers. He has control of the public buildings, within his borough, except schools, hospitals, fire and police stations, penitentiaries, etc. He is empowered to exercise the supervision vested in the city over the construction of buildings in his borough, except such powers as are directly vested in the Tenement House Commission, and to that end he is authorized to appoint a Superintendent of Buildings. In the Boroughs of Richmond and Queens the Presidents of the Boroughs in addition to their other powers, have jurisdiction over the cleaning of streets and the removal of ashes and garbage. The Secretary of the President is Secretary of the local boards, appointed by the presidents.

LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT.

The legislative power of the City of New York is vested in the Board of Aldermen, consisting of 73 members elected from that number of aldermanic districts, of the President of the Board and the Presidents of the Boroughs. They are elected for a term of two years. The aldermen elected to the board are paid two thousand dollars per year and the president of the board is paid five thousand dollars per year, and is elected on a general ticket by the voters of the city. Each head of an administrative department of the city is entitled to a seat in the Board of Aldermen, and shall attend its meetings when required by the board. He is required also to answer any questions put to him by any member relating to the affairs of his department, providing he is given forty-eight hours' notice that such a question is to be put. He is given a right to partake in the discussion of the board, but no right to vote. No member elected to the Board of Aldermen is eligible to any other office under the city during the term for which he is elected. The board is required to meet at least once a month, except during the months of August and September. Resolutions and ordinances of the board must be passed by a vote of a majority of the members of the board. It cannot authorize the expenditure of any money for any celebration, procession, funeral, reception or entertainment, except by a vote of four-fifths of its membership. If a resolution or ordinance of the Board of Aldermen is vetoed by the Mayor, it can be repassed only by a two-thirds vote, provided that in case the ordinance or resolution involves the expenditure of money, the collection of a debt, or the levying of an assessment a three-fourths vote is required. The Board of Aldermen is required to act within six weeks upon certain resolutions or votes of the Board of Estimate and Apportionment relative to the creation of a debt by the issue of bonds, the granting of a franchise and the right to use the streets, avenues, water works or highways of the city. If a majority of the Board of Aldermen vote against any such proposition, it is deemed as rejected. If a majority does not vote against such proposition within the six weeks specified, the proposition is regarded as having passed by the requisite vote of the board. The Board of Aldermen is authorized to fix salaries of all city employes other than day laborers, teachers, examiners and members of the supervising staff of the Board of Education. Such action, however, can only be taken upon the recommendation of the Board of Estimate and Apportionment, and the Board of Aldermen cannot increase any salary recommended by the Board of Estimate and Apportionment, but may decrease any salary recommended. In case, however, of the board voting to reduce any salary, the Mayor may veto such action.

THE LOCAL IMPROVEMENT BOARDS

The districts of local improvements in the entire city are numbered 1 to 25, and each in addition is given a name by which it will be known. (See page 392.) The President of the Borough as chairman and the Alderman residing in each local improvement district constitute the local board. The local boards are empowered to initiate such Improvements as grading and paving streets and constructing sewers, subject to the approval of the Board of Estimate, if they involve an assessment. If the improvement involves a cost of more than five hundred thousand dollars, it must be approved by the Board of Aldermen. When the cost of flagging sidewalks, grading lots or fencing lots is less than two thousand dollars, the approval of the Board of Estimate and Apportionment is not necessary, and it then becomes the duty of the Borough President to execute the work. In all other matters resolutions of the local boards must be approved by the Board of Estimate and Apportionment and in some instances by the Board of Aldermen also, and when so approved the resolution of approval is transmitted to the Borough President, who then directs the execution of the work. The local boards are also authorized to hear complaints and pass resolutions of nuisances in streets or against disorderly houses, drinking saloons conducted without the observance of licenses, gambling houses or other matters concerning the peace or good government, and concerning the condition of the poor within their respective districts.

How to Obtain Local Improvements.

All petitions for local improvements should be addressed to the President of the Borough for presentation to the Local Board having jurisdiction. Petitions for original improvements such as grading and paving and the construction of sewers and for the opening of streets should be signed by at least two persons. If the Local Board, after hearing, approves any proposed original improvement, it forwards a proper resolution to the Board of Aldermen, if required, and when the Board approves, the result of its action is transmitted to the Borough President, who then executes the work. Assessments on such improvements are not levied until after the work is completed, and the city loans its credit for doing the work by issuing assessment bonds. When the work is finished and assessments levied, 7 per cent. interest is charged until paid. Repaving is done at the expense of the city at large, unless a majority of property owners by petition offer to bear a part or all of the expense.

FINANCE DEPARTMENT.

Stewart Building, Chambers st. and Broadway, Manhattan.

The Comptroller of New York City is head of the Department of Finance, which has control of the fiscal affairs of the corporation. His term of office is four years from noon on the first day of January succeeding his election. He may be removed from office by the Governor upon charges and a hearing. Any vacancy in the office is to be filled by the Mayor. The salary of the office is $15,000 a year. The Comptroller is ex-officio a member of the Board of Estimate and Apportionment, Aqueduct Commission, Board of City Record, Bank Commission, Board of Revision of Assessment, and the Sinking Fund Commission. He has power to appoint two deputies, who shall have all the powers and duties of the Comptroller for a period not exceeding three months whenever so designated in writing by the Comptroller. He also appoints the heads of all Bureaus and Divisions of the Department of Finance, except the Chamberlain. There is another bureau in the Comptroller's office for the reception and safe keeping of all moneys paid into the treasury and for payment of money on warrants drawn by Comptroller and countersigned by the Mayor. At the head of this is the Chamberlain, but he is appointed by the Mayor and serves during the pleasure of the Mayor. He gives a bond for $300,000 and receives a salary of $12,000 a year. He shall receive all moneys paid into the city treasury and pay all warrants issued by the Comptroller and countersigned by the Mayor. The receiver of taxes and collector of assessments and arrears each give a bond of $25,000, to be approved by the Comptroller and City Chamberlain. Each has his chief office in Manhattan and a branch office in each of the other boroughs, where taxes and assessments in that borough are payable. The Comptroller is authorized to advertise for proposals for purchase of bonds and stocks of the city. All bonds issued after Jan. 1, 1898, except assessment and revenue bonds, shall be known as "corporate stock of the City of New York." For its redemption and payment the faith and credit of the city are pledged. The form of the same shall be designated by the Comptroller and signed by him and the Mayor, sealed with the city's seal and attested by the City Clerk. In coupon form the stock shall be in sums not less than $500 each share, or it may be registered, and it shall be redeemable in not less than ten nor more than fifty years after date, to be paid in gold coin or in the legal currency of the United States, at the option of Commissioners of the Sinking Fund. Bonds may be issued in registered form in denominations of $10 or any multiple thereof. Revenue bonds, to be redeemed from the proceeds of the tax levy, may be issued to meet expenditures under the appropriations of each current year. Special revenue bonds may be issued for certain specified purposes. When authorized by Board of Estimate and Apportionment, Comptroller can issue assessment bonds to meet expenses incurred in regulating and paving streets, building sewers and all other work done by contract, the cost to be met by assessment in whole or in part upon the property benefited. The Comptroller shall have sole charge of the Wallabout Market. He shall publish in the City Record within two months after the close of each calendar year a full and detailed statement of receipts and expenditures of the corporation the preceding year and the cash balance.

DEPARTMENT OF WATER SUPPLY, GAS AND ELECTRICITY.

The Commissioner of Water Supply, Gas and Electricity has charge of all property connected with the supply and distribution of water for public use; maintenance of supply; collection of water revenue, and enforcement of regulations concerning use of water. He has power throughout the state, with the approval of the Board of Estimate and Apportionment, with concurrence of the Board of Aldermen, to select sources of water supply for the city. The Commissioner may spend not more than two million dollars annually to extend the water service, with consent of the Board of Estimate, without concurrence of the Board of Aldermen. Also may use the water income in Brooklyn in same manner to improve service in that borough. He executes contracts, when authorized, for the lighting of the city and has certain powers of inspection over gas and electricity used for lighting, heating and power purposes.

DEPARTMENT OF HEALTH.

S. W. cor. 55th st. and 6th av., Manhattan. The Board of Health consists of the Commissioner of Health, at a salary of $7,500 per year; the Police Commissioner and the Health Officer of the Port. Their duty is to enforce, so far as practicable, all the laws of the State and the provisions of the Sanitary Code within the city limits and the waters adjacent thereto for the preservation of human life and the care, promotion and protection of health. The Board has the power to remove any person suffering from contagious disease to a proper place for treatment and to avert all causes of disease or peril to life or health. The Sanitary Code in force on Jan. 1, 1902, is continued. The department is to maintain two bureaus, one under a Sanitary Superintendent at $5,000 a year, and the other under the Registrar of Records at $4,000 a year. Offices are to be maintained in all the boroughs, with assistants in charge of the branch offices of these bureaus. A full record of all births, deaths and marriages is to be kept by this department.

BOARD OF ESTIMATE AND APPORTIONMENT.

Secretary's Office, 277 B'way, Mhnt.

The Board of Estimate and Apportionment consists of the Mayor, Comptroller, President of the Board of Aldermen and Presidents of the Boroughs. The Mayor, Comptroller and President of the Board of Aldermen have three votes each; the Presidents of the Boroughs of Manhattan and Brooklyn, two votes each, and the Presidents of the other Boroughs one vote each. Between the 1st day of Oct. and the 1st day of Nov. the Board of Estimate and Apportionment prepares a budget of the amounts estimated to be required to pay the expenses of the city during the coming year. When such budget is prepared it is submitted to the Board of Aldermen, which may decrease any appropriations, but may not increase any appropriation. In case of a decrease of an appropriation by the Board of Aldermen, such action is reviewable by the Mayor, and if he vetoes such action, it can be overridden only by a three-fourths vote of the Board of Aldermen. The Board of Estimate also succeeds to all the powers of the Board of Public Improvements not transferred to the Presidents of the Boroughs or other officials. In important instances the Board of Estimate and Apportionment may issue bonds for public improvements without the concurrence of the Board of Aldermen. The Board of Estimate and Apportionment also has charge of the granting of franchises, which was formerly in the Board of Aldermen.

THE JUDICIARY.
Courts.

The courts having jurisdiction are the Supreme Court, County Court and the Surrogate's Court.

The Supreme Court is the highest court of original jurisdiction in all actions in law and equity and in criminal cases. The County of Kings forms a part of the Second Judicial District, and of the Second Appellate Department of the State.

The County Court has jurisdiction of all actions for partition of real property, for dower, foreclosure of a mortgage, etc.; for specific performance of a contract relating to real property where the real property is situated in the county; in an action to foreclose a lien not exceeding $1,000 on a chattel when the chattel is found in the county, in favor of the executor, administrator or assignee of a judgment creditor, etc.; for any other cause where the defendants or all the defendants are residents of the county at the time of beginning this action, when judgment is demanded for money only not exceeding $2,000, or to recover chattel or chattels not exceeding in value $1,000; to the custody of the person and care of the property concurrently with the Supreme Court if the person is a resident of the county. etc. The court has jurisdiction over all criminal cases; its jurisdiction is coextensive with that of the criminal branch of the Supreme Court.

The Surrogate's Court has jurisdiction in all matters appertaining to estates of deceased persons who were at demise residents of Kings County, or where deceased, not being a resident of State, died within the county, leaving personal property within the State, or where deceased, not being a resident of the State, died without the State, leaving personal property within this county and no other; or where deceased was not, at the time of death, a resident of the State, but died possessed of real estate in this county, and no other.

THE JUDICIARY.

The Courts.

The Courts having jurisdiction in New York County are Supreme Court, Surrogate's Court, City Court of the City of New York. The Supreme Court is the highest court of original jurisdiction in all actions in law and equity and in criminal cases. The County of New York forms the First Appellate Division of the Supreme Court and the First Judicial District. The Supreme Court is divided into four parts—special term for trials, of which there are eight parts, and trial terms of which there are twenty parts; Supreme Court, criminal branch; appellate terms, to try appeals from City and Municipal Court, appellate division, to hear appeals from the special and trial terms and from the appellate term, also from the Surrogate's Court of New York County, and the courts of general and special sessions (criminal).

The City Court has jurisdiction in common law actions involving property to the value of $2,000.

The Surrogate's Court has the same juris-

FOR CHARITABLE INSTITUTIONS.

Conditions Governing Payments to Charitable Institutions.

The appropriations in this Budget are made subject to the following conditions:

1. The accounts and records of all charitable institutions receiving public moneys shall be so kept as to show all receipts, disbursements and population in such form as shall be satisfactory to the Comptroller. Records must show the addresses of parents, guardians or nearest relatives of inmates and other information designed to facilitate inquiry into their financial inability to make provision for dependents in the institutions.

2. Moneys received from the City Treasury shall be used by such institutions for recurring expenses of "care, support, education and maintenance."

3. All institutions receiving public moneys and all their books of record and accounts shall at all reasonable times be open to the visitation, inspection and examination of duly authorized representatives of the Department of Finance and at all proper times the Department of Public Charities shall have access to the record of inmates.

4. Upon its appearing to the satisfaction of the Comptroller that it would be to the public interest to withhold payments to any charitable institution for which an apportionment has been made, he shall in his discretion suspend payments and give written notice to such institution of his intention to apply to the Board of Estimate and Apportionment for authority to cease making further payments, and upon the determination of said board that such payments shall terminate the right of any such institution to receive payment for services rendered thereafter shall thereupon end.

5. Except where appropriations are made in bulk and not upon the per capita basis, no payment shall be made for inmates of private charitable institutions unless the same shall have been accepted by the Commissioner of the Department of Public Charities as proper charges upon the city. Except in emergency cases in hospitals, the Commissioner of Charities shall not accept as proper charges against the city inmates capable of paying for their own support or for whose care adequate provision can be made in public hospitals. The city shall not be liable for any payment to charitable institutions in excess of the apportionment which may have been made to such institutions, notwithstanding any per capita rates of payment that may have been fixed for the inmates thereof.

6. All institutions receiving money from the city are required to state specifically the amount so received, as from the City Treasury, in their printed annual reports.

7. No money shall be paid to any private charitable institution which pays any salary to or gives any consideration, financial or of any kind, for services to, or that has any business dealing with, or secures goods or merchandise, directly or indirectly, from any officer or trustee or member of its Board of Managers.

8. That charitable institutions for children now carried in the budget and not sending their inmates to the public schools, and not sharing in the corporate school fund, and not receiving teachers and school supplies from the Board of Education, but giving in their own building secular education to the children resident in the institutions, shall be paid a per capita of 7 cents per day, five school days in the week for each child of four years of age and over receiving such instruction during ten months in the year. This money to be paid under the authorization of Section 230 of the Charter, but under the general conditions relating to institutions receiving corporate school money, as provided in Section 115.

9. Magistrates are requested to transfer dependent, and when judicious, no proper guardianship children, and all cases coming to their attention in the courts where no crime is proven against the child, to the Commissioner of Charities, who can commit to institutions. Magistrates are earnestly requested not to commit a dependent child to an institution on a court commitment.

10. The Commissioner of Charities is instructed to take such steps, either by appeal to the national authorities or by proper bills to the Legislature, as to provide that the children of emigrants abandoned within one year after arrival in this city be returned to the country whence they came.

11. In determining the acceptance of patients in private hospitals as proper charges (see Rule 5) the Commissioner of Charities shall first consider the nature of the service actually rendered to the patients by the hospitals. The records of the institutions and the bed-card notes showing the treatment given shall be received as the essential evidence in deciding acceptances or rejections.

12. No dependent child under 16 years of age shall be accepted as a proper charge upon the city and no money will be paid for the care, support, maintenance or education of such child unless it shall have been lawfully committed to a suitable private charitable institution having its own plant and equipment for the proper protection and care of children, under the supervision of the State Board of Charities and has been placed in this budget by the Board of Estimate and Apportionment.

This order has no relation to the class of children of such mental and physical condition as those cared for in the city institution at Randall's Island.

13. The rates of payments to private charitable institutions, unless otherwise specially provided for, are fixed for the various classes of inmates as follows:

INFORMATION FOR TAXPAYERS.

Assessments are made by the Deputy Tax Commissioners. They commence to assess real and personal property on first Tuesday of Sept. and complete their work before the second Monday of the following Jan. The State Tax Law directs that all property, real and personal, shall be assessed at its full value. The Charter of The City of New York requires the Deputy Tax Commissioners to assess and furnish the Board of Taxes and Assessments a detailed statement of all property, showing that said deputies have personally examined the same; also the sum for which said property, under ordinary circumstances, would sell.

When assessment books are open for inspection and correction—The annual records of the assessed valuation of real and personal property in each borough are open for public inspection, examination and correction from the second Monday of Jan. until the first day of April in each year.

Application for correction—Between the second Monday of Jan. and the 31st of March, application may be made to have assessments corrected. Applications for correction of assessed valuation of real estate must be made in writing, stating ground of objection thereto. The Board of Taxes and Assessments examines into the complaints, and if the assessment is erroneous, it causes same to be corrected. Applicants for the correction of the assessed valuation of their personal estate are required to be examined under oath by a Commissioner of Taxes and Assessments, and if the Board determines the assessment to be erroneous it causes same to be corrected.

When assessed valuations may be increased or diminished—The Board of Taxes and Assessments may increase or diminish at any time before the first day of April the assessed valuation of any real or personal property as may be just and necessary for the equalization of taxation; but not increase such valuations after the books of annual record are open for correction and review except upon notice given to the individual or corporation affected by such increase, at least ten days before the 15th day of April, in each year.

The power to remit or reduce a tax—The Board of Tax Commissioners may remit or reduce, if found excessive, a tax imposed upon real or personal property.

Certiorari to review final determination—A certiorari to review or correct on the merits and final determination of the Board of Taxes and Assessments in regard to assessment of real or personal property may be begun at any time before first day of Nov. in the year in which the determination sought to be reviewed or corrected is made.

The certified assessment rolls must be completed and delivered to the Board of Aldermen on the first Monday of July. The corrected assessment rolls must be delivered by the Board of Aldermen to the Receiver of Taxes on or before Sept. 15. All taxes become liens on real estate affected on the first Monday of Oct. Taxes payable on the first Monday in Oct.

Directions as to payment of taxes—Persons applying for tax bills must state whether tax is on personal or real estate; before paying any tax bill it should be examined to see if it embraces all property on which it is intended to pay taxes, and that no mistake is made in the section or ward, block and lot numbers of real estate.

Persons applying for tax bills should be careful to compare their deeds with the maps in the office of the Commissioners of Taxes and Assessments to see they have correct section or ward, block and lot number before making payment. If taxes shall remain unpaid on the 1st day of Nov., interest will be charged at 7 per cent. per annum, and will be calculated from the first Monday of Oct. If personal taxes are not paid by Jan. 15 the receiver of taxes may issue his warrant to the Marshal for collection by distress and sale.

Real estate taxes not paid June 1 are returned to the Bureau for the Collection of Arrears.

Personal Property Exemptions.

The term "personal property" includes a property other than real estate; for example Household furniture, chattels, money, thing in action, debts due from solvent debtor whether on account, contract, note, bond, mortgage, debts and obligations for the payment of money due or owing to persons residing within the state, however secured, wherever such securities shall be held, debts due by inhabitants of this state to persons residing within the United States for the purchase of real estate, public stocks, stocks in moneyed corporations, and such portion of capital of incorporated companies liable to taxation on their capitals not invested in real estate.

Among the various classes of "personal property" exempt from taxation may be enumerated the following: Property exempted by constitution of State, of United States, or by act of the Legislature. All property contained in the buildings of any incorporated academy, seminary of learning, or of a religious or charitable character. All property exempt by law from execution other than an exempt homestead. (Articles enumerated in Sec. 18 and 1890 of the Civil Code.) Professional instruments, furniture and library, not over $25.

The pay and bounty of a non-commissioned officer, musician or private in military or naval service of the U. S.; a land warrant, pension or other reward granted by the U. S. or by a State for military or naval services; a sword, horse, medal, emblem, device, etc. But if the pension funds have been embarked in business and mingled with other funds so as to be incapable of identification they are not exempt either as personal property or in real property, if the claim is made that the same has been purchased therewith only proportionately as such pension fund can be identified. The pensioner must also show that he or she is not only the owner, but the occupant of the premises claimed as exempt from taxation. Bonds of a municipal corporation issued for purpose of paying up or retiring indebtedness.

All vessels registered at any port in the state and owned by an American citizen or association, or by any corporation of the state, engaged in ocean commerce.

A bond, mortgage or note, contract, account or other demand belonging to any person not a resident of this State sent to or deposited in this State for collection; the products of another State owned by a non-resident and sent to his agent in this State for sale on commission; moneys of a non-resident of this State under the control or in the possession of his agent in this State.

Mortgages recorded since May 13, 1907, on which a registration fee has been paid.

Savings bank deposits. The accumulation of any domestic life insurance corporation held for the exclusive benefit of the insured other than the real estate and stocks now liable for taxation. The accumulations of any incorporated co-operative loan association upon the shares of such association held by any person. Moneys collected by any association or casualty insurance on the co-operative plan. The owner or holder of stock when the company is liable to taxation on its capital. Stock of city, State, charitable or literary institutions. United States securities. Trust fund in custody of non-resident trustees. Co-operative savings and loan associations. Foreign funds sent here for investment. Goods sent here to be sold from another State where the proceeds are for non-residents. But this does not include moneys, goods and chattels where a continuous business is being conducted. The point in this State of exceptions is whether such capital is used here as a continuous business, in which case exemption does not apply. Imported articles in original packages. But after such articles are sold by the importer or divided into smaller packages or quantities by breaking up of cases, cases, packages, etc. in which they are imported, and thus destroy ing the character or import, which made them suitable under U. S. laws, they are taxable as personal property to the owner or agent, or, after sold, also taxable.

FULL VALUE REAL ESTATE ASSESSMENTS.

Real estate was assessed upon its estimated market value for the first time in 1903, resulting in increasing the borrowing capacity of the city from about $7,000,000 to over $142,000,000.

TAXABLE REAL ESTATE.

The total assessed value of the real estate for 1907 in entire city was $6,240,480,602; for 1908 it was $6,722,415,789. Increase for 1908 is $481,915,187.

The following tabulated statement shows the assessed valuation of real estate by sections and wards in the several boroughs constituting the City of New York for the year 1908, as compared with the assessed valuation for the year 1907:

RIVER AND HARBOR WORK AFFECTING LONG ISLAND SOUND.

FLUSHING BAY is being improved by building a dike 4,663 feet long on the west side of the channel, to protect it from filling, and for making a channel 6 ft. deep up to the lower bridge at Flushing, cost to be \$173,500. Completed on June 30, 1908, except as to removing a small shoal below Broadway Bridge. The dike is in bad condition, and nearly all of the outer end, 1,606 feet long, has been carried away. The maximum draft at mean low water is estimated at six feet. The head of navigation is one mile above Strong's Causeway. Total length of navigable channel, $\frac{5}{8}$ miles.

CONEY ISLAND CHANNEL is being improved under a project adopted by the river and harbor act of March 2, 1907, by dredging a channel 20 feet deep and 600 feet wide, at an estimated cost of \$168,300, and \$20,000 for maintenance. Up to June 30, 1908, 16 per cent. of the work had been completed, resulting in making a channel through the western bar 20 feet deep and 240 feet wide. The maximum draft in shoalest part is 12 $\frac{1}{2}$ feet. Total length of projected channel, $\frac{1}{4}$ miles.

CANARSIE BAY project was adopted June 14, 1880, and subsequently enlarged in 1889 and 1896, and provides for the construction of two dikes to secure a channel 100 to 150 feet wide and 6 feet deep, connecting the steamboat dock at Canarsie with Big Channel, Jamaica Bay; also for a channel running from Canarsie Landing to Island Channel, and for one running to Gopher Channel. Estimated cost \$88,000. The work has been completed, but channels have deteriorated and the dikes are in poor condition. Maximum draft carried over the shoalest part of the channel, 6 feet in the main channel, $\frac{2}{3}$ in the West Branch and 3 feet in the East Branch. Total length of navigable channel is about one mile. Head of navigation Canarsie Landing.

GREAT SOUTH BAY is being improved under a project adopted June 13, 1902. This provides for dredging a channel from Fire Island Inlet to Patchogue, on Patchogue River. From the inlet to the central basin in Great South Bay, the channel is to be 10 feet deep and 200 feet wide; from the central basin to Patchogue, 8 feet deep and 100 feet wide. On June 30, 1908, 91 per cent. of the work had been completed, resulting in a channel 200 feet wide and 10 feet deep in the bay, except at bars Q and B, and in the completion of a channel 100 feet wide and 8 feet deep in the river. The work on the improvement of Great South Bay was stopped by injunction December 12, 1903, and again November 8, 1906. The injunction finally having been dissolved, the contractor was notified February 19, 1908, to resume work, but has failed to do so.

PORT JEFFERSON HARBOR project provides for the dredging of a channel through the harbor entrance 12 feet deep and 200 feet wide, to be protected by extending previous built jetties, cost estimated at \$145,000. On June 30, 1908, about 57 per cent. of the work was completed and has resulted in securing a channel 12 feet deep and 200 feet wide, and completing the east jetty 1,470 feet, except at the shore end, where it is covered by sand. The west jetty is 940 feet long, with scar cross section. The maximum draft that could be carried over the shoalest part of the channel June 30, 1908, is estimated at less than 1 foot. The total length of navigable channel from Long Island Sound to Port Jefferson wharves is about $\frac{2}{3}$ miles.

GLEN COVE HARBOR is being improved under a project which provides for the construction of a breakwater in Hempstead Harbor. This is to have a length of 2,000 feet and to be 3 feet above high water, with a top width of 5 feet. Estimated cost, $135,000.

Up to June 30, 1908, $72,000 had been expended on the project, all for improvement. About 1 per cent. of the work has been completed.

NEWTOWN CREEK project was adopted June 3, 1896, and is to secure a uniform channel, 125 feet wide and 18 feet deep, from the East River to the head of navigation at Metropolitan avenue, at an estimated cost of $450,000. This estimate was subsequently reduced to $213,000. About 93 per cent. of the work has been completed. The channel has deteriorated to a considerable extent.

BROWN'S CREEK is being improved by channel 100 feet wide and four feet deep, extend from deep water in the bay up to Sayville highway bridge, and to be protected by the entrance by jetties on both sides, the estimated cost of the same being $46,000. About 54 per cent. of the work has been completed. Because of shoaling this dredged channel was redredged in 1905 to 4 feet depth at mean low water for a distance of about 1,200 feet from the end of the jetties.

There is now an available channel about 1 foot wide and 3 to 4 feet deep at mean low water for a distance of 3,200 feet from the entrance. Above this the channel remains in original condition.

MATTITUCK HARBOR project provides for a channel 7 feet deep from the entrance to the dam to the village, the width to be 80 feet. The estimated cost is $83,000. About 43 per cent. of the work has been completed, resulting in the completion of the west jetty to the projected section for a length of 680 feet, extending out to the 10-foot curve; the east jetty to full projected section for a length of 7 feet extending out to the 7-foot curve, and dredging a channel at the entrance 7 feet deep, 60 feet wide and about 800 feet long. The project contemplates dredging below and above the mill dam.

The Life-Saving Service.

The ocean and lake coasts of the United States are picketed with the stations of the Life-Saving Service attached to the United States Treasury Department. Sumner I. Kimball is general superintendent, with headquarters at Washington, and there is a corps of inspectors, superintendents and station keepers, and crews extending over the entire coast line, together with a Board on Life-Saving Appliances composed of experts selected from the Revenue-Cutter Service, the Army, the Life-Saving Service, and civilians.

At the close of the last fiscal year the life-saving establishment embraced 280 stations, 201 being on the Atlantic and Gulf coasts, 60 on the great lakes, 18 on the Pacific coast and 1 at the falls of the Ohio, Louisville, Ky. Statistics of the service follow:

	Year end- ing June 30, 30, 1908.	From 1871* to June 30, 1908.		Year end- ing June 30, 30, 1908.	From 1871* to June 30, 1908.

In addition to the foregoing there were 708 casualties to smaller craft, such as sailboats, rowboats, etc., on which there were 1,963 persons, of whom 6 were lost. The cost of the maintenance of the Service during the year was $1,962,524.90.

*Introduction of service.

THE WATER FRONT.

The water frontage of Greater New York, including Newtown Creek (3 miles)—less the small islands—measures 341.22 lineal miles.

Brooklyn.

From Newtown Creek south are passed successively large establishments for almost every class of industries, the piers of the Williamsburg Bridge, Wallabout Market shipping basin, railroad freight terminals, the Navy Yard water front, the piers of the Manhattan and Brooklyn Bridges. The ferries to Manhattan start from ft. of Greenpoint av., Grand st., B'way, Main, Fulton, Montague sts. and Atlantic av. Going north the Hunter's Point Ferry, Penn. R. R. tunnel, Astoria Ferry, Queensboro Bridge and the connecting line of the Pennsylvania Railroad, now building. South are situated the important railroad terminals in Williamsburg, at Jay st., Montague st., Baltic st. and at Forty-third st. These handle much of the Western manufactured goods for the department stores.

Adjoining Hamilton av. is the Atlantic Basin, under control of N. Y. Dock Co. The largest vessel can enter it in any stage of tide. It covers an area of 40 acres, included between Piers No. 33, 1,250 ft. long by 166 wide, and No. 38, 880 ft. long by 165 ft. wide, with railroad tracks running along each.

The Erie Basin covers 161 acres and is protected by a mile of breakwater. It contains 2 large covered piers and 8 smaller open piers, stores for grain having capacity of over 3,000,000 bu. 500 to 700 canal boats seek winter protection in this basin, the crews and families of which form a colony of over 2,000 persons.

The dry docks here are among the largest in the United States. From the ft. of Court and Clinton sts. to 25th st. are various vessel building firms. In succession follow land and water front between 36th and 35th sts., taken by city for a public market; B. R. T. R. R. Co. property; the 39th st. Ferry approach, the Naval Reserve Corps, land for armory (51st to 52d st.); the terminal for L. I. R. R. at 63d to 65th sts. From 65th, at the foot of the bluff, on to Gravesend Bay runs the Bay Ridge parkway.

At 84th st. is the Crescent Athletic Club House; farther on the U. S. Govt. reservation and defenses of Ft. Hamilton; Bath Beach, Bensonhurst, Sea Gate, W. Brighton, Brighton Beach, Manhattan Beach, Pt. Breeze, Sheephead Bay, Bergen Beach and Canarsie, on Jamaica Bay, and Rockaway Beach, Arverne, Wave Crest, Isle of Wight and Far Rockaway take up the bay and ocean shore to the extreme eastern limit of N. Y. City, making a total water front of 33 miles.

Manhattan and Bronx.

Beginning at Battery Park going along the shore line of the Hudson River are: The Aquarium, headquarters of the fireboats, the Dock Dept., occupying Pier A. Washington Market ft. of Fulton st. W. Washington Market ft. of 12th st. The piers number from 1 to 11. Between Perry and Gansevoort sts. are the landing piers of foreign steamships. Between Bloomfield and W. 23d sts. is the Chelsea Improvement. At Barrow st., W. 51st st. and W. 29th st. are recreation piers. Between W. 53d and W. 158th sts. are Trinity Cemetery and Audubon Park. Ft. Washington and Ft. Washington Park are between W. 170th and W. 85th sts. At W. 219th st. is the mouth of the Spuyten Duyvil Creek and the Harlem Ship Canal, which connects the Hudson and Harlem rivers. Beyond Mt. St. Vincent, 15 miles from the City Hall, is the northern limit of the city. The ferries are at ft. of Liberty, Cortlandt, Barclay, Chambers, Franklin, Desbrosses, Christopher, 23d, 24th, 42d, 130th sts.

Following the East River shore line from the southeast corner of Battery Park are located the ferry to Liberty Isl., the Barge office, a department of the customs, a bureau of immigration office of the U. S. Marine Hospital, ship news office and ferry to Governors Isl., the ferries to Staten Isl. and 39th st., South Bkln. and the ferries to Hamilton av. and Atlantic av., South Bkln. At Wall and Fulton sts. are ferries to Bkln. Between Fulton and Beekman sts. is the principal wholesale fish market of the city. At Roosevelt st. are the western piers of Bkln. Bridge. At Pike slip are the west piers of Manhattan Bridge. Corlears Hook Park is between Jackson and Corlears sts. Between Broome and Delancey sts. is the anchorage and west piers of the Williamsburg Bridge.

E. 26th to 25th sts. is Bellevue Hospital. Between ft. of E. 59th and 60th sts. is western anchorage of Queensboro Bridge. At the head of L. I. Sound is Pt. Morris; two miles beyond the Bronx R., the limit of city improvements, empties into L. I. Sound. At Throg's Neck, farther on, is located Ft. Schuyler. Pelham Manor is the northern and eastern limits of Greater New York.

Queens.

Across the Sound from Pelham Manor to Long Island is Little Neck Bay. On the western side of the bay is Willets Point. Whitestone, College Point, Flushing, North Beach, Steinway, Astoria and Ravenswood line the shore to L. I. City.

Staten Island.

St. George is the municipal ferry terminal between Mhnt. and Staten Island. The U. S. lighthouse establishment is at Tompkinsville. At Stapleton is building a second landing for the municipal ferry. Then comes the quarantine boarding station and the fortifications on the west side of the Narrows. South of the Narrows is So. Beach, a seaside resort. Adjoining is Midland Beach. Various manufacturing industrial plants follow. At the northern point of the island is the abutment of the Arthur Kill railroad bridge, which connects the States of New Jersey and New York. Five miles eastward is Sailors Snug Harbor, and farther on New Brighton. The circuit of the island water front is 51 miles.

Fire Island Park.

On May 22, 1908, the legislative bill making Fire Island a state park became a law. This land comprises what is commonly called the Great South Beach and formerly belonged to the Towns of Islip and Babylon. It covers an area of about 126.5 acres and will be developed as a recreation center.

According to the law, Governor Hughes has appointed a commission of five, of which John H. Vail is president and Elliot J. Smith, secretary and treasurer. Other members are Edward C. Blum of Brooklyn, Samuel L. Parish of Southampton and Henry W. Sackett of New York. This commission will have charge of making the park attractive.

If the commissioners can carry out their idea, Fire Island will be famous the world over as the finest sea park to be found anywhere. Its natural advantages cannot be surpassed. It has a fine ocean beach and splendid shore on Great South Bay. Fishing is good in the channel that enters the bay at that point and the bathing, both sea and bay sides, is good save that there are no house or other facilities.

Barge Canal & Good Roads Progress.

From Jan. 1, 1908, to Sept. 1, 1908, a total of $6,959,223 was expended by New York State on the barge canal work and improved highways. The following tabulation shows the amount of work done each month on canals and good roads during the season of 1908:

	Barge canal.	Good roads.	Total.
January	$67,870	$94,088	$161,958
February	29,640	57,600	87,240
March	60,790	58,400	119,190
April	219,130	243,700	462,830
May	366,890	621,775	988,665
June	543,960	1,044,170	1,588,130
July	543,120	1,168,130	1,711,250
August	699,960	1,140,000	1,839,960
Total	$2,531,360	$4,427,863	$6,959,223

EDUCATION DEPARTMENT.

Chap. 40, Laws of 1904, provided that the University of the State of New York shall be governed and its corporate powers exercised by 11 Regents, and provided for their election; and provided further for a Department of Education and the election of a Commissioner of Education. The Board of Regents elected according to this statute, with the years, when their terms expire, is as follows: Whitelaw Reid, Chancellor, New York, 1913; St. Clair McKel-way, Vice Chancellor, Brooklyn, 1917; Daniel Beach, Watkins, 1919; Pliny T. Sexton, Palmyra, 1914; T. Guilford Smith, Buffalo, 1912; William Nottingham, Syracuse, 1918; Charles A. Gardner, New York, 1910; Albert Vander Veer, Albany, 1915; Edward Lauterbach, New York, 1911; Eugene A. Philbin, New York, 1909; Lucian L. Shedd, Plattsburgh, 1916. In accordance also with the provisions of this statute, the Legislature elected the present Commissioner of Education, Andrew S. Draper, LL.D., for the term of 6 years from April 1, 1904. He receives an annual salary of $7,500 and $1,500 in lieu of traveling expenses. The powers and duties of the office of Superintendent of Public Instruction and of Secretary of the Board of Regents are exercised and performed by the Commissioner of Education, who creates divisions and fixes and determines the salaries of all assistants and employees in the Education Department, subject to the approval of the Board of Regents.

For purposes of administration the common classification of the work of the Education Department is known as elementary, secondary and higher. The First Assistant Commissioner has oversight of all universities, colleges, professional and technical schools and of the execution of the laws concerning the professions. The Second Assistant Commissioner has oversight of high schools and academies and the training of teachers therefor. The Third Assistant Commissioner has oversight of all elementary schools and of the training of teachers therefor.

For carrying on the work of the Department, sub-departments, called Divisions, have been created, as follows: Administration, Attendance, Examinations, Inspections, Law, School Libraries, Statistics, Division of Trades Schools, Visual Instruction, Educational Extension, Science and State Museum and the State Library. A list of the assistants and employees in the Commissioner's office and in several divisions of the Education Department follows:

3d and 4th Depts.—Syracuse, at Court House, Oct. 19.

The board has adopted the following rules:

I. Each applicant for examination must file with Sec. of Board at least 15 days before holding examination preliminary proofs required by the "Rules for the admission of attorneys and counselors-at-law," as amended and adopted by judges of Court of Appeals, Dec. 2, 1895, to take effect Jan. 1, 1896, from which it must appear the preliminary conditions prescribed have been fulfilled, and also proof of residence of applicant for six months prior to examination, giving place, with street and number, which must be made by his own affidavit. Said affidavit must also state that such residence is actual. The examination fee of $10 must be paid to Treas. at the time the application for examination is filed. To entitle an applicant to re-examination he must notify the Sec. by mail of his desire therefor, at least 15 days before the examination at which he intends to appear.

II. Each applicant must be a citizen of State, of full age; may be examined in any Dept., but the fact of his having passed the examination will be certified to Appellate Div. of Judicial Dept. in which he has resided for six months prior to his examination. He must entitle his papers in Dept. in which he intends to apply for examination.

Note—An applicant must appear for examination in the Dept. in which he entitles his papers, unless permission of the Board otherwise be granted at least 15 days before the day appointed for holding the examination.

III. In applying provisions of Rules IV and V of Rules of the Court of Appeals, the Board will require proof that the college or university of which applicant claims to be a graduate maintains a satisfactory standard in respect to the course of study completed by him.

IV. The papers filed by each applicant must be attached together, and there must be indorsed upon them the name of the applicant. The papers must be entitled: "In the matter of the application of — for admission to the Bar." Each applicant must state the beginning and end of each term spent in a law school, as well as the beginning and the end of each vacation that he has had.

V. An applicant who has been admitted as an attorney in highest court of original jurisdiction of another State, and who has remained therein as a practicing attorney one year, may prove the latter fact by his own affidavit, and present a certificate from a judge of the court in which he was admitted or from a county judge in said State certifying to that fact. The signature of the judge must be certified to by clerk of the court or by county clerk under the seal of the court.

New State Highway Department.

The most radical change in the highway system of the state made by the new highway law enacted in 1908 is the transfer of jurisdiction over construction and maintenance from the state engineer to a state highway commission.

Another important change is the abolition of the "labor system" of road work, and the substitution of the "money system."

The terms of commissioners to be appointed by the Governor, with the advice of the Senate, are to be six years; except that those first appointed will serve two, four and six years respectively. The salary of the chairman is to be $6,000 a year, and the other two will receive $5,000 a year. Each must give a bond of $25,000. Provision is made for two deputies, each of whom shall receive $3,500 a year, and both of whom must have had experience in road building. The first deputy is to be in charge of state and county highways; the second of town highways and bridges.

There will be four grades of officials in charge of highway work. Directly responsible to the three commissioners will be six division superintendents, each to have charge of one of the six divisions of the state which are to be apportioned by the commission. Next to the division engineers will be the county or district superintendents, who will have charge of highways in their respective counties or groups of counties. At the bottom of the scale will be the town superintendents, responsible to the district or county superintendents. Each of the division engineers must be a civil engineer and each will receive a salary of $3,000 a year.

One of the new powers conferred upon the town superintendent is the privilege to ask, through the town board and the supervisor of the town, for the services of county prisoners for highway work.

Aside from the administrative power now vested in the state engineer, the state commission of highways will have power to compel compliance with its regulations and of the highway law, and to regulate the width of tires and prohibit the use of chains or armored tires on automobiles. Disobedience of the latter is made punishable by a fine of not less than $10 nor more than $100, the proceeds to be devoted to the maintenance of highways in the town where the fine is collected.

Provision is made for four distinct classes of highways; trunk highways to connect important cities and to be built entirely by the state; county highways to connect the important points in each county, to be constructed at the joint expense of the state, county and town; town highways to connect various points in each town with the county highways, to be paid for by the state and the town; and local town roads to be built entirely by the town. The new feature is the building of the main state roads at the cost of the state.

There are 37 different routes to be followed by the trunk highways and many of them will be hundreds of miles long. Three different lines will lead from New York City toward Albany, and another will lead from New York City through the southern tier to Buffalo.

Next to the mayor, the most ancient official of New York City is the recorder. His office dates back to April, 1686. From the recorder sprang, in 1821, the old Court of Common Pleas, which later became the Supreme Court. One of the recorder's duties was to pass on competency for citizenship. The first recorder was James Graham, appointed by charter.

Constitutional Amendments.

Seven amendments to the State Constitution are to come before the Legislature of 1909, having passed the previous Legislature. If they are again passed, they will be submitted to the people at the fall election of 1909.

The first of these amendments gives the Justices of the Appellate Division in each department the power to fix the times and places for holding special and trial terms of court and to assign Justices. This lessens the power of the Governor and increases the power of the Appellate Division.

Amendment No. 2 increases the number of Judges of the Court of Appeals and increases the Judges' salaries.

Amendment No. 3 provides for the creation of County Auditors.

Amendment No. 4 permits inmates of the Soldiers' and Sailors' Home to vote in the election districts in which their homes are situated.

Amendment No. 5 increases the salaries of Justices of the Supreme Court.

Amendment No. 6 allows the Legislature to increase the rate of interest that the State pays on State bonds.

Amendment No. 7 allows the city of New York to issue revenue bonds payable out of the next year's taxes instead of the current year's taxes.

Criminal Inferior Courts.

Governor Hughes appointed as members of the commission to inquire into inferior criminal courts in cities of the first class, especially in New York, Bronson Winthrop of New York and John Alan Hamilton of Buffalo. The legislative members of the commission are as follows: Senators Alfred R. Page and Thomas F. Grady and Assemblymen Charles F. Murphy, James A. Francis, Alfred E. Smith.

Barge Canal Work.

Up to December, 1908, contracts aggregating $29,780,292 are under way for the building of the barge canal, and $7,567,303 worth of work has been finished. In all, about 15,000,000 cubic yards of earth and embankment have been removed. In the work 351,000 yards of concrete, 57,306 yards of stone work, 2,500,000 feet of timber, 19,492 piles and 3,710,011 pounds of steel have been used.

1908 Canal Tonnage.

The 1908 season's total tonnage on all New York state canals was 3,051,877 tons, as against 3,407,914 in 1907. Of this the Erie Canal carried 2,177,443 tons; Champlain, 614,762; Oswego, 92,831; Cayuga and Seneca, 81,029; Black River, 85,812.

The total value of the shipments was $54,511,509, against $63,903,970 in 1907.

Total assessed value personal property subject to local taxation for all purposes, $620,268,053, of which New York had $397,496,334; Kings, $89,606,685; Queens, $10,760,652; Richmond, $3,893,135; Westchester, $11,200,412.

Corporation Taxes.

Nearly $9,000,000 was collected in taxes from corporations operating in New York State for the fiscal year ending September 30, 1908. This was an increase of more than $1,000,000 over the collections reported in any previous year. Nearly 4,000 companies were taken off the taxable list during 1908 owing to failures and business depression. A large number of corporations paid no taxes for periods ranging from 2 to 13 years. The delinquent corporations were compelled to settle and the payment of their back taxes swelled the increase.

New York State Corporations.

During the first six months of the year 1908, there were incorporated with the Secretary of State, 3,634 stock companies. They paid fees into the State treasury in excess of $60,000. This number was less by 156 than that covering the same period in 1907.

New Catskill Reservoir.

The Ashokan Reservoir in the Catskills will be 12 miles long and 2 miles wide, covering 10,120 acres and having a capacity of 170,000,000 gallons.

NEW YORK STATE PRIMARY LAW.

The Primary Election Law was originally Chap. 179, Laws of 1898, and was wholly amended by Chap. 473, Laws of 1899, and in minor detail was amended by Chaps. 204, 206, 223, 306, Laws of 1900; Chaps. 167, 360, Laws of 1901; Chaps. 1903, 360, 402, Chaps. 131 and 1367, Laws of 1902; Chaps. 350 and 480, Laws of 1903; Chaps. 207, 67, 405, Chaps. 227, 466, Laws of 1904; Chaps. 296, 744 and 450, Laws of 1907. This act applies only to cities and villages having 5,000 inhabitants or more and provides for the enrollment of members of all political parties. Naturalized citizens may be required to show naturalization papers or certified copy before being registered, and date of such naturalization must be given. The general object of the law is to grant to every registered voter the right to enroll with any party he desires to affiliate with for the purpose of participating in the primaries of such party for the ensuing year. This is accomplished by furnishing, through the inspectors of election, to every person registering as a voter an envelope and secret ballot. The voter indicates his choice of parties by a cross mark in a circle under the emblem of his party. The ballot is then inclosed in an envelope, which is sealed by the elector. The sealed envelope is then deposited in a box and kept inviolate until a week after election, when, all envelopes are opened and ballots examined.

and the political faith expressed thereon of the voters is marked in the enrollment books of poster his name. Under the original law a time was appointed for the supplemental enrollment other than at registration, but that privilege has now been withdrawn, in which of the first, second and third class, in which one must have enrolled at the time of the year, that a final primary day is fixed for the seventh Tuesday before day of general election, except a presidential year, then it is fixed for the tenth Tuesday prior to election, except in cities having a population of a million or over, when the primary day is the sixth Tuesday, before election day, except in gubernatorial years, when it is the eighth Tuesday before. A primary is also held on the last Tuesday in March in a presidential year for election of delegates to the National Convention. Independence in municipal elections does not deprive the voter of the right to participate in the primary of his party.

The enrollment shall be completed before the succeeding 15th of February in each year. If cross marks are found in more than one of the circles, or if no cross marks are found in any of the circles on the enrollment blank, the elector who used the enrollment blank thus deficient shall not be deemed to be enrolled. Under the law a majority of voters of any party can control the nominations by making nominations direct at the primary instead of by electing delegates, if the general committee of such party so directs. A political party is defined to be an organization which polled at least 10,000 votes at last election of governor. The candidates for primary records at officers elections, viz: county clerks, commissioners of elections and the Board of Elections in N. Y. City.

Unofficial primaries may be held by the political parties at their own expense, but notice of same must be published in the same manner as for official primaries.

Chap. 195, Laws of 1902, provides for enrollment of voters in towns if the general committee of the party so directs, but 43 counties are excepted from the operation of the act.

Gas and Electric Companies.

A total capitalization of $33,239,533.80 was represented by sixteen gas companies, nine electric companies and three companies furnishing both gas and electricity. These reached 1,011,831 gas consumers and 87,745 consumers of electricity. Gross earnings were given at $8,363,840.29, while expenditures for operation were listed at $36,318,494.08.

From July 15, 1907, to Dec., 1907, the commission tested 127,846 gas meters. Of 1,562 tested as the result of complaint, citizens, 809, or 51.7 per cent., were found to be running fast; 233, or 18 per cent., were correct, and 550, or 35.3 per cent., were slow.

INTERIOR BATHS, NEW YORK CITY

MANHATTAN.

There is an interior permanent bath in Rivington, near Goerck, for male and female bathers, with 91 cold showers. The place is open the year round daily from 6 A.M. to 9 P.M. It is free to the public. Others are located at E. 109th, near 2d av.; 538 E. 11th; E. 76th, near John Jay Park; W. 41st, near 9th av.; Allen, near Rivington, and W. 60th, near West End Av. Five more interior baths are projected, as follows: One on 1st. av., between E. 23d and E. 24th, to cost $250,000, opened in 1908; one at Rutgers and E. R., one at 83 and 85 Carmine, one at Cherry and Oliver, one at E. 54th, nr. 1st av. Appropriations are available for one or two others, but sites have not been selected.

BROOKLYN.

There are five interior baths in operation. One on Hicks, near Degraw; on Pitkin av., near Watkins; Montrose av., near Union av.; Huron, near Manhattan av. and another on Duffield, in the Navy Yard section. The cost of these five baths aggregated $454,600. The Hicks st. bath cost $60,617.20; the Pitkin av. bath, $87,850.90, and the Montrose av. bath, $95,766.80; the Huron st. bath, $104,000, and the Duffield st., or Navy Yard bath, at operation, at 4th av. and President and Hamburg and Willoughby avs. Each bath costs an average of $21,365 annually to support. The site for another bath has been purchased on Nostrand av. opposite Stockton st.

Public River Baths.

MANHATTAN.

The city supports for the use of the public free floating baths on the East and North Rivers during July, Aug. and Sept., location of which vary so much that they cannot be given definitely.

On North River: Battery, W. 19th, W. 52d, W. 82d, W. 97th, W. 137th. On East River: Market, Corlears, E. 3d, E. 17th, E. 24th, E.

31st, E. 100th, E. 112th. Total number of bathers, male and female, 2,394,219.

During the summer of 1908 the river baths were located as follows: Two baths at the Battery, one for men and one for women. One at W. 35th, one at W. 51st, one at W. 82d, one at W. 136th, one at E. 5th, one at Pike, one at Corlears and one at E. 112th.

BROOKLYN.

Open in June. Close in September. Bath No. 7, ft. of 58th; Bath No. 2, ft. of N. 1st; Bath No. 3, ft. of Noble; Bath No. 4, ft. of Conover; Bath No. 5, Dock st. During the year 1908 floating bath, No. 1, was out of commission, and bath No. 7 was borrowed from the Borough of Manhattan and located at foot of 58th, in July. The berth at Dock, which was controlled in 1907 by John Arbuckle became available in 1908, and floating bath No. 5 was put there.

Public Comfort Stations.

MANHATTAN.

Nine public comfort stations are open to the public: Battery Park, Hanover Square, City Hall Park, Chatham Square, Long Acre Square, Greeley Square, Sheriff and Delancey, 125th and Park av., Willis av., at entrance to Willis Av. Bridge. Cost, about $25,000 each.

BROOKLYN.

A sum of $128,000 was appropriated for the construction of six public comfort stations in Brooklyn, located as follows: One on Fulton, at Borough Hall (opened in Oct., 1903); B'way and Lorimer (opened in Oct., 1903); Reid av. and B'way (opened in Oct., 1903); East N. Y. and Liberty avs. (opened in Sept., 1903); Hamilton av. and Richards (opened in Sept., 1903), and at Mhnt. and Greenpoint avs. (opened in Dec., 1903). Each of the stations cost $21,000 and costs for maintenance an average of $5,079.25 each per year. The estimate of expenses was made for a particular year, and varies somewhat from year to year.

NATURALIZATION AND QUALIFICATION OF VOTERS.

Citizenship—The State and Federal statutes declare the following persons to be citizens:

All persons born in United States and not subject to any foreign power, excluding Indians not taxed.

All persons legally naturalized.

All children born out of jurisdiction of United States, whose fathers are at time of their birth citizens thereof, but the right of citizenship shall not descend to children whose fathers have never resided in the United States.

A child born in a foreign country of a mother who is a citizen of the United States is not himself a citizen by reason of his mother's citizenship. The inhabitants of Hawaii are citizens of the United States by virtue of annexation. The inhabitants of the Philippines and Porto Rico, while entitled to protection of the United States under the Constitution, cannot enjoy the privileges of citizenship until Congress sees fit to admit them to the Union as States, or organizes them under a territorial form of government.

Naturalization—The applicant for citizenship must have resided in United States for the continued term of at least 5 years next preceding his admission, and 1 year within State or Territory where the court is held that admits him. Not less than 2 nor more than 7 years before his admission he must declare, on oath or affirmation, before any court of record, with seal, of unlimited jurisdiction, of any State or Territory, or before a Circuit or District Court of the United States, his intention to become a citizen, etc. The language excludes County Courts, hitherto having jurisdiction. Any person over 18 years of age may declare intention and every person must declare intention. There is a fee of $1 for receiving and filing declaration of intention; of $2 for filing petition, and of $2 for making final order and issuing citizenship certificate. Question blanks for first or final papers may be had from court clerk.

Children of a naturalized citizen who become residents of the United States during their minority are entitled to citizenship without being naturalized.

Aliens of the age of 21 years and upward, who have enlisted in the armies of the United States, in the regular or volunteer forces, and have been honorably discharged, are entitled to become citizens upon petition, without previous declaration of intention, and are not required to prove more than 1 year's residence.

Seamen of foreign birth, who have declared intention to become citizens, may be naturalized after 3 years' service on merchant ships. Seamen of U. S. navy and U. S. marines, honorably discharged after 5 years of service, are entitled to citizenship upon presentation of discharge and affidavit of identity.

Residence—A residence once acquired continues to be the residence of a person until he absents himself therefrom and locates in another place with the intention of there remaining. For the purpose of voting, no person has gained or lost a residence by reason of his presence or absence while in the employ of the United States; nor while engaged in the navigation of the waters of the United States, or the high seas; nor while a student in any seminary of learning; nor while kept in an almshouse or institution wholly or partly supported at public expense or by charity, nor while confined in any public prison.

Only free white persons and those of African descent may be naturalized.

Qualifications of Voters—Every male citizen 21 years old is entitled to vote if he shall be on or before the day of election a citizen of the United States 90 days, a resident of the State 1 year, a resident of the county 4 months, a resident of the election district 30 days. A person otherwise qualified whose birthright is on the day following election is entitled to vote. A minor who has been convicted of felony and has served out his term during his minority is not entitled to vote on becoming of age.

UNITED STATES CIVIL SERVICE.

Officers—Three commissioners are appointed by the President to assist him in classifying the government offices and positions, formulating rules and enforcing the law. Their office is in Washington, D. C. The chief examiner is appointed by the commissioners to secure accuracy, uniformity and justice in the proceedings of the examining boards. The secretary to the commission is appointed by the President.

General Rules—The fundamental rules governing appointments to government positions are found in the civil service act itself. Based upon these are many other regulations formulated by the commission and promulgated by the President from time to time as new contingencies arise. The present rules were approved March 20, 1903, and went into effect April 15, 1903. In a general way they require that there must be free, open examinations of applicants for positions in the public service; that appointments shall be made from those graded highest in the examinations; that appointments to the service in Washington shall be apportioned among the states and territories according to population; that there shall be a period (six months) of probation before any absolute appointment is made; that no person in the public service is for that reason obliged to contribute to any political fund or is subject to dismissal for refusing to so contribute; that no person in the public service has any right to use his official authority or influence to coerce the political action of any person. Applicants for positions shall not be questioned as to their political or religious beliefs and no discrimination shall be exercised against or in favor of any applicant or employee on account of his religion or politics. The classified civil service shall include all officers and employees in the executive civil service of the United States except laborers and persons whose appointments are subject to confirmation by the Senate.

Examinations—These are conducted by boards of examiners chosen from among persons in government employ and are held twice a year in all the states and territories at convenient places. They can always be learned of by applying to the commission or to the nearest post office or custom house. Those who desire to take examination are advised to write to the commission in Washington for the "Manual of Examinations," which is sent free to all applicants. It is revised semi-annually to Jan. 1 and July 1. The January edition contains a schedule of the spring examinations and the July edition contains a schedule of the fall examinations. Full information is given as to the methods and rules governing examinations, manner of making application, qualifications required, regulations for rating examination papers, certification for and chances of appointment, and as far as possible it outlines the scope of the different subjects of general and technical examinations. These are practical in character and are designed to test the relative capacity and fitness to discharge the duties to be performed. It is necessary to obtain an average percentage of 70 to be eligible for appointment, except that applicants entitled to preference because of honorable discharge from the military or naval service for disability resulting from wounds or sickness incurred in the line of duty need obtain but 65 per cent. The period of eligibility is one year.

Qualifications of Applicants—No person will be examined who is not a citizen of the United States; who is not within the age limitations prescribed; who is physically disqualified for the service; who he seeks; who has been guilty of criminal, infamous, dishonest or disgraceful conduct; who has been dismissed from the public service for delinquency and misconduct or has failed to receive absolute appointment after probation; who is addicted to the habitual use of intoxicating liquors to excess, or who has made a false statement in his application. The age limitations in the more important branches of the public service are: Post office, 18 to 45 years; rural letter carriers, 17 to 55; internal revenue, 21 years and over; railway mail, 18 to 35; lighthouse, 18 to 50; life saving, 18 to 45; general departmental, 20 and over. These age limitations are subject to change by the commission. They do not apply to applicants of the preferred class. Applicants for the position of railway mail clerk must be at least 5 feet 6 inches in height, exclusive of boots or shoes, and weigh not less than 135 pounds in ordinary clothing and have no physical defects. Applicants for certain other positions have to come up to similar physical requirements.

Method of Appointment—Whenever a vacancy exists the appointing officer makes requisition upon the civil service commission for a certification of names to fill the vacancy, specifying the kind of position vacant, the sex desired and the salary. The commission thereupon takes from the proper register of eligibles the names of three persons standing highest of the sex called for and certifies them to the appointing officer, who is required to make the selection. He may choose any one of the three names, returning the other two to the register to await further certification. The time of examination is not considered, as the highest in average percentage on the register must be certified first.

Removals—No person can be removed from a competitive position except for such cause as will promote the efficiency of the public service and for reasons given in writing. No examination of witnesses nor any trial shall be required except in the discretion of the officer making the removal.

Salaries—Entrance to the departmental service is usually in the lowest grades, the higher grades being generally filled by promotion. The usual entrance grade is about $900, but the applicant may be appointed at $840, $760 or even $600.

The Fulton Centennial.

In connection with the Hudson Tercentenary it has been proposed to celebrate the success of Fulton's steamboat by holding a novel international exhibition on the waters where he floated it, when the centennial of the event occurs, in September, 1909. The suggestion is to bring together from all parts of the world examples of naval architecture, of every description, and to illustrate, practically, the history of navigation from the earliest times. To that end it is desired to have models of the early coracles, canoes, catamarans, the Roman galleys, the Spanish caravels, the ships in which Drake and Van Tromp swept the seas, the three-deck frigates, the whalers, the monitors, the modern battleships, submarines and ocean liners. Most of the exhibits would lie at anchor off the New York shore, in the upper part of the city, while buildings erected on the land adjoining could be used for the display of engines, guns, historical relics, the various implements and materials of use in sea service, and works of art representing that service. Mayor McClellan has appointed a committee to advance the exhibition, and the Board of Trade and other commercial organizations have shown a lively interest.

RULES GOVERNING THE ISSUE OF PASSPORTS.

1. By whom issued.—By the Secretary of State, Washington, D. C., only, and he may refuse them at his discretion. The law forbids granting of a passport to any person not a citizen of the United States, or loyal resident of an insular possession of the United States. A person who has declared his intention to become a citizen is entitled to a conditional passport. A citizen abroad must procure them through the nearest diplomatic consular officer. If in Porto Rico or the Philippines, he must apply to the Chief Executive of those islands.

2. Fee.—One dollar in currency. Checks or drafts will not be accepted.

3. Applications.—Must be written in form of an affidavit, signed by the applicant and attested by an officer who can administer oaths, with official seal or authenticated certificate of authority affixed; must state date and place of birth, occupation, place of residence, where the applicant intends to travel, how long, when he will return, age, stature, description of forehead, eyes, nose, mouth, chin, hair, complexion, face, and must be signed by at least one credible witness. This will be sufficient evidence in case of native citizens.

In addition to Rule 3:

4. A person of the Chinese race, alleging birth in the United States, must support his claim by at least two witnesses.

5. A person born abroad, whose father was a native citizen of United States—Application must show that his father was born and resided in U. S. and was a citizen at time of applicant's birth.

6. Naturalized citizens.—A naturalized citizen must transmit certificate of naturalization, or certified copy of court record thereof, with application. He must state when and from what port he emigrated, in what ship he sailed, where he has lived since arrival, when and before what court he was naturalized.

7. Woman's application.—If unmarried, she must state she has never been married. If wife of native citizen, it should so appear in application. If wife or widow of a naturalized citizen, she must transmit for inspection her husband's certificate of naturalization, state that she is the wife (or widow) of person described therein, and set forth facts of his emigration, naturalization and residence. Her citizenship follows that of her husband.

8. The child of a naturalized citizen claiming citizenship through the naturalization of the parent.—An applicant must state that he or she is son or daughter of person described in certificate of naturalization, which must be submitted for inspection, and set forth facts of emigration, naturalization and residence.

9. Resident of an insular possession who owes allegiance to the United States—Applicant must state he owes allegiance to United States and to no other government, have affidavits from two credible witnesses having knowledge of his statements.

10. Expiration of passport.—A passport expires in two years. A new one will be issued upon a new application, and, if naturalized citizen, the old passport will be accepted in lieu of a certificate of naturalization.

11. Wife, minor children and servants.—When applicant is accompanied by wife, minor children, or servants, who is an American citizen, it will be sufficient to state the fact, giving the respective ages of the children and the allegiance of the servant, when one passport will suffice for all. A woman's passport may include her minor children and servant.

12. Passports are not required in the Argentine Republic, Belgium, Bolivia, Brazil, Chile, Colombia, Costa Rica, Denmark and possessions, Great Britain and possessions, Guatemala, Honduras, Japan, Liberia, Mexico, Nicaragua, Norway, Paraguay, Peru, Portugal and possessions, Salvador, Sweden and Uruguay.

Vizes of passports will not be procured by Dept. of State from representatives of foreign governments.

Communications should be addressed to the Dept. of State, Passport Bureau, Washington, D. C.

UNITED STATES REVENUE CUTTER SERVICE.

The Revenue Cutter Service was founded by Alexander Hamilton in 1790, several years prior to the establishment of the regular Navy. It is under the Treasury Department. It enforces the navigation, customs, quarantine and neutrality laws of the United States. Its vessels patrol the coasts in winter and lend aid to vessels in distress. In war the service becomes a part of the naval establishment. Its officers are on an equal footing, in rank and pay, with officers of the Army and Navy. Appointments to cadetships are made after competitive examinations conducted by boards of commissioned officers of the Revenue Cutter Service. Cadets are educated at the School of Instruction at South Baltimore, Md. The course covers three years and embraces professional and academic subjects. Candidates for cadetships must be not less than 18, nor more than 24 years of age, citizens of the United States and unmarried. A class of cadets is appointed each year.

Appointments as cadet-engineer are made after competitive examinations conducted by boards of engineer officers of the service. Candidates for cadetengineer must be not less than 20½ years of age and must serve a probationary term of not less than six months before being commissioned third lieutenant of engineers. No person can be commissioned third lieutenant of engineers who is less than 21 or more than 26 years of age. This branch of the government is under the charge of a captain-commandant, who is Chief of Division of Revenue Cutter Service. Captain-Commandant Worth G. Ross is the present incumbent. Headquarters are at the Treasury Department, Washington, D. C. Following is a list of vessels in the service, their class, guns and stations:

In the service are 222 commissioned officers and cadets on the active list and 1,500 petty officers and enlisted men. The officers are: 1 captain commandant, 6 senior captains, 31 captains, 37 1st lieutenants, 42 2d lieutenants, 42 3d lieutenants, 41 cadets of the line, 1 engineer-in-chief, 6 captains of engineers, 28 1st lieutenants of engineers, 22 2d lieutenants of engineers, 24 3d lieutenants of engineers, 9 cadet engineers and 2 constructors.

Battleships Painted Gray.

The battleship New Hampshire has been painted slate gray, it being one of the first to abandon the color associated with the U. S. Navy since the days of the white squadron. According to information from the Navy Yard the color of the battle fleet will not be changed until it gets back to New York. The change of color is due to a recent order sent out by the Navy Dept. The slate color will reduce the paint bill of the navy by a considerable amount and the vessels won't make nearly as good targets. Great stress is laid upon the cost, as the present white uniform is very expensive and does not keep clean very long at coaling times. Work of changing the color of all the battleships of the third squadron, better known as the North Atlantic fleet, will soon start. The Pacific fleet will receive its coat when the vessels return to the Pacific coast next spring from its South American cruise. The torpedo boats will keep their bottle green. Auxiliaries on duty with the battleships will be painted slate gray, but those on separate duty will not.

UNITED STATES ARMY.

On Aug. 15, 1903, the system of military control in the Army was reorganized under the provisions of the General Staff Act, approved Feb. 14, 1903. This act abolished the separate office of General Commanding the Army, provided for a military Chief of Staff to the President, who, acting under the directions of the President, or of the Secretary of War representing him, should have supervision not only of all troops of the line, but of the special staff and supply departments which had theretofore reported directly to the Secretary of War; and it created for the assistance of the Chief of Staff a corps of 44 officers, who were relieved from all other duties. The function of this new corps is described by the statute in the following words:

Sec. 2. That the duties of the General Staff Corps shall be to prepare plans for the national defense and for the mobilization of the military forces in time of war; to investigate and report upon all questions affecting the efficiency of the Army and its state of preparation for military operations; to render professional aid and assistance to the Secretary of War and to general officers and other superior commanders, and to act as their agents in informing and co-ordinating the action of all the different officers who are subject, under the terms of this act, to the supervision of the Chief of Staff, and to perform such other military duties not otherwise assigned by law as may be from time to time prescribed by the President. (See also Dept. of War in U. S. Govt. Chap.)

Military Academy, West Point, N. Y.

Each Congressional district and Territory—the District of Columbia and also Porto Rico—is entitled to have one cadet at the Academy. Each State is also entitled to have two cadets from the State at large, and 40 are allowed from the U. S. at large. The appointment from a Congressional district is made upon the recommendation of the Congressman from that district, and those from a State at large upon the recommendations of the Senators of the State. Similarly the appointment from a territory is made upon the recommendation of the delegate in Congress. Each person appointed must be an actual resident of the State, district or territory from which the appointment is made. The appointments from the U. S. at large, from the District of Columbia and for Porto Rico are made by the President of the U. S. upon his own selection. The appointment of the cadet from Porto Rico is made by the President on the recommendation of the resident commissioner. Applications may be made at any time, by letter to the Adjutant General, U. S. Army, Washington, D. C., to have the name of the applicant placed upon the register that it may be furnished to the proper Senator, Representative or delegate, when a vacancy occurs. The application must exhibit the full name, date of birth and permanent abode of the applicant, with the number of the Congressional district in which his residence is situated. Appointments are required by law to be made one year in advance of the date of admission, except in cases where, by reason of death or other cause, a vacancy occurs which cannot be provided for by such appointment in advance. These vacancies are filled in time for the next examination. For each candidate appointed there may be nominated two alternates. The principal and each alternate will receive from the War Dept. a letter of appointment, and must appear for examination at the time and place therein designated; those previously accepted by Academic Board on certificate or mentally qualified, appearing for physical examination only. Should the principal and alternates not qualify for admission they will still be entitled to appear for the examination, but if the principal fails to appear for that examination, or, appearing, fails to qualify, then the qualifications of the alternates will be considered, and if only one has met the requirements he will be admitted; if both alternates have met the requirements, the better qualified will be admitted. Immediately after reporting to the Supt. for admission, the candidate must sign an engagement for service for 8 years, unless sooner discharged by proper authority. He shall also swear to support the Constitution of the U. S. and bear true allegiance to the National Govt.

The alternates, like the principal, should be designated as nearly one year in advance of the date of admission as possible. Candidates selected for appointment shall appear for mental and physical examination before boards of army officers to be convened at such places as the War Department may select, on the first of May annually, except when that day comes on a Sunday, in which case the examination shall commence on the following Tuesday. Candidates who pass successfully will be admitted to the Academy without further examination upon reporting in person to the Supt. at West Point before 12 o'clock noon the 15th day of June of the same year.

Any cadet who has gone through all the classes may be commissioned as second lieutenant in any corps in which there may be a vacancy. Pending such vacancy, the President, at his discretion, may cause such promotion, subject to the usual pay and allowances.

No appointed candidate shall be admitted who is under 17 or over 22 yrs. of age, or who is deformed or afflicted with any disease or infirmity which would render him unfit for the military service, or who has, at the time of presenting himself, any disorder of an infectious or immoral character. Accepted candidates, if bet. 17 and 18 yrs. of age, should not fall below 5 ft. 3 in. in height and 100 lbs. in weight; if bet. 18 and 19 yrs., 5 ft. 3½ in. in height and 105 lbs in weight; if over 19, 5 ft. 4 in. in height and 110 lbs. in weight. Candidates must be unmarried. Each candidate must, on reporting at West Point, present a certificate showing successful vaccination within 1 yr.; or a certificate of two vaccinations, made at least a month apart, within 3 months.

NATIONAL CONSERVATION COMMISSION.

The National Conservation Commission was appointed by President Roosevelt on June 8, 1898, following a suggestion made by the Conference of Governors at the White House in May. The duties assigned to the Commission by the President were: First, to inquire into and advise him as to the condition of the country's natural resources, in order that he might have the information upon which to base recommendations to Congress, and, second, in co-operation with State Conservation Commission to prepare a comprehensive plan "to prevent destruction, reduce waste and distribute the enjoyment of our natural wealth in such a way as to promote the greatest good of the greatest number for the longest time." The membership of the National Conservation Commission is made up of U. S. Senators and Representatives, officials in the government service whose duties lie along the lines of the subjects which the Commission is studying, and others who are particularly conversant with various phases of the work and who were willing to contribute their services. The Commission is divided into four sections to consider the four great classes of natural resources—waters, forests, lands and minerals. The chairman of each section is a Senator or Representative and the secretary is an expert in one of the executive departments, who is an authority on the phase of the movement which his section has charge of. The Inland Waters Commission was enlarged in membership and scope by the President, and became the Section of Waters of the National Conservation Commission. The chairman of the National Conservation Commission is Gifford Pinchot, Chief of the U. S. Forest Service; the secretary is Thomas R. Shipp, also of the Forest Service. The chairmen and secretaries of the sections compose the Executive Committee of the Commission. The Commission is organized as follows:

Waters—T. E. Burton, Ohio, Ch.; W. J. McGee, Bureau Soils, Sec. Forests—R. Smoot, Utah, Ch.; O. W. Price, Forest Service, Sec. Lands—Knute Nelson, Minn., Ch.; G. W. Woodruff, Interior Department, Sec. Minerals—John Dalzell, Penn., Ch.; J. A. Holmes, Geological Survey, Sec.

The Commission on Country Life was appointed by President Roosevelt on August 10, 1898. Its purposes he outlined as follows: "To ascertain what are the general economic, social, educational and sanitary conditions of the open country, and what, if anything, the farmers themselves can do to help themselves, and how the government can help them." The immediate purpose of the President in appointing the Commission was to gain from them information and advice which would enable him to make recommendations to Congress. The Commission on Country Life, in its investigations, was not directly concerned with agricultural methods, nor the productivity of farms.

The Commission carried on its inquiries and investigations in two ways—by correspondence and by personal visits to all rural portions of the United States. Besides the immense number of letters containing suggestions which were sent to the Commission by residents of the open country on their own initiative, the Commission mailed several hundred thousand circulars of inquiry. The answers to the questions in these circulars were analyzed, classified and arranged, giving a condensed and comprehensive consensus of the opinions of farmers as to what are the chief rural problems and what are the remedies for evils and deficiencies. The Commission supplemented and enlarged the information gained in this way by tours to all parts of the United States, holding conferences at which the farmers discussed with the Commissioners the situation in their own particular districts. After this the Commission formulated the data for its report, Prof. L. H. Bailey, N. Y. State College of Agriculture, Ithaca, N. Y., is Chairman of the Commission.

UNITED STATES NAVY.

(See also Dept. of Navy in U. S. Govt. chap.)

The origin of the Navy Dept. may be said to date from Oct. 13, 1775, when Congress authorized the equipment of two cruisers, mounting respectively 10 and 14 guns. Before the end of that year 15 more vessels of from 20 to 36 guns were authorized. The affairs of the Navy were at that time entrusted to a "Marine Committee." In 1798 the present department was formally created and Benjamin Stoddart appointed the first secretary.

The active list of the Navy comprises 2,062 commissioned and 603 warrant officers on the active list, and 633 commissioned and 152 warrant officers on the retired list. The enlisted strength allowed by law is 44,500 men and apprentice seamen.

The United States Marine Corps consists of a force of 262 officers and 9,224 men. Major General George P. Elliott is commandant.

The actual strength of the personnel of the Navy on Oct. 1, 1908, was 2,665 officers and 42,115 enlisted men—total, 44,780. There were lost to the Navy during the year ended June 30, 1908, 187 officers and 16,457 enlisted men. Of the officers 12 were killed in action or died from wounds or disease. Of the men 204 were killed in action or died from wounds or disease, the remainder representing men discharged at expiration of term of service, for disability, by sentence of court martial, desertions and retirements. In the Marine Corps on Oct. 1, 1908, there were 262 officers and 9,224 enlisted men. The corps lost 9 officers and 4,462 enlisted men during the year ended June 30, 1908.

BROOKLYN NAVY YARD.

The Brooklyn Navy Yard was established Feb. 23, 1801, when the first land, 23 acres, was bought from John Jackson for $40,000. It now comprises 144 acres, situated on Wallabout Channel of the East River, and has a water front of nearly 3 miles, protected by a sea wall of granite.

The Navy Yard is open daily, except Sundays and holidays, from 8 A.M. to 5 P.M., when any one may enter and inspect the place. Passes to visit the yard are not necessary, but can be obtained by letter, addressed to the "Captain of the Yard." Permission to visit the ships must be obtained from their commanding officers. A pass is necessary on Sundays and holidays.

OFFICER OF THE SUPERVISOR OF NAVAL AUXILIARIES.

Building No. 126 (Temporary Quarters.) Supervisor, Capt. E. B. Barry. Assist. Supervisor, Commander D. C. Redgrave.

This office was originally an adjunct of the Bureau of Navigation in Washington. Early in the year 1907 it was moved to Baltimore, and in October of the same year, transferred to New York, with quarters in the new Custom House. It was crowded out of the Custom House in October of 1908, and because no specific sum had been appropriated to cover office rent, it was transferred to the navy yard, where it will remain until such appropriation is made.

The navy yard location is not suited to its purposes, as it operates under the merchant marine laws, and its offices should be in the vicinity of the Battery where the shipping interests are congregated.

Capt. Barry is scheduled for promotion to the grade of rear admiral on February 2, 1909, and will probably be relieved and sent to sea.

This office controls all of the sixteen naval colliers, those supply ships that are commanded by civilian captains, and has jurisdiction, for inspection purposes only, over naval transports and supply ships that are commanded by commissioned officers of the navy.

Naval Academy, Annapolis, Md.

The students of the Naval Academy are styled midshipmen. Two are allowed for each Senator, Representative and Delegate in Congress, two for District of Columbia and five each year from United States at large. The appointments from District of Columbia and five each at large are made by the President. One is allowed from Porto Rico, who must be a native of that island. The appointment is made by the President on recommendation of the Gov. of Porto Rico. The Congressional appointments are equitably distributed, so that in regular course each Senator, Representative and Delegate in Congress may appoint one during each Congress. After June 30, 1913, each Senator, Representative and Delegate in Congress will be allowed to appoint but one midshipman instead of two.

The course for midshipmen is 6 years—4 at the Academy and 2 years at sea, at the expiration of which time examination for final graduation takes place.

Certificates from colleges and high schools will not be accepted in lieu of the entrance examinations at the Naval Academy; all candidates must take the prescribed mental and physical examination before being admitted.

Midshipmen who pass the examination for final graduation are appointed to fill vacancies in the lower grades of the line of the Navy and of the Marine Corps in order of merit.

"The Sec. of the Navy shall as soon as practicable after the 5th day of March in each year notify in writing each Senator, Representative and Delegate in Congress of any vacancy which may be regarded as existing in the State, District or Territory which he represents, and the nomination of a candidate to fill such vacancy shall be made upon the recommendation of the Senator, Representative or Delegate. Such recommendation shall be made by June 1 of that year, and if not so made the Sec. of the Navy shall fill the vacancy by the appointment of an actual resident of the State, District or Territory in which the vacancy exists, who shall have been for at least 2 years immediately preceding his appointment an actual bona fide resident of the State, District or Territory in which the vacancy exists, and shall have the qualifications otherwise prescribed by law. And provided further, that the Supt. of the Naval Academy shall make such rules, to be approved by the Sec. of the Navy, as will effectually prevent the practice of hazling; and any midshipman found guilty of participating in or encouraging or countenancing such practice shall be summarily expelled from the Academy, and shall not thereafter be re-appointed to the Corps of Midshipmen or be eligible for appointment as a commissioned officer in the Army or Navy or Marine Corps until 2 years after the graduation of the class of which he was a member."—(Act approved March 4, 1903.)

Candidates allowed for Congressional Districts, for Territories and for the District of Columbia must be actual residents of the Districts or Territories, respectively, from which they are nominated. All candidates must, at the time of their examination for admission, be between the ages of 16 and 20 years. A candidate is eligible for appointment on the day he becomes 16 and is ineligible on the day he becomes 20 yrs. of age. The pay of a midshipman is $600 a year while at the Academy and $1,400 a year during the two years cruise at sea, pay commencing at admission. Supt., Rear Admiral Jas. H. Sands, Naval Academy, Annapolis, Md.

There are two preparatory schools in Annapolis for candidates for entrance into the U. S. Naval Academy—one conducted by Prof. J. R. Wilmer, the other by Prof. R. L. Wertz, both of Annapolis.

NOTES.

Officers of the retired list receive three-fourths of the pay (salary and increase) of their rank.

except in a few special cases. During a period of 12 years from June 7, 1900, any officer on retired list may be ordered to such duty as he may be able to perform, and shall receive pay of an officer of active list of the grade from which he retired.

Allowances—The monthly commutation allowance for quarters of the Admiral of the Navy is $125. All other commissioned officers of the line and Medical and Pay Corps of the Navy, and officers of Marine Corps receive same allowances, except forage to naval officers, as are or may be provided by law for the officers of corresponding rank in the Army. When quarters in kind are not supplied, commutation is allowed at the rate of $12 month per room.

Boatswains, gunners, carpenters, sailmakers, warrant machinists, pharmacists and mates receive the same commutation for quarters as second lieutenants of the Marine Corps.

The pay of officers serving at sea and on shore beyond the continental limits of the United States is increased 10 per cent., and pay of enlisted men of the Marine Corps serving on shore is increased 20 per cent. above regular rates of pay exclusive of longevity additions, to be computed from and including May 26, 1900.

UNITED STATES NAVAL ENLISTMENT.

The terms of enlistment of all enlisted men of the Navy is four years. Minors over the age of 18 may be enlisted without consent of parents or guardians, but minors under, but claiming to be over 18 years of age, are liable, if enlisted, to punishment for fraudulent enlistment. Only such persons shall be enlisted as can reasonably be expected to remain in the service. Every person, before being enlisted, must pass the physical examination prescribed in the medical instructions. Applicants for enlistment must be American citizens, able to read and write English, and when enlisted must take the oath of allegiance. No person under the age of 17 can be enlisted.

UNITED STATES VOLUNTEER LIFE SAVING CORPS.

Incorporated and organized in most of the states. National headquarters, 63-65 Park Row, N. Y. City. Officers: James R. Howe, Pres.; Ernest H. Luebbers, Jr., Sec.; K. F. Mehrtens, Asst. Sec.; Wm. P. Jackson, Treas. Ex. Com. of Consulting Board: Commodore Geo. A. Thormann, Ch.; Commodore Aug. G. Miller and Commodore Henry Spitzer. There are 2,000 patrolled stations and 22,000 enlisted and enrolled members, with about 6,000 boats, from dories to expensive sail, steam, naphtha and gasoline launches, dedicated to the service. The Corps is organized in New York State, Massachusetts, Connecticut, New Jersey, Maryland, District of Columbia, Pennsylvania, Kentucky and other states as far West as California. It has saved in the Greater City, approximately, 255 lives; rendered "first aid" in 302 cases; assisted 277 people on the water, and assisted 88 boats in distress; has given free instruction in swimming in both male and female departments of all public free baths of New York City, 1,700 persons having been taught during the season 1905. It has bought or built 10 life-saving stations and one dock; placed 36 life boats throughout the Greater City. There are furnished the various crews, free of charge, according to the funds available for the various districts and departments, ring life preservers, metallic life preservers, ice balls, medicine chests, flags, enamel signs, charts and boats and life-saving stations are built at the most dangerous points. The Corps is supported wholly by voluntary contributions, with the exception of the departments of New York City and Rhode Island. New York City is especially well organized, having 16 commodores' districts and 48 vice commodores' districts, containing 700 patrolled stations, with 7,200 members and 1,200 boats dedicated to its life-saving work.

THE BALKAN SITUATION.

The Treaty of Berlin, which was recently ruptured by the proclamation of Prince Ferdinand at Bulgaria's ancient capital of Tirnovo, and which may be completely rearranged by a congress of the powers, was the result of the interference of those powers with the terms of the Russo-Turkish agreement signed at San Stefano, March 3, 1878, as the outcome of the Russo-Turkish war. On the invitation of Prince Bismarck, Germany's Imperial Chancellor, delegates of the interested powers met in Berlin in the following June and July, and considerably modified the Russo-Turkish agreement, as follows:

The independence of Roumania, Servia and Montenegro was recognized, while Eastern Roumelia received administration autonomy and a Christian Governor but remained under the control of Turkey. A gradual extension of the Greek frontier also (this was carried out in 1881) was promised the Athenian government, and Bosnia and Herzegovina were placed under the practical administrative control of Austria-Hungary, though their population is distinctively Servian in race and instincts. Roumania returned to Russia the Bessarabian territory taken from her by the treaty of Paris and received a quid pro quo in the shape of Dobruja, and Turkey ceded to Russia Ardahan, Kars and Batum. Great Britain, whose interests were in the hands of Lord Beaconsfield and Salisbury, managed to establish herself at Cyprus. Finally the principality of Bulgaria was created and constituted an autonomous and tributary State under the suzerainty of the Sultan. Its ruler was to be elected by the population and confirmed by the Sultan with consent of the powers.

The first prince was Alexander of Battenburg, who ruled from 1879 until 1887. He is said to have stimulated the overthrow of the government of Eastern Roumelia in 1885, which at once caused representatives of the powers to reassemble in Constantinople, with the result that the Porte retained only the two Mussulman districts of Kirjali and Rupchus, while Bulgaria got the rest. Next, Alexander made war on Servia, and would undoubtedly have absorbed that kingdom had he not been stopped by Austria, which, by Treaty of Bucharest, re-established the status quo.

Next Russia took a hand in the game, and the Czar's secret agents fomented a conspiracy. On the night of Aug. 21, 1886, Alexander was secretly lured to Reni, in Russian territory, and there made to abdicate. A revolution headed by Stambouloff then President of the Parliament, overthrew the Provisional Government which obtained while Russia was trying to gather the powers together for a new congress, and Alexander returned, but practically a Russian vassal. His unfortunate pledges to Russia made him useless to the revolutionary party, and less than a month later, he formally resigned the government into the hands of a regency, presided over by Stambouloff.

Parliament on July 7, 1887, elected Prince Ferdinand of Cemburg, who appointed Stambouloff as his Prime Minister. Under these two the country made rapid progress, although conspiracies inspired by Russian agents continued to come to light, and in one of these Stambouloff met his death. It was not until twelve years ago that Russia decided to recognize Ferdinand as the reigning Prince of Bulgaria, and on Feb. 14, 1896, his heir, Prince Boris, was received into the Orthodox Greek Church.

Early in the present century Prince Ferdinand began a campaign to raise the political standard of the Balkans by proposing a union of the States whose independence had been confirmed by the Berlin Congress. These plans failing, he turned attention to Macedonia, whose heterogeneous population offered a fine field for discord. His secret aim was to free Macedonia from Turkish rule and in the resulting chaos make his own principality independent.

With this object in view Bulgarian agents played off the Greek inhabitants of Macedonia against the Turks, and vice versa, the Turks against the Jews, the Bulgars against the Greeks, etc. Every Spring, from 1901 until 1904, Bulgarian officers on leave of absence entered Macedonia and there led expeditions against the Turkish authorities. The situation thus became intolerable for Turkey. At length the Porte appealed to the powers. Bulgaria promised to prevent "brigands and revolutionists" from crossing the border, while an international gendarmerie scheme was devised by the powers and executed with more or less success by Turkey.

The proclamation of the Turkish Constitution and the subsequent confusion in Turkish political circles has given the Bulgarian government a long awaited opportunity which may eventually result in a deplorable war among all the various states interested.

VENEZUELA'S TROUBLES.

Ever since Venezuela seceded from Spain, in 1829, and became an independent republic under the leadership of Paez, dissension and revolutionary strife has been almost continuous excepting during the presidency of Blanco (1870-89). An important dispute was that with Great Britain regarding boundaries of British Guiana. After much arbitration, in which the United States took part, the British government signed a treaty with Venezuela in 1897 fixing the boundary according to the Schomburgk line. Although the government was now free of foreign interference an insurrection soon followed, which, led by Gen. Castro, was successful. From the sheepherder to the Presidency is a long step, only attempted by few. In 1902 the last of the insurrections was put down. Then quickly followed claims of France, Great Britain, Germany and Italy, for loans. The French claims were settled, while the other countries joined in a blockade of the ports of Venezuela, subsequently receiving settlement of their claims. From 1902 until the last year insurrections and troubles constantly kept Venezuela before the world. The situation between the Netherlands and Venezuela was acute. Castro expelled the Minister of the Netherlands, causing strained relations, resulting in Holland sending battleships to the Caribbean sea and capturing two of Venezuela's ships. With Castro in Europe, rioting was rife and his enemies gaining courage by his absence deposed him. While he was able to quell revolutionary plots before, his hold on the people was gradually weakened; their complaint being against government monopolies, which were a burden to the people, as the revenue from them accrued to the personal use of Castro. In view of the resentment against him, his leaving the country at such a critical moment makes it a question whether he will ever return to Venezuela.

HAYTIAN REVOLUTION.

For months the uprising in Hayti has been prominently before the country, resulting in political suspects being shot and a general reign of terror existing. On Nov. 21, 1908, official notification was given of the blockade of the port of Aux Cayes, where Gen. Antoine Simon was said to be directing the movement against the government. On Dec. 1 the American cruiser Des Moines arrived at Port au Prince to protect property of Americans from the lawless element. Gen. Leconte, who was thought to have been killed arrived at that city on Nov. 27, and resumed his duties.

On Dec. 4 Gen. Simon and troops entered Port au Prince receiving an ovation from the people. Generals Salvador, Firmin, Celestine, Fouchard and Leconte are all aspirants to the presidency and a lively scramble for the presidential seat is anticipated. The general situation on this date is more orderly than for some time. The regular elections will be held in May, 1909, but in view of the revolution and the flight of Pres. Nord Alexis, the Haytian Congress, on December 14 elected Antoine Simon to be President.

THE INTERNATIONAL LANGUAGES.

An artificial language falls into two classes: those made a priori, i. e., without reference to the vocabularies of living languages, resembling, to some extent, certain cable-codes, of which Volapuk is the best known example to-day; (2), those made a posteriori, i. e., based on the vocabularies of living languages (only civilized European languages are understood under this heading), of which Esperanto, Idiom Neutral, Novlatin, Universal, "Ilo" are the best known representatives. Some of these languages, such as Esperanto, are partly a priori, partly a posteriori. Practically all the artificial languages invented within the last quarter of a century are a posteriori, being based on living European languages, and a curious proof of the evolution of the universal speech is the fact that more than 75 per cent. of their vocabulary is exactly identical, most of them recognizing the principle of the "maximum of internationality," i. e., that the root-word selected to represent a given idea must be common to the European languages. For instance, the word for theater, "teatro," is found in every civilized language in a more or less similar form. Esperanto being the language now most widely spread, in view of Volapuk having failed because of its intrinsic defects, a general idea of its principles might be deemed necessary.

Esperanto, the invention of Dr. L. Zamenhof of Warsaw (1887), is an artificial language resembling, to some extent, a Latin dialect, but also containing words of Anglo-German origin, as well as a large percentage of frequently occurring "arbitrary" words, i. e., words not borrowed from or resembling living languages. (Its pronunciation is phonetic.) Esperanto owes its success to the comparative facility with which it can be mastered, chiefly due to its excellent grammar and system of prefixes and suffixes, by means of which its rather limited vocabulary is considerably amplified.

Now as to the origin of "Ilo." The Delegation for the Adoption of an Auxiliary International Language, founded in 1901, having received the adhesion of 310 societies of all countries and the approval of 1,250 members of academies and universities, elected in 1907 an international committee, consisting of eminent scientists, Esperantists and linguists (among whom might be mentioned Professors Ostwald, Jespersen, Couturat; Stead, of the Review of Reviews; Marquis L. de Beaufort, and many others), who, after examining all past and present schemes for an international language, adopted Esperanto with a few alterations, so calculated as to preserve the principles and essential qualities of the language of Dr. Zamenhof, while applying these principles more consistently and doing away with unnecessary complications. The following are the chief alterations effected:

Suppression of all accented letters (making it possible to print the language anywhere, while preserving phonetic spelling and often restoring the international orthography); suppression of adjectival declension and accusative (very troublesome for most nations, and chiefly for those with little knowledge of grammar); regularization of word-building (thus preventing the influx of national idioms and giving a solid basis to the scientific and technical vocabulary, without which the international language cannot obtain a foothold in the world of science); enrichment of the vocabulary by adoption of new roots selected according to the principle of "the maximum of internationality," i. e., roots found in most European languages; rejection of all arbitrary forms, unpronounceable sounds, etc.

The international language offers an immediate advantage by laying open to its possessor the whole world. It breaks down the barriers of speech and procures for one in every land a multitude of persons who understand one's language and are ready to exchange ideas and services with him. If one wishes to correspond with people of different nations, with whose language he is not conversant, for the purpose of commerce, science, information or amusement—this can be easily accomplished by the help of the "Linguo Internacione." Where travelers of different nations may only with difficulty understand each other by means of a few written Latin words, the pronunciation of Latin being different with different nations, with the International Language they would be able to speak together and help one another.

The Esperanto Association of North America.

President, Col. George Harvey, President of Harper & Bros., New York City, N. Y.; Secretary, Mr. Edwin C. Reed, 3851 Langley av., Chicago, Ill.; chairman of the Executive Committee, Prof. Benedict Papot, 1033 Jackson Boulevard, Chicago, Ill.

The United States and Canada are divided into eleven grand divisions, ten being in the United States, the eleventh, the Dominion of Canada; each of the ten divisions in the United States is supposed to have about the same population, and is presided over by a member of the Grand Council of the Esperanto Association of North America, who is called the "Councilor" of the Division.

New York Division of the Esperanto Association of North America: Henry D. King, Councilor, 287 DeKalb av., Brooklyn, N. Y. All information about the movement generally, about the organization of clubs, about courses of study, teachers, literature, and all general information should be secured from the Councilor for the division.

LOCAL CLUBS.

Brooklyn Esperanto Society—Durbin Van Vleck, President, 154 Hancock st., Brooklyn, N. Y.; Mrs. Henry D. King, Secretary and Treasurer, 287 DeKalb av., Brooklyn. (Meets every Monday at 8 o'clock, P. M. at 154 Hancock st., beginners and conversation classes, all literature and magazines, etc.—instruction free to members—private teachers furnished to those who do not wish to enter the regular classes; visitors made welcome.)

Manhattan Esperanto Society—President, Mr. Henry James Forman; Secretary, Richard G. Stock, P. O. Box 53, Madison Square Station Post Office. Meets every Friday at 8 o'clock P. M. at 130 West 104th st., New York City.

The New York Ilo Society.

Nearly all the members of the New York Esperanto Society (Incorporated), the pioneer group for the propagation of the international language in this country, have adopted "Ilo" as the best solution of the problem of a universal tongue, at the same time assuming the new title of "The New York Ilo Society." Its official organ is "Progreso," published monthly in the interests of the international language. Text books and literature, in any civilized language, can be had through the society, the dues of which, including free subscription to "Progreso," are $3 a year; non-residents, $1.50. Instruction is free to members. Further information can be obtained from the President, Andrew Kangas, 920 Longwood av., New York, on enclosing stamp for reply. Other officers are: Alexander Smith, Vice-President; Dr. Max Talmey, Treasurer; John Ed. Hearn, Recording Secretary; J. W. Phoebus, Miss E. Gilbert, Counselors.

Meetings: At present, once a month at 27 West 115th st.

Turkish Parliament.

The close of the year 1908 marked an astonishing advance, in the direction of free government, through the establishment of a constitution in Turkey. Abdul Hamid, the reigning Sultan, granted the country a constitution in 1876, but almost immediately revoked it, since which period to the present time his government has been the most despotic in Europe. The Turkish Parliament convened Dec. 17, 1908, when each deputy swore to uphold the constitutional laws and to be faithful to the Sultan so long as he abides by the constitutional charter. Turkey is indeed teaching a lesson to rulers who claim a "divine right" or a tendency to arrogance.

First American Almanac.

The first American almanac was published at Cambridge, by Stephen Daye, 1689. No copy has been preserved. In 1686 William Bradford, of Philadelphia, published the almanac known by his name and commonly received as the earliest American almanac. A copy was sold in New York in 1882 for $555.

HOW TO SECURE A COPYRIGHT.

Subjects of copyright.—The author, inventor, designer, or proprietor of any book, map, chart, dramatic or musical composition, engraving, cut, print, or photograph or negative thereof, or of a painting, drawing, chromo, statue, statuary, and of models or designs intended to be perfected as works of fine arts, and executors, administrators, or assigns of any such person shall, upon complying with the provisions of the copyright law, have the sole liberty of printing, reprinting, publishing, completing, copying, executing, finishing and vending the same; and, in the case of a dramatic composition, of publicly performing or representing it, or causing it to be performed or represented by others; and authors or their assigns shall have exclusive right to dramatize and translate any of their works for which copyright shall have been obtained under the laws of the United States. The words "engraving," "cut" and "print" shall be applied only to pictorial illustrations or works connected with the fine arts, and no prints or labels designed to be used for any other articles of manufacture shall be entered under the copyright law, but may be registered in the Patent Office.

What must be done.—On or before the day of publication in this or any foreign country the applicant must deliver at the office of the Librarian of Congress, or deposit in the mail within the United States addressed to the Librarian of Congress at Washington, Dist. of Col., a printed copy of the title of book, map, chart, dramatic or musical composition, engraving, cut, print, photograph, or chromo, or description of the painting, drawing, statue, statuary, or model or design for a work of the fine arts for which he desires a copyright, and, not later than the day of the publication thereof in this or any foreign country, deliver at the office of the Librarian of Congress at Washington, Dist. of Col., or deposit in the mail within the United States, addressed to the Librarian of Congress, at Washington, Dist. of Col., two copies of such copyright book, map, chart, dramatic or musical composition, engraving, chromo, cut, print or photograph, or in case of a painting, drawing, statue, statuary, model, or design for a work of the fine arts, a photograph of same: provided, that in the case of a book, photograph, chromo, or lithograph, the two copies of the same required to be delivered or deposited as above shall be printed from type set within the limits of the United States, or from plates made therefrom, or from negatives, or drawings on stone made within the limits of the United States, or from transfers made therefrom.

Postmaster shall receipt.—The postmaster to whom such copyright book, title or other article is delivered shall, if requested, give a receipt therefor; and when so delivered he shall mail it to its destination. The applicant must pay the postage.

Penalty for failure to deposit copies.—For every failure on the part of the proprietor of any copyright to deliver, or deposit in the mail, either of the published copies, or description, or photograph required, the proprietor of the copyright shall be liable to a penalty of twenty-five dollars.

Duration of copyright.—Copyrights shall be granted for the term of twenty-eight years from the time of recording the title thereof.

Renewals.—The author, inventor or designer, if he be still living, or his widow or children, if he be dead, shall have the same exclusive right continued for the further term of fourteen years upon recording the title of the work or description of the article so secured a second time, and complying with all other regulations in regard to original copyrights, within six months before the expiration of the first term. And such person shall, within two months from the date of said renewal, cause a copy of the record thereof to be published in one or more newspapers, printed in the United States, for the space of four weeks.

Assignments.—Copyrights shall be assignable in law, by any instrument of writing, and such assignment shall be recorded in the office of the Librarian of Congress within sixty days after its execution; in default of which it shall be void as against any subsequent purchaser or mortgagee for a valuable consideration, without notice.

Notice.—No person shall maintain an action for the infringement of his copyright unless he shall give notice thereof, in the following words, viz.: "Entered according to the act of Congress, in the year —, by A. B., in the office of the Librarian of Congress, at Washington"; or at his option the word "Copyright"; together with the year the copyright was entered, and the name of the party by whom it was taken out; thus: "Copyright, 19—, by A. B." A penalty of $100 is imposed by law upon any person who shall insert this notice upon any book or other article for which he has not obtained a copyright.

Fees.—1. For recording the title or description of any copyright book or other article, fifty cents. 2. For every copy under seal of such record actually given to the person claiming the copyright, or his assigns, fifty cents. 3. For recording and certifying any instrument of writing for the assignment of a copyright, one dollar. 4. For every copy of an assignment, one dollar. Provided, That the charge for recording the title or description of any article entered for copyright, the production of a person not a citizen or resident of the United States, shall be one dollar.

Publication.—Publication must be made within a "reasonable time" after the filing of the copies; but what might be held reasonable time would depend upon the circumstances in each case.

Who entitled to copyright.—Citizens and permanent residents of the United States, and subjects of a foreign state or nation when such foreign state or nation permits to citizens of the United States of America the benefit of copyright on substantially the same basis as its own citizens; or when such foreign state or nation is a party to an international agreement which provides for reciprocity in the granting of copyright, by the terms of which agreement the United States of America may, at its pleasure, become a party to such agreement, and the author or proprietor of a book in a foreign language, which shall be published in a foreign country before the day of publication in this country, or his executors, administrators, or assigns, who shall comply with the requirements of the act of Congress, Fifty-eighth Congress, third session, Chapter 1432, amending section 4952 of the Revised Statutes.

COUNTRIES WITH WHICH THE UNITED STATES HAVE ESTABLISHED COPYRIGHT RELATIONS.

Belgium, France, Great Britain and her possessions, and Switzerland, Germany, Italy, Denmark, Portugal, Spain, Mexico, Chile, Costa Rica, Netherlands (Holland) and possessions, Cuba, China, Norway, Japan, Austria (but not including Hungary).

Convention between the United States and other powers on literary and artistic copyrights, signed at City of Mexico, January 27, 1902. (This treaty is effective from July 1, 1903, as between the United States and the following countries: Guatemala, Salvador, Costa Rica, Honduras and Nicaragua).

Special Notice.—The copyright office does not issue or grant copyrights in the sense in which the patent office grants letters-patent. It merely records claims to copyright protection. It does not adjudicate the claim or pass upon it or furnish any guarantee of literary or artistic property. The office has no authority to question any claim as to authorship or proprietorship, or to consider conflicting claims, or to take any steps in relation to infringement.

All remittances should be made by money order, payable to the Register of Copyrights. Internal revenue stamps are not required. No postage stamps should be sent. Application forms will be furnished gratis by the Register of Copyrights upon request. Librarian of Congress, Herbert Putnam; Register of Copyrights, Thorwald Solberg.

SPORTING RECORDS.

AERONAUTICS.

No matter what the future progress in the efforts to conquer transportation through the air, the year of 1908 will go down for its many noteworthy performances. Record after record was smashed and, although the results are far from being entirely conclusive, there is reason to believe that the first steps have been taken. The inventions of the two Wright brothers, Orville and Wilbur; Leon Delagrangé, Henry Farman, Charles A. Coey, Count Zeppelin and Captain Baldwin have been among those which have done much to advance aviation. Of these, the Wrights, Charles A. Coey and Captain Baldwin are from the United States. The Wrights have been prominent since Oct. 4 and 5, 1905, when they executed 33 and 39 kilometers in 32 and 38 minutes respectively. In order to further the interest in aeronautics, the Aeronautic Society of New York was organized in June and later secured a lease on the Morris Park race track until Dec. 31, 1909, where flights will be held from time to time.

AEROPLANE RECORDS.

The greatest advance has been made in aeroplanes and the records follow:

Oct. 23, 1906—Santos-Dumont, 27.34 yards, at Bagatelle, France.

Nov. 12, 1906—Santos-Dumont, 240.5 yards, at Bagatelle, France.

Oct. 26, 1907—Henry Farman, 843 yards, at Issy-des-Moulineaux.

Jan. 11, 1908—Henry Farman, 1,200 yards in 1m. and 55s.

Jan. 13, 1908—Henry Farman won the Deutsch-Archdeacon prize of $10,000 by making a circular flight of 1,093.6 yards at Issy-des-Moulineaux, in 1m. and 23s.

Mar. 21, 1908—Henry Farman, 1 mile and 431 yards in 2m. and 15s. Farman also carried a passenger later and covered a little less than 2 miles at the rate of 30 miles an hour.

Apr. 11, 1908—Leon Delagrangé, 2 miles and 772 yards in 6m. and 15s., at Issy-des-Moulineaux.

May 14, 1908—Wilbur Wright, 6 miles in 7m. and 40s., at Kill Devil Hill, N. C.

May 22, 1908—Henry Farman, 3 miles, no time record, at Ghent, Belgium.

May 27, 1908—Leon Delagrangé, 2 miles in 4m., at Rome, Italy.

May 30, 1908—Leon Delagrangé, 7.9 miles in 15m. and 26s., at Rome, winning the Aero Club's medal.

June 22, 1908—Leon Delagrangé covered 1,858 yards nine times in 16½m.

June 29, 1908—M. Bleriot flew 100 yards with a monoplane, in France.

July 4, 1908—Glenn H. Curtiss flew 1 mile in aeroplane June Bug, at Hammondsport, N. Y., and won Scientific American trophy.

July 7, 1908—Henry Farman won Armongaud prize of $2,000 in flight of 11 miles in 20m. and 20s., France.

Aug. 2, 1908—Henry Farman, at the Brighton Beach track, N. Y., went 700 yards in 40s.

Sept. 2, 1908—Two Cornell instructors covered 3 miles in 5m. in an aeroplane of their own making.

Sept. 3, 1908—While Orville Wright, at Fort Meyer, Va., covered 2-3 of a mile in 1m., his brother, Wilbur, at Le Mans, France, covered 6 miles in 10m.

Sept. 5, 1908—Wilbur Wright, 15 miles in 10m. 48s., at Le Mans, France.

Sept. 7, 1908—Leon Delagrangé, 15¼ miles in 29m. 54-5s., at Paris.

Sept. 9, 1908—Orville Wright, at Fort Meyer, Va., remained in the air 57m. and 31s., at an average speed of 33 miles an hour. In a later trial on the same day he was in the air for 1h. 2m. 15s.

Sept. 12, 1908—At Fort Meyer, Va., Orville Wright, with a passenger, remained in the air 9m. 61-13s. He also remained up for 1h. 14m. 24s., and reached an altitude of 250 feet.

Sept. 16, 1908—Orville Wright, at Fort Meyer, made a flight which lasted for 1h. 10m. and 24s.

Sept. 17, 1908—Leon Delagrangé stayed aloft 30m. 20s., at Paris.

Sept. 21, 1908—Wilbur Wright, at Le Mans, France, made a flight lasting 1h. 31m. and 22s.

Sept. 28, 1908—Wilbur Wright won the Aero Club's $1,000 prize at Le Mans, France, for the longest flight on an enclosed ground, during which time he remained in the air 1h. 7m. 11-4-5s.

Oct. 6, 1908—At Le Mans, France, Wilbur Wright, with two passengers (including himself), remained in the air 1h. 4m. and 26s.

Oct. 10, 1908—Wilbur Wright, at Le Mans, France, remained in the air 1h. 9m. and 45s.

Dec. 18, 1908—Wilbur Wright won the Sarthe Aero Club's prize for height by attaining an altitude of 360 feet, at Le Mans, France. He also won the Michelin cup by remaining in the air 1h. 53m. and 59s., during which he covered 61½ miles, Dec. 31, 2 hrs., 18 min.

BALLOON RECORDS.

The second international balloon contest held in America started from Chicago in July with nine contestants. The result follows:

Balloon, landing place.	Hours in air.	Dis. in miles.
Vielle de Dieppe, Benton Harbor, Mich.	2¼	60
Cincinnati, Covett, Mich.	3	75
America, Carsonville, Mich.	3	300
King Edward, Port Huron, Mich.	9½	300
Columbia, Clinton, Ontario.	13½	340
Chicago, Atwood, Ontario.	13½	360
United States, Pinkerton, Ontario.	14	380
Illinois, Picton, Ontario.	16	550
Fielding, West Shefford, Quebec.	24	800

The present long distance record is 873.4 miles made by the German balloon Pommern, from St. Louis to Bradley Beach, N. J., Oct. 23, 1907.

The third international balloon race started from Berlin, Germany, Oct. 11. There were 23 contestants for the James Gordon Bennett trophy, which was won by the British balloon Banshee, which landed successfully in Denmark. In the first race for this trophy, held in Paris in 1906, the winner was Lieut. Frank P. Lahm of the U. S. cavalry, who covered 402 miles. The Pommern of Germany won the second and the race last year was won by the Fielding.

On June 2, 1908, the balloon Chicago, owned by Chas. A. Cozey, traveled 800 miles in 11 hours.

On July 2, 1908, Count Zeppelin's German dirigible balloon was in the air for 12 hours, averaging over 34 miles.

On Aug. 15, 1908, Capt. Baldwin's dirigible balloon was in the air for 2 hours and 5 min. Between 28 and 30 miles were covered in the trial and the highest speed attained was nearly 45 miles an hour. On the return trip of this fast trial the time was slower, but an average of about 21 miles was made.

On Aug. 18, 1908, a German military balloon was up in the air for 6 hours, averaging 20 miles an hour.

On Sept. 12, 1908, a semi-rigid, directible balloon stayed in the air for 13 hours and 2 min., at Berlin, Germany.

On Sept. 19, 1908, the Baldwin dirigible balloon covered 5 miles in South St. Joseph, Mo., in 21 min. 15 sec.

MISCELLANEOUS.

Orville Wright was badly injured and Lieut. Selfridge killed at Ft. Meyer, Va., Sept. 17, by a 75-ft fall of the aeroplane in which the two were maneuvering.

The London Daily Mail has offered a prize of $50,000 for a flight in a heavier-than-air flying machine from London to Manchester, England. Two stops are allowed for fuel.

The Russian government will hold a series of aerial contests for heavier-than-air machines at St. Petersburg from July 1 to Aug. 5.

Lazare Weiler, France, has contracted with the Wright brothers for 50 aeroplanes on their model. The price $100,000.

The Clement-Bayard of France made a trial on Oct. 29 and attained a speed greater than any hitherto made by any dirigible balloon.

Savannah Grand Prize.

Races held at Savannah, Ga., on Thanksgiving Day and the day previous were the principal international contests of the year. There were two events—for racing cars and light stock models—both conducted under the rules adopted by the International Congress of Recognized Automobile Clubs, limiting cylinder bore to 6.1 inches for 4-cylinder cars, with equivalents for motors of a greater or lesser number of cylinders. The Grand Prize Race, for a $5,000 gold cup, at 402.8 miles, was won by Louis Wagner in a Fiat.

CHESS.

Chess in this country and elsewhere flourished during 1908 and was not affected appreciably by the hard times. The year was noteworthy on account of the return to America of the Anglo-American cable match trophy, donated by Sir George Newnes, and the Isaac L. Rice international trophy, both of which were wrested from the British. The greatest event of the year was the world's championship match between Dr. E. Lasker and Dr. S. Tarrasch at Dusseldorf and Munich. Dr. Lasker won and retained his title. There were the usual international tournaments abroad, one of which, at Dusseldorf, was won by F. J. Marshall of Brooklyn. Two famous masters of the game passed away—M. I. Tschigorin of Russia and H. E. Bird of England. J. Mieses was the only foreign player to visit the United States.

SEVENTEENTH INTERCOLLEGIATE TOURNEY—New York, Dec. 21-23, 1908. Won by Princeton with 7½ points; Harvard, 6½; Columbia, 5½; Yale, 4½. Harvard has won the annual tournament 9 times; Columbia, 6, and Yale and Princeton each once.

NINTH TRIANGULAR COLLEGE CHESS LEAGUE TOURNAMENT—New York, Dec. 26-28, 1907. Won by Cornell with a team total of 5½ to 2½; Pennsylvania, 4 to 4; Brown, 2½ to 5½. Roy T. Black and Ernest H. Riedel, two Brooklyn students, played for Cornell. The tournament has been won 5 times by Cornell, 3 times by Pennsylvania and in 1906 there was a tie between Pennsylvania and Brown.

MARSHALL-JANOWSKI MATCH—Played at Paris in January; score: Janowski, 6; Marshall, 2; drawn, 3.

N. Y. STATE MEETING—February 22; championship tournament won by J. Finn; second and third, H. Helms and J. Rosenbaum. General tournament won by J. Bernstein. New Jersey championship won by E. N. Olly.

VIENNA MASTERS TOURNAMENT—March 23-April 17. Winners: O. Duras, G. Maroczy and C. Schlechter (triple tie for first); 4, A. Rubinstein; 5, R. Teichmann; 6, R. Spielmann; 7, Dr. Perlis; 8, Tartakower; 9, 10 and 11 (triple tie), P. S. Leonhardt, F. J. Marshall and J. Mieses.

FENCING.

In the junior competition for the Manrique Cup held at the Central Y.M.C.A., there were ten entries of three-men teams. West Point won from Cornell in the final by 5 to 3. Two victories give permanent possession of the cup. In 1906 the New York Turn Verein won. In 1907 Cornell was successful.

The intercollegiate fencing championship, which was decided at the New York Athletic Club, was won by West Point, with Annapolis second. Cornell and Columbia tied for third place.

ARCHERY.

Will H. Thompson of Seattle won the championship of the National Archery Association tournament in Chicago on August 20. He made 211 hits, with a score of 973. This is the second largest score ever made in a national tournament.

CURLING.

R. H. Dunbar of St. Paul, Minn., skipped the rink which won the international and grand aggregate at the big annual donspiel at Winnipeg, Canada. This is the first time an American rink has ever won this coveted prize. There were 128 rinks in the competition. Dunbar has also won the individual championship five times in the last twelve years.

The Canadian rinks won the Gordon Medal for the third successive time in a contest with rinks from New York and Utica. The Canadians made 25 and 24, and the Americans 11 and 17.

FLY AND BAIT CASTING.

Three world's records were made May 14 at the Harlem Mere in Central Park.

Bait casting for distance, quarter ounce bait—Dr. R. Johnson Held, 161 feet.

Salmon fly casting for distance, amateurs, rods restricted to 15 feet—W. M. Pierius, Northamptonshire, England, 129 feet.

Salmon fly casting for distance, professional, rod not restricted—E. J. Mills, 140 feet.

RACQUETS.

Quincy A. Shaw of Boston on Feb. 22, at Boston, won the national championship from P. D. Houghton, Boston, 9-15, 15-7, 15-3, 11-15, 15-5.

ROQUE.

Edward Clark of Springfield won the national championship at Norwich, Conn., on Aug. 25. Harold Bosworth was second, with C. Carleton third. In the second division F. C. Clarke, Springfield, was the winner.

SKAT.

The North American Skat League held its eleventh congress in New York in June. The winner was Professor Franz Hilberling, with Max Erdtmann of Brooklyn second.

SKI JUMPING.

At Duluth, Minn., on March 23, John Evanson broke the American record with a jump of 131 feet.

RIVERS AND HARBORS CONGRESS.

The National Rivers and Harbors Congress holds annual sessions, usually at Washington. Its purpose is to secure from Congress large appropriations for improving the rivers, canals and harbors of the nation. At its last annual meeting in Washington in December, 1908, the following resolution was adopted:

"The Congress of the United States should at its present session authorize the issuance of bonds of the government to an amount of $560,000,000 to be sold from time to time in such quantities as may be necessary, the proceeds of same to be used in the payment exclusively of such river and harbor work as shall be authorized by Congress; the provisions for the issuance of said bonds to be similar to those authorizing the bonds for the construction of the Panama Canal. We further urge that the Congress at this session authorize the completion of such river and harbor projects heretofore entered upon as are of such a character as surely to fit into and carry into effective use any large, comprehensive and connected waterway system that may be subsequently adopted. That Congress also adopt such new projects as are of a like character as those mentioned. We further recommend the appointment by the president of this organization of a committee of five, of which he shall be a member, to prepare a bill for introduction in the Congress of the United States providing for the bond issue above set forth and the creation of a statutory commission to study the waterways of this and foreign countries and suggest to Congress in a full and detailed report a comprehensive plan and policy for improving our waterways. We further urge that the Corps of Engineers, U. S. A., should be at least double its present size, utilizing in the permanent organization as far as practicable the present United States assistant civil engineers, and that the Corps of Engineers be given authority to formulate and propose to the Congress plans and projects for river and harbor improvements."

The officers of the Congress are as follows: Joseph E. Ransdell, Pres., Louisiana; J. F. Ellison, Sec.-Treas., Cincinnati, O.

FINANCIAL REVIEW OF THE YEAR 1908.

The financial year 1908 was marked by a general recovery from the great panic which characterized the close of the year 1907. This recuperation was chiefly conspicuous in the world of finance, but was shared in to a less extent in the domain of general trade and industry. In many respects the recovery was remarkably rapid and much more so than in any previous after-panic year in our commercial history. One reason for this was the fact that the 1907 panic had not greatly damaged that large portion of the community known as the agricultural population. The recent series of years of good crops that were marketed at good prices was added to by the better than average harvests of 1908. This not only added to the wealth and resisting powers of such sections, but exerted its beneficial influence in accelerating the recovery in the generally depressed manufacturing centers. The rise in security prices was almost steadily maintained throughout the year and how extensive this was is well illustrated in the average price of representative stocks. Thus the average price of railroad stocks closed the year 1907 at $8.77 and advanced to 118.05 in Dec., 1908, while industrials went from 59.61 at the beginning of the year to 88.38 in mid-Nov., and almost touched the latter figure in Dec. In both instances the high levels named were the highest since March, 1907.

The stock market rise was most pronounced in the autumn following the Republican victory in the presidential election and the sweeping election of the Taft-Sherman ticket over Bryan and Kern. This was the signal for a wave of public buying of securities in a volume not witnessed since 1904. Speculation was on a large scale and investment purchases of bonds were notably large. In general trade there was also a revival of confidence and increased activity as a result of the placing of orders held back to wait the election outcome. The rise in security quotations had the powerful influence behind it of an abnormally easy money market all through the year, except in the first weeks, when the effect of the 1907 panic were still in evidence. With the ending of Jan. money rates ruled abnormally low right up to mid-Dec. and with a maximum of 4% for call funds in all this period. During Aug. call money went to 3-4%, or the lowest since 1904. The premium on currency that marked the close of 1907 disappeared in the first few days of 1908 and there was also a rapid retirement of the Clearing House certificates. The easy money rates and the rapid falling off in government income resulted in numerous recalls of government deposits in the banks with a total of approximately $140,000,000 withdrawn during the year. For the fiscal year 1908 the U. S. Treasury showed a deficit of $59,656,362 against a surplus of $86,945,543 in 1907. Up to the middle of Dec., 1908, the Treasury deficit for the 1909 fiscal year was, in round figures, $58,500,000, and the Sec. of the Treasury estimated the total deficit for 1909 at $114,000,000 and $143,000,000 for 1910.

Abroad there was a similar development in the way of rapid money easing. All the big foreign banks, notably the Banks of England and Germany, made numerous reductions in their official rates. At the opening of the year the Bank of England's rate was 7%, and this was down to 2½% by the end of May, while the Bank of Germany's rate went from 7½% to 4½% by June. The Bank of France's rate was cut from 4 to 3% in Jan., and that institution made a fairly steady gain in its gold holdings to a new high record in its history with a total of $684,500,000 on Dec. 12, whereas before 1908 the high record was $599,000,000 in April, 1906. In Aug. discounts at Paris dropped to 1%, or the lowest for that center since Aug., 1895.

There was a return gold movement after our big imports in the panic period of 1907 and in the three months beginning with April, 1908, nearly $47,000,000 in gold was shipped abroad, mainly to Paris and Berlin. There were also smaller exports in July, Sept. and Dec. Another of the year's money market features was the small currency outflow from the interior for crop-moving purposes. This outflow also began unusually late, or in the second week in Sept. Another indication of the noteworthy monetary ease was the rapid increase in the bank surplus as compared with 1907's record deficit. In Aug. 27 the average surplus reserve was $66,098,800, which is the largest for any year since 1894, when the total was $111,623,000. Loans made a new high record of $1,347,145,300 on Dec. 5 against a high record previous to 1908 of $1,198,075,500 on Nov. 30, 1907. A new record for deposits was $1,425,375,000 on Nov. 28 and comparing with the high record before 1908 of $1,224,266,600 on Sept. 17, 1904. Total cash holdings made a higher record on Aug. 29 of $414,013,300 against a high record before 1908 of $363,650,700 on Aug. 30, 1904.

Financial sentiment was favorably influenced by a number of important legal decisions during the year and which strengthened confidence in the courts as protectors of property rights against anti-corporate legislation such as enacted so freely in recent years and especially in 1907. The most talked of decision was in July when the U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals at Chicago reversed the famous $29,240,000 Standard Oil fine for rebating and remanded the case to the lower court for a rehearing. The decision also contained a scathing arraignment of Judge Landis for imposing a fine on a corporation that was not indicted and was not even represented at the trial. In Nov. the same court denied a petition of the government for a rehearing, and the government's legal officials announced they would try to bring the case before the U. S. Supreme Court. In Jan. the Penn. 2-cent passenger rate law was declared unconstitutional by the Supreme Court of that state. In March the U. S. Supreme Court declared the Minnesota and North Carolina rate laws unconstitutional, and in May the same court annulled the Texas law imposing a tax of 1% on railroad gross earnings. Another important favorable decision from the financial viewpoint was made in Sept., when the U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals at Phila. declared the commodity clause of the rate law unconstitutional. This clause forbids the coal roads from carrying their products. All the year's legal developments, however, were not viewed favorably, and especially as the federal government continued to press pending suits and start some new ones against corporations. In Feb. a suit was begun against the control by the Union Pacific of Southern Pacific and the San Pedro, Los Angeles and Salt Lake roads. It was stated that the U. P. had a monopoly of transportation in the West in violation of the anti-trust law. In May the government filed a suit against the New Haven charging it as a combination in restraint of trade under the anti-trust act owing to its control of the Boston and Maine and numerous trolley lines. In Nov. the U. S. Circuit Court handed down a decision declaring the American Tobacco Co. an illegal combination in violation of the anti-trust law.

The good harvests played an important part in the year's general recovery. In the early season there was a good prospect for "bumper crops." These expectations, however, were not fully realized owing to later deterioration, although on the whole crops were above the average of recent years. Thus the July report on corn indicated a probable harvest of 2,736,000,000 bu., whereas the Dept. of Agriculture's estimate of the final yield was 2,666,651,000 bu. This is the third largest on record and compares with 1907's yield of 2,592,320,000 and the high record crop of 2,927,416,000 bu. in 1906. In June the trade estimate of the total wheat crop was 638,255,000 bu., while in Dec. the government estimate was 664,602,000 bu. against 634,087,000 in 1907. This is the fifth largest total wheat crop and the high record was 748,460,218 bu. in 1901. The oats crop was the biggest failure, as in June the trade estimate, based on the government reports of condition and acreage, was for a crop of 1,009,000,000 bu. In Dec. the official estimate was only 807,156,000 bu. against 1907's final crop of 754,448,000 bu., and with that exception the smallest since 1901. On the other hand, the cotton production was favorable and with an official estimate in Dec. of a crop of 12,920,000 bales against 11,675,000 in 1907 and 12,540,000 in 1906.

A feature of the year was the large issue of new securities, the flotation of which was favorably influenced by the easy money market. For eleven months the total was $1,421,000,000 against $1,113,000,000 for the same period in 1907. New incorporations were also heavy with a total for eleven months for companies with a capital of over $1,000,000 of $1,052,000,000 against $1,459,000,000 for the year 1907. N. Y. City made two bond sales during 1908. The first on Feb. 14 was for $50,000,000 in 4½% bonds, or the largest amount ever offered. This was also the second sale of 4½% bonds, the other being in Sept., 1907. Bids for these bonds numbered 1,168, or the largest on record, while the average price was 104.22 against 102.063 at the previous Sept. sale. On Nov. 23 the second sale was made and the city was able to cut the interest rate to 4% and offered $12,500,000, which brought 275 bids, and the amount was covered 14 times. The average price was 102.385. On Dec. 5 the government made its third sale of Panama Canal bonds with $30,000,000 offered. Bids numbered 831 and totaled $102,800,000, while the average price was 102.436. The previous sale was Nov. 18, 1907, when the average price was 103.

A number of new banking reforms went into effect during the year as a result of the disclosures during the Oct., 1907, panic. Of first importance was the inauguration of a real weekly bank statement in N. Y. City, in which the condition of all depository institutions are shown for the first time on record. State Superintendent of Banks Williams deserves the credit for this, but his policy was also followed by the Clearing House, especially as the latter called on all members to make an "actual" report of conditions in addition to the "average" report prevailing for years. The State Supt. called for a weekly report of all Clearing House non-members and also of all up-state institutions. Twenty-odd bills embracing amendments to the banking laws of the state were also signed by Gov. Hughes. These do away with court receivers for failed banks and place employees of the State Banking Dept. in charge; increase the legal cash reserves of trust companies; prohibit directors of state institutions from hypothecating their stock; prohibit trust companies from investing more than 10% of their capital in other financial institutions and provide for additional capital for branches of state institutions. Congress also enacted the Aldrich currency bill providing for the formation of national bank associations and the issue of an emergency currency under the supervision of the Sec. of the Treasury.

The railroads had a hard year and with losses in earnings during the early months ranging from 10 to 20%. Many roads cut wages and there were a large number of receiverships, although nothing like on the scale after the 1893 panic, when many leading roads suspended. The most important receiverships in 1908 were of Gould roads and including the Western Maryland, Wheeling and Lake Erie, Wabash-Pittsburg Terminal and International and Great Northern. Other roads that applied to the courts included the Seaboard Air Line, Chicago Great Western and Norfolk and Southern. In April the Erie was threatened with bankruptcy, but was saved by E. H. Harriman, who provided funds to pay off maturing notes. Harriman also gained added dominance in the transportation industry by winning the fight against Stuyvesant Fish for control of Illinois Central and later secured control of the Central of Georgia. When the Gould lines were in difficulties Harriman was also reported, through his bankers, in aiding Gould and forced the latter to make an agreement by which the Gould plan for a trans-continental line was abandoned and the new Western Pacific will be operated by Gould in harmony with other Western roads. Owing to the heavy losses in railroad earnings in the early months of the year the officials of those systems put out feelers as to a general cut in wages. This was fiercely opposed and with Pres. Roosevelt taking a hand, as such a step would have an adverse effect upon the election. The railroads then strenuously advanced the project of an advance in freight rates. This, however, was opposed in many quarters, although many meetings were held and a general 10% advance was seriously planned at one time. Several minor advances and changes in classifications were made and in Dec. announcement was made that trans-continental rates would be advanced on Jan. 1 an average of 10 to 18%. The plan for a 10% advance in trunk line rates, however, was held in abeyance and with reports that the roads would put it into effect early in 1909. Railroad earnings also improved in the last months of the year and with many increases over the previous year in both gross and net. Idle freight cars amounted to 413,000 in April, but this number was cut to 109,000 on Nov. 11.

More foreign war rumors were circulated in 1908 than in any recent year. France and Germany had several squabbles over Morocco affairs and in Oct. there was a sharp break in all foreign financial capitals over threatened war in the Balkans that might involve several of the great powers. This was caused by the declaration of independence by Bulgaria, while Austria announced the annexation of two Turkish provinces. Serbia and Montenegro were reported as preparing for war against Austria and the island of Crete declared its independence of Turkey. France and England, with the more or less hearty co-operation of Germany and Russia, prevented the outbreak of open hostilities and diplomatic negotiations were pending throughout Dec. for a peaceful settlement. It was also in Nov. that the German Emperor caused a sensation abroad by an indiscreet interview as to that country's foreign relations that was published in an English newspaper.

A large number of dividend reductions were made, notably by the Penn. R. R., N. Y. Central, Atchison, Amalgamated Copper, American Smelting, Car and Foundry, American Locomotive, Western Union, Republic Iron and Steel and others. There were quite a few increases, however, and especially extra payments by Northern Pacific and Oregon R. R. and Navigation. Some interesting new high records included the total money in circulation on Dec. 1 of $3,117,561,033, or the largest amount in the country's history to that date. The Rand gold production in Oct. of 617,744 fine ounces was the largest for any month to date. On June 1 national bank circulation of $698,449,517 was the largest on record. The anthracite tonnage of 6,088,116 tons in May was the largest on record for any month. On Jan. 1, 1908, government deposits in banks were $256,920,155, or the largest amount on record. In Feb. a Stock Exchange seat sold as low as $50,000, or the lowest since 1895, but in Nov. a sale was made at $81,000. There were a number of large Stock Exchange failures. In April T. A. McIntyre & Co. suspended. This was one of the largest commission firms. In Aug. A. O. Brown & Co., another big firm, failed. The firm was accused of "matching orders" and a special investigating committee of the Exchange was appointed, with the result that in Sept. the two Exchange members were expelled. The earnings of U. S. Steel, the country's biggest corporation, reflect the general course of business. Thus net earnings for the first three quarters were respectively $18,229,005, $20,265,756, $27,106,274, or a total of $65,601,035 against $128,430,492 in the same period in 1907. At the end of the first quarter unfilled orders were 3,765,343 tons, 3,313,876 at the end of the second and 3,421,977 at the end of the third or Sept. quarter.

Foreign trade showed a heavy decrease, the total of domestic exports for 11 months being $737,432,411 against $841,287,850 in the same period in 1907. In eleven months total exports of merchandise were $1,564,023,900 against $1,716,306,209, while imports were $1,004,474,822 against

$1,330,927,836. For the latter period, however, the excess of exports was $559,549,121, or a new high record for the period and comparing with $385,378,373 in 1907. The tariff revision hearings in the closing months of the year had some adverse effect on financial as well as trade confidence. One reason for this was President-elect Taft's announcement that he favored a "thorough revision," and another was Andrew Carnegie's statement that he favored a reduction in the duties on iron and steel products and that this country could manufacture cheaper than abroad, despite the higher wages paid here. The banker, C. W. Morse, was sentenced to 15 years in prison during Nov., while in that month probably the most talked of development on the Stock Exchange was the rise in U. S. Steel common to 58%, or the highest price in its history. In Dec. Gov. Hughes appointed a commission to investigate Wall St. methods and recommend legislation. Security transactions showed mixed comparisons. Trading in stocks for the year amounted to approximately 194,000,000 shares against 156,400,000 in 1907. On the other hand, bond dealings totals $1,046,000,000 par value, or a high record for any year, against $526,100,000 in 1907. Up to the middle of Dec. there were 36 million-share days against 43 in 1907 and the high record of 125 in 1906. The largest day in stocks in 1908 was Friday, Nov. 13, with 1,667,830 shares, while the largest bond dealings were on the same date with $9,024,000.

BROOKLYN SECURITIES.

Last year in the local securities market was a period of rehabilitation. Conditions at the close of 1907 were probably never so bad in the history of the Brooklyn market. The Borough and Brooklyn Banks, the First National Bank, the Jenkins Trust Co. and the Williamsburgh Trust Co. were in the hands of receivers and the outlook was anything but bright. Then came another crash when shortly after the first of the year the Mechanics and Traders Bank and the Home Bank went under. The end of 1908 finds a radical change in the situation, but it was only after the hardest kind of work on the part of those who took charge of the suspended banking institutions and also due to the patience of the depositors that the improvement was brought about.

At the present time all of the banking institutions which suspended, except one, are in operation, and the one that is not doing business had resumed, but was forced to suspend through the unfavorable outside influences which developed after it seemed about to regain its former position in the banking world. The institution which was again forced to the wall was the Lafayette Trust Co., formerly the Jenkins Trust Co., which, after resuming business in April, closed again in Nov.

Of the other banks all are doing well. The First National was the first of the suspended institutions to resume. The bank was reorganized and the Jenkins interests eliminated. Since it resumed the institution has been doing a good and profitable business. The Borough Bank was opened again on April 14, the depositors agreeing to a deferred payment plan, which is proving successful. On June 4 the Home Bank opened its doors and since has moved to larger quarters at 5th av. and 54th st. On June 8 the Williamsburgh Trust began business again and on June 23 the Brooklyn Bank reopened. The Brooklyn, since its resumption, has moved its main office to a new building at the corner of Flatbush av. and Fulton st. The Mechanics and Traders Bank was the last of the suspended institutions to resume, but it finally got under way again in Aug. The name of the institution, after it reopened, was changed to that of the Union Bank. Its capital has been cut in half, or from $2,000,000 to $1,000,000, and its Manhattan connections entirely severed.

Three new banks were organized during the year. One of these, the Peoples National Bank, located at 1336 Broadway, is doing excellently, and the Prudential Savings Bank, which has its offices at 975 B'way, is in excellent shape. The Pelonia Savings Bank at 180 Driggs av. was the other addition. Beside the Lafayette Trust, one other bank, the Guardian, a savings institution, closed its doors. Three capital increases were made during the year. These were by the Flatbush Trust, the Nassau Trust and the North Side Bank. In each case the expansion was of $100,000.

All of the local corporations report progress during the 1908 period. The Brooklyn Rapid Transit Co. for the fiscal year reported record gross earnings, or a total of $19,870,506. The former record was in 1907, when gross of $19,381,587 was reported. The report of the New York and New Jersey Telephone Co. showed expansion, while a statement of the earnings of the Kings County Electric Light and Power Co. for nine months was very good. There has been no statement of earnings by the Brooklyn Union Gas Co. for 1908, but it is understood that the management of the corporation is well satisfied with the year's results. Two corporations, the Brooklyn Ferry Company and the Metropolitan Surety Company, had poor years. The first named quit operation in the fall, because of poor business, and at the present time is trying to sell its property to the city for $9,000,000. The Metropolitan Surety Company, in December, was forced to suspend because of an impairment in its capital, amounting to $140,000.

There were six dividend changes on the part of local corporations last year and one bank, the Homestead, made an initial payment. The changes were as follows: Corn Exchange Bank, semi-annual payment of 8% against a previous payment of 4%; the Brooklyn Union Gas Co. in the spring declared a dividend of 2½%, or the first payment since May, 1906, while in Sept. the corporation paid another dividend, this time of 3%, and placing the stock on a 6% annual basis; the Union Ferry Co. in March passed its dividend on the preferred stock, which had previously been paid at the rate of 2% per annum; the Franklin Trust Co. in April declared a quarterly dividend of 2% against a previous quarterly rate of 3½%; the Home Title Insurance Co. in April made an initial payment of 2% on its stock; which in December it increased to 2½%; the Mortgage Bond Co. declared a quarterly dividend of 1¼%, placing the stock on a 6% basis, and the Homestead Bank declared an initial dividend of 2%; while the Manufacturers' National Bank, in December, made an extra payment of 2%.

Every Sunday a table of the Brooklyn securities is published in the Financial Section of the Brooklyn Eagle, giving the last bid and asked prices, the amount outstanding and the interest or dividend rate of the leading securities.

Increase of Divorce.

The Bureau of the Census at Washington has just completed a compilation of the statistics of marriage and divorce covering a period from twenty years from 1887 to 1906.

The total number of marriages recorded from 1887 to 1906, inclusive, was 12,832,044. The number annually reported increased from 483,069 in 1887 to 853,290 in 1906. The marriage rate in 1900 was 93 per 10,000 population. Based upon the adult unmarried (single, widowed or divorced) population, the rate becomes 321 per 10,000, indicating that in each year something over 3 per cent. of the unmarried adult population marry.

The total number of divorces reported from 1887 to 1906, inclusive, was 945,625. For the twenty years, 1867 to 1886, inclusive, the number reported was 328,716, or hardly more than one-third of the number recorded in the second twenty years. In 1867 divorces occurred at the rate of 10.000 a year. In 1886 the number was about 66,000. An increase of 30 per cent. in population between the years 1870 to 1880 was accompanied by an increase of 79 per cent. in the number of divorces granted. From 1880 to 1890 the population increased 25 per cent., divorces 70 per cent. From 1890 to 1900 population increased 21 per cent., and divorce by 66 per cent. In the six years from 1900 to 1906, population, as estimated, increased 10.5 per cent., and divorces 29.3.

*Maiden voyage eastward.

Oct. 12, 417 years ago, Columbus on the Santa Maria made the first trans-Atlantic record of 71 days.

The Deutschland, westward from Cherbourg to N. Y., 3,082 miles, July 30, 1901, made one day 601 knots; average speed, 23.07 knots. The Kronprinz Wilhelm, from N. Y. Oct. 1, 1901, averaged 23.01 knots per hour.

Sept. 6, 1902, Chas. R. Flint's yacht Arrow, in a speed test on the Hudson, broke the world's record, making 1.19 miles in 1 min. 19.39 sec., a rate of 45.06 miles an hour.

Oct. 28, 1902, the Korea of the Pacific Mail S. S. Co., broke the record from Yokohama to San Francisco by 4 days, covering the distance of 4,700 miles in 10 days.

The Deutschland left Hamburg Sept. 1, 1903, and reached Sandy Hook in 5 days 11 hours 54 minutes, lowering her previous record 69 minutes and record of new Kronprinz Wilhelm, 3 minutes. Average speed, 23.15 knots an hour.

The battleship Kentucky made the run from Hong Kong to New York, 12,699 miles, arriving in New York May 21, 1904, making a new record for long distance run. From Funchal to New York an average of 13.8 knots an hour was made, seven-tenths of a knot better than the Kearsarge.

The arm. cruiser West Virginia, flagship of the Pacific fleet, on June 25, 1903, on a 4-hour speed trial, made an average speed of 22.47 knots. This makes her the fastest vessel of the battleship class in the Navy.

The battleship Nebraska in 1904, from N. Y. to San Francisco, completed the trip in 52 days. The arm. cruiser South Dakota, from N. Y. to San Francisco, in 53 days.

Record time by steamer San Francisco, Cal., to Honolulu, was made by the Siberia, arriving Aug. 21, 1905, in 4d. 19h. 20m., 3 h. better than best previous record.

The French Line steamship Provence, May 25, 1906, completed the record time from Havre to New York of 6 days 3 hours and 35 minutes.

The Lusitania, turbine Cunarder, on Aug. 20, 1908, made a record run eastward bound of 650 knots, and a record average of 25.05 knots per hour. Her sister ship Mauretania on June 1, 1908, made a record run eastward bound of 635 knots, and an average of 24.86 per hour.

The Kaiser Wilhelm II on Aug. 24, 1908, completed 3,080 miles with an average run of 23.71 miles per hour. Her best daily run was made July 8, 1906, westward bound of 591 knots. Best daily run westward bound of Kronprinzessin Cecilie, July 27, 1908, was 590 knots.

THE BUSINESS CORPORATIONS LAW OF NEW YORK STATE.

The corporate form of conducting business enterprises, both large and small, possesses so many advantages over private ownership or a partnership, that the desirability of incorporation has become generally recognized. Some of the many advantageous features of incorporation are: The immunity from individual liability, the element of perpetuity, the unimpaired preservation of surviving interests in the event of the death of a member of a firm, the retention of good-will or the prestige of a concern, and the ease with which an interest may be disposed of. In 1901 the New York Legislature remodeled the state laws for the organization, regulation and management of corporations, which have since been further simplified by several important acts, tending to popularize New York among charter granting states. The General Corporation Law constitutes an extensive Chapter of the laws of the state, covering all forms of incorporations. The purpose of this article is to furnish a general idea of the requirements and fees for incorporation under that Section of the Chapter designated as The Business Corporations Law, viz.:

Three or more persons may become a stock corporation for any lawful business purpose or purposes other than a moneyed corporation, or a corporation provided for by the banking, the insurance, the railroad and the transportation corporation laws, by making, signing, acknowledging and filing a certificate with the Secretary of State, which shall contain:

1—The name of the proposed corporation. (The name of the corporation must not conflict with that of any other domestic or state corporation, and it must not contain the word trust, bank, banking, insurance, assurance, indemnity, guarantee, guaranty, savings, investment, loan or benefit.)

2—The purpose or purposes for which it is to be formed. (A stock corporation may be formed under this law to carry on any business that may be lawfully conducted by an individual, except as limited above.)

3—The amount of the capital stock, and if any portion be preferred stock, the preferences thereof. (The capital stock shall not be less than $500. One-half of the capital stock is required to be paid in within one year, in cash or property, provided the capital stock of the corporation amounts to more than $1,000, but failure to comply with this provision creates a liability for a forfeiture of corporate rights, though proceedings must be taken to effect actual dissolution. At least $500 must be paid in before corporations can begin business.)

4—The number of shares of which the capital stock shall consist, each of which shall not be less than $5, nor more than $100, and the amount of capital not less than $500, with which said corporation will begin business.

5—The city, village or town in which its principal business office is to be located. If it is to be located in the City of New York, the borough therein in which it is to be located.

6—Its duration. (The period of existence must be stated, but there is no limitation as to the length of the term, but it may be made perpetual.)

7—The number of its directors, not less than three. (At least one director must be a resident of the state, and each director must be a stockholder, unless otherwise provided in the certificate, or in a by-law adopted by a stockholders' meeting.)

8—The names and post office addresses of the directors for the first year.

9—The names and post office addresses of the subscribers to the certificate, and a statement of the number of shares of stock which each agrees to take in the corporation.

If meetings of the board of directors are to be held only within the state the certificate or by-laws must so provide. The certificate may contain any other provision for the regulation of the business and conduct of the affairs of the corporation and any limitation upon its powers, and upon the powers of its directors and stockholders which does not exempt them from any obligation or from performance of any duty imposed by law.

A certificate of incorporation must be executed by natural persons, who must be of full age, and at least two-thirds of them must be citizens of the United States and one of them a resident of this state.

Filing and Recording—The certificate of incorporation must be filed and recorded in the office of the Secretary of State, and a copy of such certificate duly certified by the Secretary of State, or a duplicate original certificate must be filed and recorded in the office of the clerk of the county in which the office of the corporation is located. Before a certificate of incorporation of a business corporation can be filed with the Secretary of State, the incorporation tax must be paid, and on filing the certified copy or duplicate original with the county clerk, the receipt of the State Treasurer for the payment of incorporation tax must be filed therewith.

An organization tax of one-twentieth of one per cent. must be paid to the State Treasurer before certificates can be filed.

Fees in the office of the Secretary of State are: Filing, $10; recording, 15 cents a folio. Fees in the County Clerk's office are: Filing, six cents; recording, ten cents per folio.

World Cruise of the American Fleet.

The strongest fleet ever assembled under the American flag set out from Hampton Roads, October 12, 1907, on a voyage around the world. The voyage was planned, first, to accustom the units of the navy to extended cruising in fleet formation, and, second, to let the people of the Pacific Coast and the colonial possessions see the development to which the navy had attained. When the fleet left Hampton Roads Rear Admiral Evans was in command and the President reviewed the ships.

Besides a flotilla of torpedo craft and several supply and repair vessels, the fleet included the battleships Connecticut, Louisiana, Kansas, Vermont, Georgia, Virginia, New Jersey, Rhode Island, Minnesota, Ohio, Maine, Missouri, Alabama, Illinois, Kearsarge and Kentucky.

The first stop was made at Trinidad on December 23. On January 12 the ships arrived at Rio de Janeiro, on February 1, at Punta Arenas, in the Straits of Magellan; on February 14 they passed Valparaiso, and on February 20 they reached the port of Callao, in Peru. Magadlena Bay, in lower California, was made on March 12, and some time was spent in the neighborhood at target practice. From the middle of April until the end of the month the fleet visited San Diego, San Pedro and Santa Barbara. On May 6 the harbor of San Francisco was entered and here, on May 9, Admiral Evans relinquished command to Admiral Thomas, who, in turn, gave way to Admiral Sperry on May 15. On July 7 the voyage to Honolulu began. Honolulu was reached on July 16, and thence the fleet sailed to New Zealand. The ships entered Auckland harbor on August 9, Sydney harbor on August 20 and the harbor of Melbourne on August 29. They visited Albany, in West Australia, on September 11, to coal, and made the harbor of Manila on October 2. On October 18, when the fleet steamed into Yokohama began a series of cordial and especially significant entertainments by the Japanese. Late in October a detachment of the fleet under Admiral Emory paid a brief visit to Amoy, in China. The final departure from the Philippines was so timed as to bring Admiral Sperry to Colombo, in Ceylon, on December 13. From Colombo the itinerary brought the ships first to Suez and after the passage of the canal to various Mediterranean ports and to Gibraltar. The return to Hampton Roads was set for February 22. All throughout the cruise the men and officers were most elaborately feted.

Wall Street Commission.

The nine commissioners appointed by Gov. Hughes to investigate "Wall Street," are: Horace White, Charles A. Schieren, of Brooklyn; David Leventritt, former Justice of the Supreme Court; Clark Williams, State Supt. of Banks; John B. Clark, professor at Columbia University; W. V. King, president Columbia Trust Co.; S. R. Ordway, lawyer; Edward D. Page and Charles Sprague Smith.

NEW YORK'S FUTURE WATER SUPPLY.

The present water supply of New York City is given in detail on page 378. The plans for future supply are as follows:

Four water sheds are to be developed in following order: 1, Esopus Creek; 2, Rondout; 3, Schoharie; 4, Catskill, adding 700,000,000 gallons daily. Cost of project, including filtration plant and main distribution aqueducts to three of the boroughs.

1. Esopus Creek water shed, area of 225 sq. miles. Water to be stored at Ashokan reservoir.

2. Rondout water shed, 176 sq. miles. Water to be stored at Napanoch reservoir, which is to be connected with the main Catskill aqueduct two miles below the Ashokan.

3. Schoharie water shed, area 252 sq. miles. Water to be stored at Prattsville reservoir, which will be connected with Esopus Creek by means of tunnel through divide.

4. Catskill water shed, 163 sq. miles. Water to be collected in several reservoirs along the Catskill River and brought to Ashokan by proposed aqueduct running from East Durham to Woodstock.

Ashokan reservoir, 15 miles west of City of Kingston, is 12 miles long, $2\frac{1}{2}$ miles wide. Depth of water at maximum, 190 feet. Elevation above sea level, 590 feet. Many villages were removed in this valley and 13 miles of railroad track taken up for this improvement. This reservoir will give a head of 290 feet in New York City, the present Croton reservoir giving about 80 feet. Ashokan will hold 17,000,000 gallons of water and can furnish 250,000 gallons daily to the city.

Kensico reservoir to be used as an auxiliary reservoir, 355 feet above sea level. It will hold 25,000,000,000 gallons and can supply city with 500,000,000 gallons a day for fifty days. It is situated south of the Croton water shed. The aqueduct from Ashokan will cross the Hudson just below New Hamburg and will be brought to the Croton reservoir. Water will be brought to Brooklyn through a tunnel terminating at Forest Park. Capacity of 200,000,000 gallons a day. 20,000,000 gallons daily will be supplied to Staten Island by a branch of the Brooklyn tunnel built under the Narrows.

The Water Supply Commission, situated at 280 Broadway, Mh'n., consists of J. A. Bensel, Pres.; Chas. M. Chadwick, Chas. S. Shaw.

Water Rates in N. Y. City.

An ordinance, establishing a scale of water rates for the City of New York (in pursuance of section 473 of the Greater New York Charter).

Be it ordained by the Municipal Assembly of the City of New York, as follows:

That the minimum annual rents and the special charges to be collected by the Department of Water Supply shall be as follows, to wit:

Fr't width	1 Story	2 Stories	3 Stories	4 Stories	5 Stories
16 ft. and under ..	$4.00	$5.00	$6.00	$7.00	$8.00
16-18 ft....	5.00	6.00	7.00	8.00	9.00
18-20 ft....	6.00	7.00	8.00	9.00	10.00
20-22½ ft..	7.00	8.00	9.00	10.00	11.00
22½-25 ft..	8.00	9.00	10.00	11.00	12.00
25-30 ft....	10.00	11.00	12.00	13.00	14.00
30-37½ ft..	12.00	13.00	14.00	15.00	16.00
37½-50 ft..	14.00	15.00	16.00	17.00	18.00

The appointment of the regular frontage rates upon dwelling houses is on the basis that but one family is to occupy the same, and for each additional family $1 per year shall be charged.

Building Purposes—10 cents per 1,000 brick. All masonry at the same rate, 500 brick being equal to 1 cubic yard.

Plastering—40 cents per 100 sq. yards, openings not included.

Baths—All baths, $3 per annum.

New York State Good Roads.

During the season of 1908 820 miles of highways were improved in New York State. The mileage was two and a half times that of 1907, and more than five times that constructed in any year previous to 1907.

The improvement of highways under the supervision of the state was begun in 1890, when five miles of road were constructed. From that year to the close of 1908 1,798 miles of highway have been improved.

The amount improved each year has depended upon the appropriations, and during the years 1907-8 the work was accelerated by the constitutional amendment which committed the state to the expenditure of $50,000,000 for good roads work.

If the roads completed during 1908 were placed end to end they would reach from New York City to Buffalo, via Albany and Rochester, and from Buffalo to New York City via Elmira and Binghamton.

Of the $50,000,000 state money voted by the people for this work $11,000,000 have been appropriated by the Legislature. There were at the close of the year 1908 approximately 500 miles under contract and over 1,000 miles awaiting contracts.

Massachusetts and New Jersey formerly took the lead in good road work, but New York has been gradually increasing its progress until it is now far in advance of the other states in this important work.

Beginning with the state administration of 1909 the work of the highway construction and maintenance will be taken from the state engineer's office and turned over to a state highway commission created by the highway law passed in 1908.

Increase in Railroad Victims.

The Second District Public Service Commission in its first annual report for the year ending June 30, 1908, shows that the steam railroads in the state outside of New York City, carried 104,113,466 passengers in the official year, and that the electric railroads carried 416,279,788 passengers in that time. Twenty small steam railroads which are feeds for trunk lines carried 507,302 passengers without killing one of them and fourteen electric railroads, which carried 5,232,000 passengers did so without causing a death.

On the steam railroads the total number of persons killed in the year was 1,092, an increase of 156 from last year. The number of passengers killed was 52, an increase of 27; employees, 449, an increase of 106, and persons other than passengers or employees, 591, an increase of 23.

Steam railroads injured 2,427 persons, an increase of 167. The number of passengers injured was 535, an increase of 262; employees, 1,576, an increase of 44, and persons other than passengers or employees, 252, a decrease of 139. To the Woodlawn and the Lansingburg wrecks much of the increase in the number of those killed is due.

On the electric railroads 95 persons were killed, an increase of 21. Only 22 passengers were in this number, an increase of 8. Eight employees were killed, that being the same as last year; 65 persons other than employees or passengers were killed, the increase being 13. The injury list of 769 is classified as follows: Passengers, 406, a decrease of 12; employees, 52, the same as last year, and persons other than passengers or employees, 311, an increase of 51.

Application for Patents.

Drawings must be artistically executed. The Patent Office will make necessary corrections at the applicant's option and cost. The office will furnish drawings at cost for applicants who desire that assistance. A working model is often desirable. The applicant may amend before or after first rejection or action, and he may amend as often as the examiner presents new reasons for rejection, showing how amendments avoid references and objection. Patents for designs are granted for 3½, 7 or 14 years.

Any citizen who has made a new invention or discovery and desires further time to mature same may, on payment of $10, file a Patent Office caveat setting forth objects and characteristics of the invention. Such caveat is operative for one year.

Following is a schedule of fees, paying in advance: Filing original application, $15; issuing of patent, $20; designs (3½ yrs.), $10; designs (7 years.), $15; designs (14 yrs.), $30; caveats, $10; reissue, $30; filing disclaimer, $10. Certified copies of patents, 10c. per 100 words. Certified copies, printed patents, 80c. Uncertified printed copies of specifications and drawings or any number of unclassified copies, 5c. each. For copies by sub-classes, 3c. each. Copies by classes, 2c. each. Recording every assignment, agreement, power of attorney, or other paper, of 300 words or under, $1. For every 300 and under 1,000 words, $2. For over 1,000 words, $3. A receipt or certificate of deposit must be filed in the office within 10 days after money is paid. F. I. Allen, Commissioner of Patents, Washington, D. C.

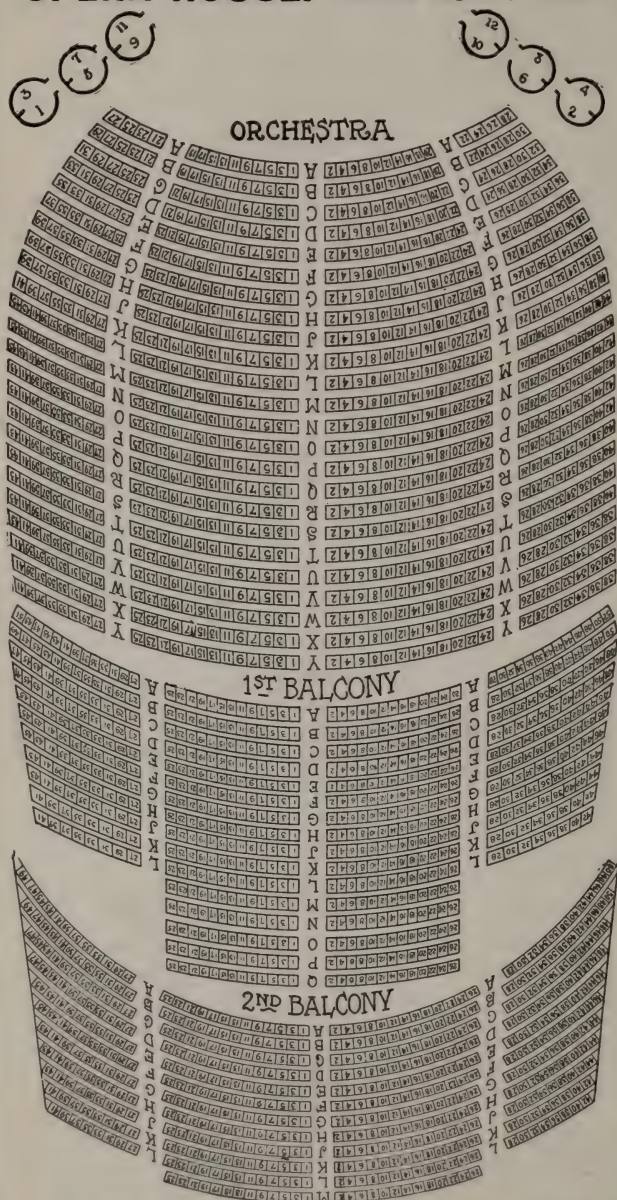

How to Obtain Trade Marks.

On filing an application for registration of a trade mark, $25 must be paid; for manuscript copies, for every 100 words or fraction thereof, 10 cents; for recording every assignment, of 300 words or less, $1; for recording every assignment, agreement, power of attorney or other paper of more than 300 words, and less than 1,000 words, $2; for recording every assignment, agreement, power of attorney or other paper of more than 1,000 words, $3; for certificate of search, $1; for each brief from the digest of assignments, 20 cents; for assistance to attorneys and others in the examination of records, an hour or less 50 cents; each additional hour or fraction thereof, 50 cents; for single printed copy of statement, declaration and fac simile, 5 cents; if certified, for the grant, additional, 50 cents; for the certificate, 25 cents. If the applicant be a corporation, it must be specified under the laws of what State incorporated.

HOW TO STOP DRINKING.

This is addressed to the man who wants to give up drink if he can find a way to do it.

We wish to tell him of the "Johnston Home Treatment," a course of medicine that quickly destroys the craving for liquor and then gradually but positively restores the nerves to natural strength and the whole system to good health. The treatment is strong enough at the start to make a man master of himself and long enough to give him genuine strength to remain his own master. If you want to stop drinking, send us your name and address and we will send you in plain package by return mail our Free Booklet, which will show you what the medicine is and how it acts.

267-269 Greene Ave., Brooklyn, N. Y.

Telephone 2319 Prospect.

I have found the Invalid's Coach, kept by Mr. Bennett, of the greatest possible advantage. It has afforded a safe and comfortable means of conveying patients from their homes to the hospital for operation, thus enabling even the most desperate cases to obtain the benefits of hospital treatment.

GEO. R. FOWLER.

COMFORT TO MANKIND

And since 1870 adding years to a man's life—Schnoter's Army and Navy Suspensory Bandage is the only permanent relief for Varicocoele, Hydrocoele and Rupture.

Before taking notice of Startling Advertisements of so-called Varicocoele Cures, see your family physician. Incidentally ask him about the Celebrated Schnoter's Suspensories—don't be surprised if he tells you he wears them himself. Any better endorsement wanted?

A Schnoter's Suspensory is the only safeguard against Varicocoele, Rupture, etc.

In use by all prominent Athletes, Professional Men, Business Men, Policemen, Firemen, Letter Carriers, and used in the United States Army and Navy.

Wheelmen should not be without one.

Endorsed by prominent physicians and surgeons since 1870. Also by authorities on Hygiene and Physical Culture.

We are specialists in Suspensory Making, and we will cheerfully give you any information regarding Varicocoele and Rupture.

Ask your druggist for the "Genuine Schnoter's Suspensory Bandages" (look for our Trade Mark, J.C.S.). If he has not our make in stock, and refuses to get it for you, send direct to us and we will mail you in plain wrapper on receipt of price.

Plain style, Cotton, 30c., 40c.; Linen, 50c., Silk, 50c., 60c. and 75c.; A. & N. Style, no elastic, 30c.

Army and Navy Style, with lisle elastic belt and straps, Cotton, 65c.; Linen, 75c.; Best Silk, $1.00.

Why He Reads the Eagle

Eight Reasons Given by Mr. Sheldon. He Cannot Do Without It.

To the Editor of the Brooklyn Eagle:

Why do I always read the Eagle? Why do I always have it sent to me wherever I go? This is why:

1. It has ALL local news, and no other paper has.
2. It contains FULL accounts of everything, while other papers contain only a synopsis. When there is a convention, a banquet or ball game, I want to know ALL about it. If it is a sermon or a prize fight, and I am not interested, I read the headlines only; but what I AM interested in I want to know ALL about.
3. It is a daily literary and artistic treat, brimming over with wit, wisdom, art and common sense.
4. It contains such an endless variety of matter that it satisfies my every whim, mood and caprice.
5. Its editorial page is a scholarly history and philosophy of the times, and broadens my view, though I don't always agree.
6. It is recognized all over the world as one of the greatest American papers.
7. Every article and item is not only reliable, but written in good literary style, in the main, and well.
8. Because I cannot get along without it.

J. P. S. SHELDON.
